It's On My List
Armijo High School
2012-13

High school is a time when teenagers attempt to find themselves and move closer to who they hope to be for the rest of their lives. What is the best route to take? What choices will need to be made to get them there? These questions are the same for all student's of Armijo. The Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors are all part of the school and its daily functions. These students attend class, play sports, go to club meetings, and shine on stage, but is that all there is to it? Armijo students who are seemingly doing the same thing, are in fact very different. Different directions, different goals, different purposes; these are what separate Armijo students from each other. While they are all one and united as students of purple and gold, they are all individuals with their own dreams and aspirations.

The purpose of "It's On My List" is to represent the student body as individuals taking steps to reach their goals. The individuals of Armijo have their own list to get done. However small or ambitious they are, the students have the will and motivation to see them through. Their list may be for the day, week, month, or for all of high school. Regardless, it is the focus. How will they get it done? What will take them further? What will make them better? Every day is a challenge that takes them one step closer to success and achievement. Armijo helps guide the students in the right direction for a brighter tomorrow.

They all take similar steps and routes, but the end of the journey is always different. Armijo is united, but soon everyone leaves and takes their achievements from Armijo with them. The lessons they learned, and the heights Armijo took them to, guides them to success for the rest of their lives. All the items they crossed off their list during the year was because of Armijo. While they are all students rushing to get every thing they need to do in the seven minutes of passing period, they are making things happen and reaching their dreams. They seem to be all the same with the same routine, but they are all crossing things off their own special list.

Once Upon a Homecoming

The week leading up to Homecoming is always a busy, yet exciting one. Students make sure to make the best of it by participating in activities to get ready for Friday's Homecoming game. Dress-up days really help the students to pump up their school spirit. After choosing the theme, Armijo transformed into a magical land, as the dress-up days were Run, Run Gingerbread Man Day, Jack and the Bean-Sock Day, Snow White and the Seven Dorks Day, Three Little Pigs Triplet Day, and Purple and Goldilocks Day. Each day students showed off their excitement for Homecoming by going all out and dressing up. Spirit days are a fun way to dress in an unusual way, while still showing off their school spirit.

The day before Homecoming, students gathered for the fairytale-themed rally. Students were introduced to the final Homecoming court nominees for each grade level as they entered the gym through a castle-like entrance. All Fall Sports Teams were also recognized and individually honored. Football Coach, Karl Finley, helped to pump up the crowd by giving a speech to encourage everyone to attend the game. Armijo students never disappoint when it comes to having school spirit, wherever you look on campus, you will surely see Indian Pride.

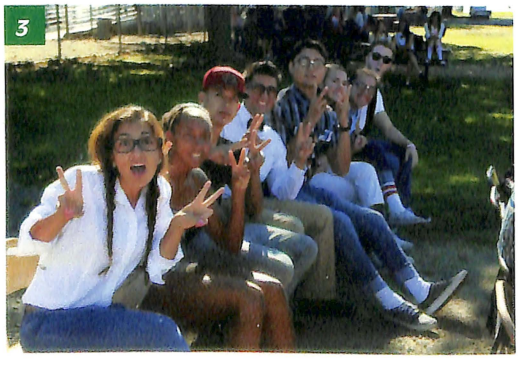

Dulce Armas '14 and Wyatt Grieves '14 sport their most geeky outfits to wear on Nerd Day. This was one of the most popular spirit days of the week, as students enjoyed making drastic changes to their wardrobes.

1. Kristina Owens '13 is all smiles during the Varsity cheer performance at the Homecoming Rally. The cheerleaders gave a sneak peek of their halftime performance to help pump up the crowd for Homecoming.
2. The Attendance Office staff are the epitome of the Three Little Pigs triplet dress-up day. Mrs. Limneos, Mrs. Banks, and Mrs. Wolf planned out their matching pink outfits days in advance, hoping to have the best set of triplets.
3. The Senior Homecoming Nominees take a break from participating in the lunchtime activity to demonstrate their nerdy selves. The lunchtime activity was to showcase the nominees to the rest of the school and hopefully gain some votes from the silly games they played.
4. Trevor Flynn '13 introduces the fall sports teams and nominees at the Homecoming Rally. He and fellow MC Chris Parodi '14 dressed up as mice from the Three Blind Mice to go along with the Fairytale theme for the 2012 Football Homecoming.
5. Marissa Rios '16 shows off her coordinating neon outfit for Jack and the Bean-Sock Day. Being an uncommon theme day, many students participated in it, as most students own crazy socks.

Molumby Fever!!

Students in Mr. Molumby's IB Math HL class dedicated Twin Day to dressing up as their favorite teacher. Mr. Molumby wears a similar outfit to school every single day so it wasn't difficult for the students to duplicate his signature look. All that was needed was a button up shirt, a tie, an ID tucked into the pocket, and unbuttoned shirt sleeves, rolled once. Being such a small class, every student dressed up for the self-proclaimed "Mr. Molumby Day". Mr. Molumby was excited to see that all of his students appreciated him and his snazzy style.

6. Miranda Blum '13 went all out on Snow White and the Seven Dorks Day, dressing as a stereotypical "nerd". Miranda sported suspenders, glasses, pigtails, and even her retainer to show off her school spirit.
7. The Varsity Cheerleaders show attitude and spirit during the performance of the rally. Varsity put a spin on their usual routines by adding in pop sensation One Direction to keep things new and interesting.
8. After an inspiring pep talk by Coach Finley, the Varsity Football team huddles up to do their usual pre-game cheer to get excited for the Homecoming game. The football team was extremely excited to have brought home the traditional trophy, by beating Fairfield High in the city rival game.
9. Mrs. Nichols and Ms. Howell show that even teachers have school spirit by dressing up for the Three Little Pigs Day. Though they didn't have a third person to match with, they still wore matching shirts to show their enthusiasm leading up to the Homecoming game.
10. Angie Gomez '14 balances mini cakes on her forehead to symbolize being a unicorn in an activity played at the Homecoming Rally. Angie and her partner won the game by stacking 6 cakes on their forehead and walking back and forth, without dropping them.

The Muscle

To most people, the actors or dancers are the most important part of the show. But the people behind the scenes ensure that the backdrops are level and stay in place. Armijo students volunteered to keep the signs up and help out the students in the floats.

Joseph "JT" McCoy '14 says, "Being in the background is awesome. It's a one-of-a-kind experience and if you're short like me, you can see through the window." The volunteers take the time out of their lives to hold up the signs for the homecoming skits, and most kids enjoy doing it. They are part of the show!

1. Ritchie Sison '13 and Kaytlin Holbein '13 celebrate their happily ever after when Snow White and her Prince Charming finally got together!
2. Rassim Chettfour '14, Christijana Kates '14, portraying animals in their skit hurry through the forest to help Hansel and Gretal!
3. Breanna Hardy '13 (The Evil Witch) and Sofia Brayton '13 (The Evil Queen) prepare a poison apple in a cauldron for Snow White to bite into to fall into a deep sleep so she'll never have her Happily Ever After!
4. Roland Lubin '15, dressed as the prince's mother, shows his disapproval of the prince marrying the princess in The Princess and the Pea.
5. Mari Nelson '14 and Howie Thomson '14, playing Hansel and Gretal, work together to defeat the evil witch in her candy house!

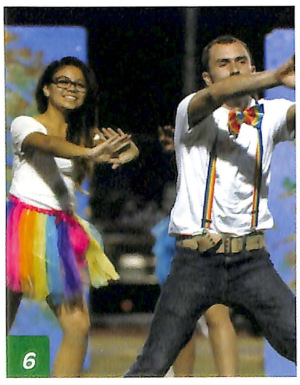

6. Jacob Maher '14 and Clarisse Wangeline '14 dance along with the evil witch in their colorful costumes as the evil witch's candy minions.
7. Shannon Farney '14 and his partner celebrate Hansel and Gretal defeating the evil witch who tried to cook them in her candy house in the forest. In the end the evil witch was the one who ended up being cooked into a cherry pie.
8. The Sophoromore class's princess sleeps on the mattress to see if she will feel the tiny pea under it. If she does then she is a true princess and will get her happily ever after with her prince charming!
9. Lauren Corn '13 falls to the floor after biting into the poison apple. While in her deep slumber, Prince Charming and the Seven Dwarfs fight the evil queen and her minions, so they can wake her.

Happily Ever After

The theme this year for the Homecoming floats was fairy tales. The freshmen class chose "Rupunzel", the sophomore class chose "The Princess and the Pea," juniors picked "Hanzel and Gretel" and seniors picked "Snow White". The classes spent many hours practicing and preparing their skits for the event.

For the Freshmen, the typical assumption is that the presentation would be poor, but this year, they showed their true potential and came ahead of the sophomores. The freshmen stepped up their game with astonishing dancing and tremendous acting presented. The year of 2016 did an outstanding job for being new freshmen to Armijo.

The sophomores did well for their interpretation of The Princess and the Pea. The class of 2015 brought their A-game but unfortunately placed last.

The junior class did their representation of Hansel and Gretel and did an incredible performance. Like always the junior class gave the senior class a run for their money. For the past three years the rival between the juniors and the seniors has been more intense then ever.

The senior class did their own version of Snow White. Paul Mooradian '13 playing role of Prince Charming said "I felt we put in enough time and effort that we deserved to win. We practiced everyday until 9:30 PM sometimes!" Last year the junior class of 2013 won and broke the senior winning streak. Class 2013 came back strong once again and won, keeping their streak alive for one more year.

The Poison Apple

Friends to the End

From diapers to crowns, these two friends Jorge Zepeda '13 and Brandon Brimer '13 have been competing against each other their whole lives but they both were able to share the spot light. While Zepeda '13 was named Prince, Brimer'13 was named King, they both remain close friends and are happy for each other and either way the votes went they were both happy to be at the top with and against each other.

1. Just before the nominees take the field for the crowning they all get together for a group picture. After the crowning there weren't any hard feelings about not winning because they were all great friends. 2. After getting crowned as king and queen Brandon Brimer '13 and Miriam Ramirez '13 took a picture together after as king and queen. 3. Walking up for their pose, Tyler Thoming '15 is with two lovely ladies: Kylee Webster '15 and Adriana Cruz '15. 4. Walking up for their pose, Christian Diaz '16 and Karina Santillan '16 smile for the camera. A Night to Remember!

Definitely a night to remember for all of the seniors, but only one boy and one girl would come out on top for these select few nominees. After a long week of voting, the nominees, having gone through a stressful week filled with nerves and anticipation, they all came to hear the winners announced. When asked how special this night was to Zhane Garlington '13, she explained that it was wonderful to be nominated because she didn't expect to make it this far through all of voting polls. Many of the nominees agreed that if they won the title of Homecoming King or Queen that they would be so ecstatic, but if they lost or were named Prince or Princesses it wasn't the end of the world. Either way, win or lose, every nominee was happy for the one who won because through the years of being in high school each person had become good friends with one another leaving, behind no hard feelings. Freshman Christian Diaz '16, being his first time ever to be nominated and win homecoming prince, was "happy to be nominated and given the opportunity to show the school how well I have done in my career so far." As a soccer player as well as a student he has thus far proved himself to be worthy of the title.

Above & Beyond

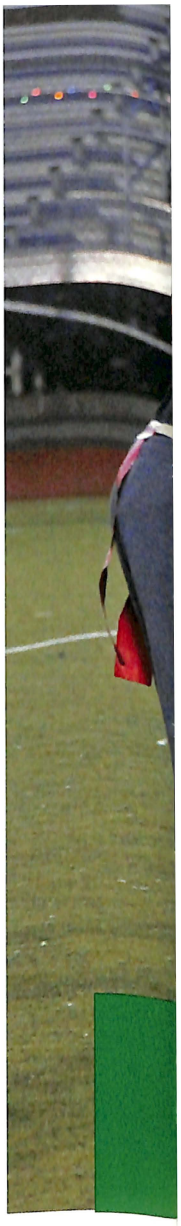

Referees Casey Towner and Wyatt McCampbell '13 were really helpful during the games. They both have played football for many years and even at Armijo. Having the football experience is very important and gave them the upper hand in reffing the powderpuff games. Armijo was lucky to have these two gentlemen there that night. Even though Casey no longer attends Armijo, he still likes to help out whenever he can. Wyatt was not only the ref for the JV game, but also helped plan the powderpuff night event and was the seniors powderpuff team's coach. The night would not have run smoothly with out these two guys to help out. These guys surely went above and beyond what they were asked to do and did it to the best of their ability. They are greatly appreciated!

1. The sophomore cheerleaders run down to the end zone to cheer on the sophomore player who scored a touchdown. Every time somebody scored a touchdown, the cheerleaders ran down to the end zone to congratulate them.
2. These two freshman girls went above and beyond for decorating their powderpuff shirts. The freshman's mascot was panthers this year based on the jungle theme.
3. Jason Hefner '16 jumps up during the freshman's halftime routine. All teams do a routine during halftime of both games.
4. Will Lucas '15 holds up a sign that says "Beat the Freshman." The sophomore routine was definitely one to remember.

5. The freshman class poses for picture after their win that night. They worked hard and showed a lot of dedication. 6. The sophomore class put up a great fight during the night. They still had smiles and shared laughs after the game was over. 7. Coly Quist-Ricahrd '15 runs the ball down field for the sophomore class. Quist-Richard '15 was a key player during the game for he sophomores. 8. Angelo Aquino '16 poses for a picture and shows his spirit for his freshman panthers. Aquino '16 had an amazing time cheering and he looked great doing it to!

The Freshman get ready to hike the ball to their quarterback. The freshman and sophomores both put up a good fight for the win that night.

☑ Let the Battle Begin!

Powderpuff night was a very intense night for the freshman and sophomores. The night of the powderpuff event had a jungle theme which coincided with all the classes. Each class chose an animal for their mascot. The freshman chose panthers and the sophomores chose tigers. The sophomores put up a great battle against the freshman this year. Even though the sophomores didn't come out with the win, they surely came prepared. Each class pit up a great battle for one another and didn't let any player get a touch down easily. Last year the sophomores didn't have any cheerleaders to cheer them on, but this year, they had an abundant amount of cheerleaders. The cheerleaders for both classes put on a cute uniform and cheered on their class. Each squad performed during halftime with a routine that their coaches had made up. Each class made up a routine to show off their dance and cheer skills they had learned while practicing for the few weeks they had before the event. Each class hopes to come back each year better and better with better plays to help them win the next year and with better routines to help impress each class. The switch of the girls playing football and the boys cheering helps create a special atmosphere that can't be found anywhere else but this night. The atmosphere from this event makes for a fun and exciting night. Everyone loves to watch the girls play and the boys out there in their skirts cheering on the girls. This was a night to remember!

On the Edge of Your Seat

This years varsity powder puff was a very intense and suspenseful game. The game was close all the way through. The girls gave much of there time practicing for this big game. The game started with a senior touchdown by Britney Wheeler '13, but soon after her sliding touchdown the juniors soon followed up with a touchdown of there own. The game was close until the very end and the game came down to a very clutch play thanks to Anna Castro '14 who rushed the quarter back, Kaitlyn Holbein '13, and caused the quarter back to throw an intercepting pass which was caught by Jamie Garlington 14 with about a minute to go in the fourth quarter.

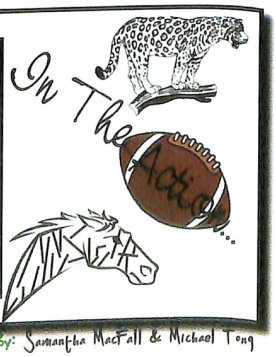

During this game you were on the edge of your seat because of the intensity of the game, the tenacity of the players, and all of the emotion on the field. The juniors ended up coming on top with the victory 23-21. And last, but not least, we have both the senior and junior cheerleaders. Both had spectacular half time performances. Although the juniors won the game, the seniors came on top with their cheerleaders who encouraged their team to win and was by their side the whole game. The juniors came in second with a very impressive halftime performance.

1. Taking their team photo with a big smile on their faces, the class of 2014 celebrates the big win after the big game. Lucas Bowers '14 said, "Coaching these girls was very frustrating but fun at the same time. They didn't listen very much, but we still had a great time together as a team." 2. Senior Tiffany Levan '13 returns the kick and gains major yards running as fast as she can. 3. During their performance, senior cheerleaders, Edgar Plasencia '13, Josh Braida '13, and Dylan Beck '13 clap to get the crowd pumped up for the second half. 4. The senior powderpuff team held the heads up high as they were very proud of the way they played the game.

5. Paul Mooradian '13 is very confident when performing during the halftime break. He is very outgoing and loves having fun out on the field. 6. One of the fastest running backs for the junior's team, Monique Evans '14, looks for a hole in the senior's defensive line and breaks through to gain some yards. 7. Coach for the senior team, Brian Weisz '13, shows off his game face to the crowd to prove how ready he is for the game to start. "Being the offensive coach was fun, but mostly frustrating because teaching all these girls at once. Its hard to keep them paying attention," he said. 8. Brad Davis '14 is one of the most pumped up cheerleaders there was that night. He shows off his spirit by popping his way throughout the junior's halftime performance. 9. The senior's offense huddles up to plan their next play hoping to gain several yards or maybe even a touchdown. Senior Kaitlyn Savory '13 said, "It was sad to know that this was my last year playing considering I've played all four years, but I know it will be a nice memory to look back on. We really wanted to go out this year with a big bang, and I think we accomplished that."

Getting Her Spots

Senior Sarhea Reyes '13 explained the mascot idea by saying she had a dream one night about being a cheetah during the powderpuff game. The next day, she went to ASB with idea and it got approved. "I really enjoyed being a mascot. I'm glad I got to participate in one way, because I couldn't actually play," she said about her experience. Sarhea may have possibly started a tradition for powderpuff games to come with maybe having a mascot for every team.

☑ Mic Check, 1..2..3..

The 2012 Armijo Idol competition began with the auditions stage, in which 42 students sang a capella in front of a panel of judges who decided whether or not they moved on to round one of the week long competition.

Round one took place over two days, with six contestants singing each day. There was no theme for song choice in round one, so contestants got to sing any song their heart desired. Each day the student body cast their votes at the Indian Outpost and in front of C-Hall to determine who moved on to the next round.

For round two, the top six from round one moved on to sing a song from the 90's. With only six contestants left it was a tough decision to vote for, and with the rain delaying the competition, anticipation was high to find out who won Armijo Idol.

The top three was decided, with Clarisse Wangline '14, Juntina Le '15, and Joesph Thompson '15 all made it to the final round. The voting from Round two decided the winner, but the top three performed as they waited to hear the M.C., Ritche Sison '13, announce 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place. Everyone was on edge as he opened the envelope to reveal that the 2012 Armijo Idol winner was Justina Le '15.

Does my Vote Count?

Have you ever wondered how each of the contestants are chosen to participate in the competition? Well, it all start out with the audition in front of a panel of teachers. From there the 12 best singers are chosen and move on to round one in front of the student body. Although they teacher judges don't get an actual vote in the competition, they give constructive criticism and compliments to each singer after their performances, hopefully helping the crowd decide who to vote for. After that the voting is up to the students.

5. Jenny Diaz '14 has had the honor of performing in Armijo Idol for the past three years, wowing the crowd with her amazing voice each time. 6. Loan Pham '16 sang her heart out throughout the competition and made it all the way to the final three contestants. Although she didn't win the entire competition, she still is an amazing singer, and she is only a freshman! 7. Louielyn Bautista '16 was another freshman in this year's competition and she really showed off her talent by singing and playing the guitar. 8. Yvonne Balane '13 sang "Lullaby" by Lateeya in round one. She has the advantage of being one of the few people in the competition who sang and played the guitar, which is a real talent! 9. Clarisse Wangeline '14 played the guitar as she sang "Fix You" by Cold play, she made it all the way to round three of the competition! 10. Katie Hall '16 is one of the only Freshmen performing in the competition this year. She left the crowd in awe when she sang "The Only Exception" by Paramore in round one.

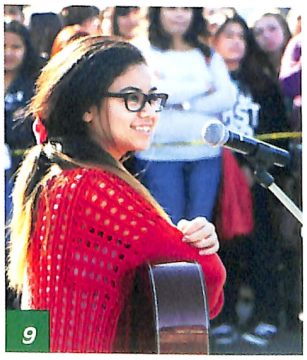

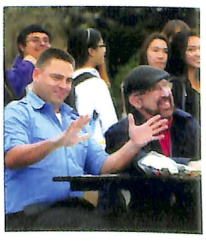

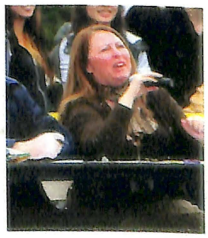

1. Isabel Jones '14 showed off her bilingual skills in round one of the competition by singing the poplar K-pop song Gangnam Style by PSY in Korean, her second language. 2. Anastasia Garrido-Ramirez '13 was a crowd favorite this year as she shared her wonderful voice with the students of Armijo. 3. Joseph Thompson '15 dedicated his song in Round three when he sang Everybody Knows by John Legend. 4. Jessi Bossett '13 may be shy at times, but you couldn't tell as she sang her heart out in the competition to Beautiful People by Cher Lloyd.

The Good Times

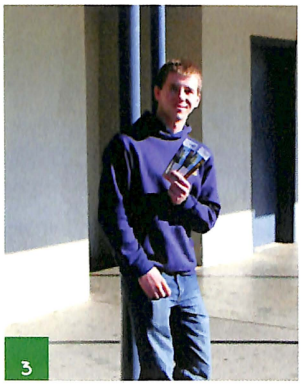

Paul Mooradian '13 could be seen at many of the basketball games in the A-team section, but as well at Giants games. "I am in love with baseball, and I love being loud at the games, rooting on my team. I have saved these tickets because it was something that I would be able to share with my son some day."

Being so spontaneous, Jayson Bernandos '13 kept his tickets from different movies. The reason he did this is because all these tickets are dates he went on with his girlfriend. Bernandos says that everything he does with her is a memory and is special to them both. For however long they go out, they will always share the memories they have spent together.

1. Eric Tena '16 enjoys his off time by going to San Jose Earthquakes games. His fondest memory of one of the games was the fire works afterwards. 2. Jason Bernandos '13 remembers the good times with his girlfriend by holding onto his movie tickets. He writes who he went with on the back of the ticket so he will always have the memory with him. 3. One of Nathan McCall '13 greatest memories of golf "would have to be going to the US Open In San Francisco." That's why he will always have the tickets with him. 4. David Schott '14, being a die hard Niner fan, has enjoyed this last season watching his favorite NFL team on the sidelines, cheering them on. He can't wait for the next season to hold many more memories.

Collecting the Little Things

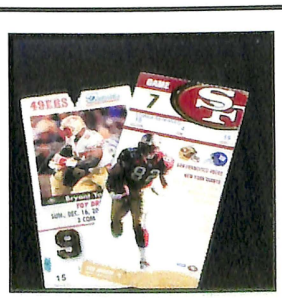

Students around our campus go to many other activities other than the high school sports games. Not only do they watch midnight premiers, go to Super Cross, monster truck jams, baseball and football games, but they collect their tickets. They collect their tickets because they don't always receive a souvenir. These students collect the little things to remember the good times they had and it's almost better to have saved ticket other than to buy the big souvenir because they are easier to hold on to and keep safe with a priceless value of a great memory.

High school is what you make it, it can be as fun as possible or as lame as a bad grade on a test. These students have chosen to enjoyed the time in high school and have tickets to remember them by.

The San Francisco Giants winning the 2010 World Series has caused huge commotion in the Bay Area so some students thought it would be smart to save their tickets and in 2012 it had payed off because they had won again. Not only in the baseball world but the football as well with the San Francisco 49ers becoming 2012 NFC Champions and making their way to the Super Bowl had the Bay Area going crazy yet again like it had been with the Giants. With the professional events around us that have happened they are allowing us to remember the good times with friends we will never forget.

The Bucket List

Many people create lists which consist of ideas, dreams, and goals they want to make reality before they kick the bucket, otherwise known as a bucket list. Life passes by in a flurry of day to day activities, so fast, that one day you'll look back and wonder where did the time fly? High school is a great time to make a bucket list, in these four years you are more able to realize your goals and ambitions.

Ritche Sison '13 has already crossed off something thats a big component of many peoples lists. For his eighteenth birthday he jumped out of a plane at 18,000 feet in Yolo County, which seems to be appropriately named. Ironically, Y.o.l.o. is a popular teenage slang term that is an abbreviation for: You Only Live Once.

Many other events people have on their lists include doing fun things with their best friends. Sara Usif '13 and Maria Pasion '13 both were also able to cross off experiencing their first concert by watching one of their favorite bands "Swedish House Mafia." Best friends Briana Ayris '16 and Nicole Pingul '16 dream of traveling and exploring the vast terrain of Australia together, hoping one day they will be able to achieve their dreams and goals like others have.

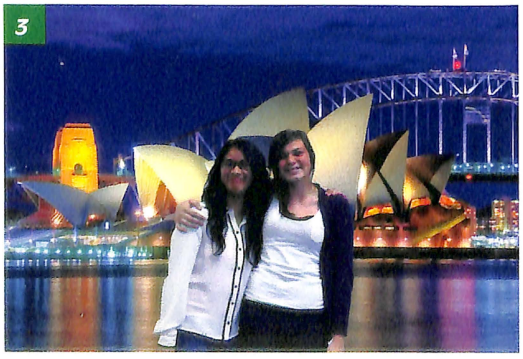

"It's important to have a bucket list because it gives you a list of fun goals to cross off while at the same time giving meaning to your life" says Ritche Sison '13. So if you haven't gotten around to making your own, now would be the perfect time. These moments would be the ones you share with children and be able to look back on with a fond smile. As Ferris Buller says "Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it."

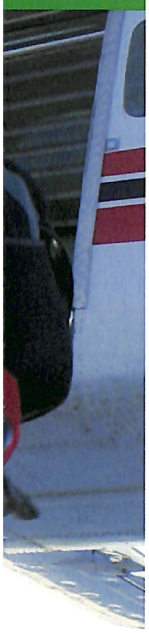

Ritche Sison '13 jumps out of a plane in Yolo County on February 2, 2013. "Sky diving was an awesome experience to have because it let me live on the edge and gave me a sense of freedom i've never experienced before. Definitely glad I had that on my bucket list!"

5. Rachelle Campbell '13 shows of her hand painted guitar with a picture of her favorite Ed Sheeran. She one day dreams of being able to sing with him on stage at one of his concerts. Rachelle's '13 guitar was also inspired by Ed Sheerans, as it mimics his plus sign graphic.

6. Ciara Williams '14 has always wanted to go to New Orleans for Mardi Gras. "It seems like a unique and fun experience to have. You can't really replicate that experience anywhere else."

7. Sara Yousif '13 and Maria Pasion '13 are depicted as jumping up with excitement as they hold their tickets to the Swedish House Mafia concert. "We came, we raved, we loved!"

8. Zach Horton's '14 ambitions include one day to be a model. Here he is pictured completing his first "photo shoot" with a yearbook photographer.

9. "Samantha Averes '16 poses for a picture of herself as a future superstar singer. "I've always loved singing ever since I was a little girl. I joined choir and became addicted!"

10. Harwinder Sandhu '13 and Rachel Harrison '16 pose together in front of the Westminster Abbey in London, England summer of 2012. They both were able to cross traveling through Europe off of their bucket lists.

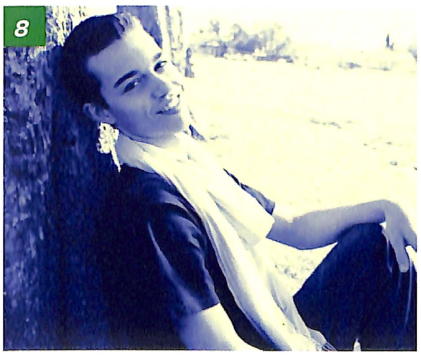

5 Things on my Bucket List

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.

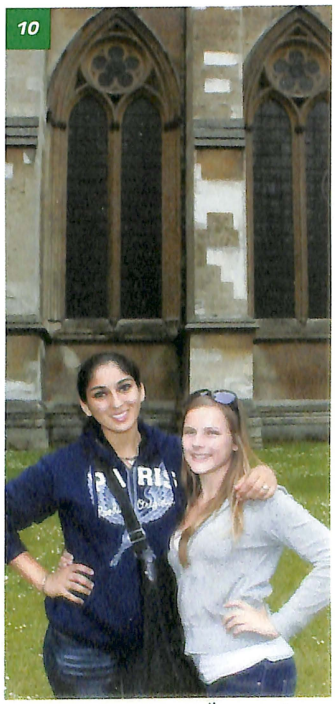

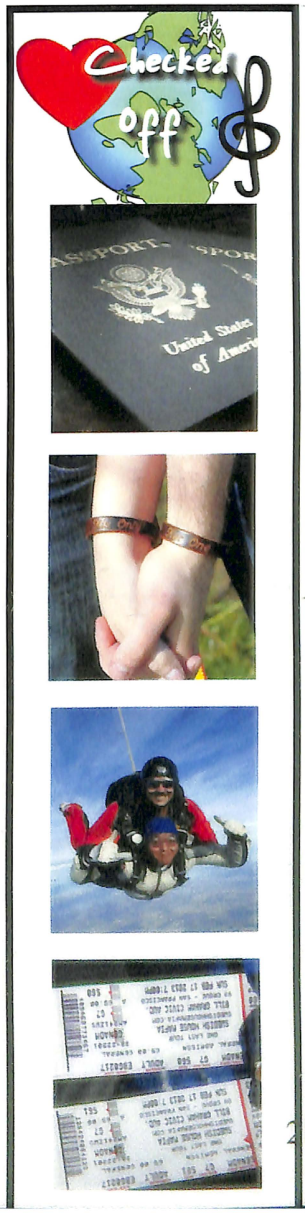

1. Angelia Valadez '16 dreams of one day crossing bungee jumping off of her list. She thinks that it would be a lot of fun and an experience that would give her the opportunity to live on the edge a little.

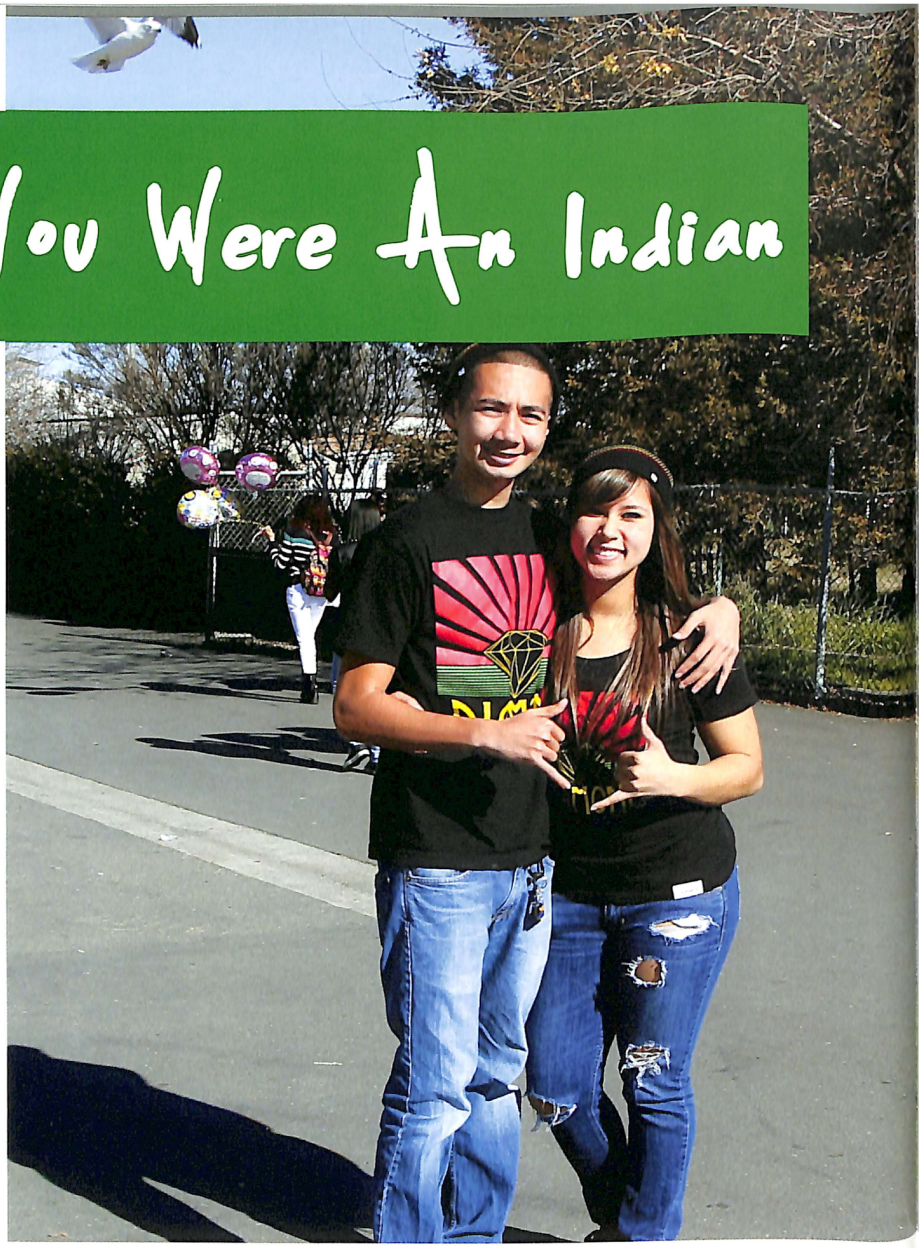

2. Vianey Miranda '13 and Damian Simpson '13 seem to have a very popular bucket list item crossed off. "To find true love". These two lovebirds say, a feature that they have already accomplished while others still dream of finding their soul mate.

3. Briana Ayris '16 and Nicole Pingul '16 want to one day go to Australia with each other These two best friends would love to travel and explore the world together, with their first stop being down under.

4. Alissa Burgos '14 was able to check off "getting a tattoo" off her list. She matches lip tattoos with her boyfriend to internalize their love for each other. "Tattoos are a really cool way of showing off your interests. They are a form of permanent art that gives your body a unique twist."

☑ You Wish You Were An Indian

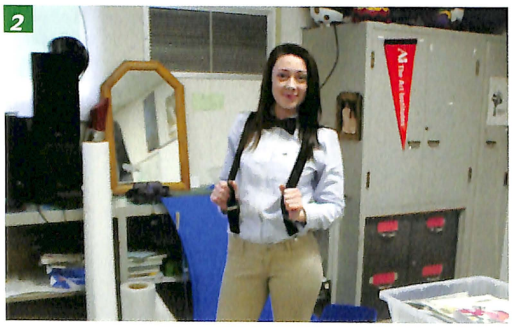

Homecoming is a time of excitement and enthusiasm. Each year we have a basketball homecoming, and leading up to homecoming we have spirit week and a rally. Doing these things it shows everyones school spirit and it brings a joy to Armijo. Homecoming is that special game of the year celebrated with the spirit from school. Mariah Reyes '14 says she thought it was a good attendance of people that participated and was excellent. This basketball homecoming was a super hero theme.

Spirit brings out energy. Students enjoy it and laugh about the different spirit days our school have. We get participation from people outside of the class that actually puts it on. Its well put on by the leadership class. Not only is it a week to dress up, but we also have lunch times activities that a large group of students participate in.

The rallies are really exciting, and again a lot of students participate. "I really enjoy going to the rallies just to have a good time," said Jada Williams '13, she continues to say, "the biggest dress up I enjoyed was show your school spirit and wear purple and gold"

This year out boys team beat the Will C. Wood Wildcats in the homecoming game, it was a joy to watch.

2. Samantha Beckerdite '14 shows off her nerdy spirit during the basketball homecoming spirit week. She really enjoyed this spirit week and all the crazy dress up days.
3. Mrs. Marley shows her school spirit by participating in the spirit days with the rest of the student. She dressed up for "Hulk it Up" day
4. Melissa Bojourquez '13 uses her creative skills to dress up for her favorite spirit day of the week.

One last time...

During the homecoming skits the senior class was able to take home their first Basketball homecoming. They portrayed a Batman storyline which included many familiar characters like Robin and the Joker. "This year all the props were done before they were brought to the school, which was a surprise for us," says Christina Cieslewics who portrayed Harley Quinn during the skit. "It was a good way to end my senior year for his last homecoming in High school," says Trevor Flynn.

10. Brittney Atkins 13' says "I had fun at the basketball homecoming rally, and I'm glad that a lot of people attended."

Fight for 2nd

this years homecoming was a very big shocker for ever. All the skits went great but for one little mistake made by the juniors cost them major points. For basketball homecoming you are required to have a shopping cart into your skit, but not the juniors. They forgot to meet that requirement and it cost them a lot in points. Juniors ended up coming in 3rd place while the sophmores came in 2nd..

It was the sophmores first time being in 2nd for the homecoming skits so they were estatic about the final results. The students said that they put in a lot of hard work with the skit and dances and for how much work they put in they are very happy on how they did. The Junior class was saying that they are alittle upset but they reason is that they wanted to perfect the dances and plot that they just forgot the shopping cart. They wern't to worried about it cause they still have two more homecomings to win next year when they are seniors.

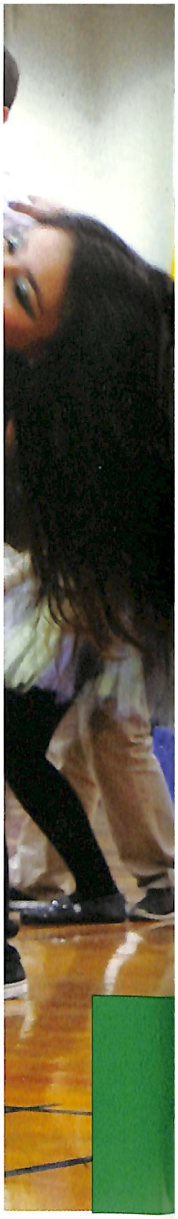

1. Jared Webster '15 shows off his spider man transformation after being bit. Him and his Twin brother shared the part as spider man one was unmasked and the other was the masked spider man. 2. Astred Castro '14 plays the part of the begging announcer to announce The Incredibles. She says she always has a blast when it comes to homecoming. 3. Senior Ryan Riddle '13 has a face off with Quincy McCrew '13 one being Robin the other as The Riddler. Quincy took a big step by being a main character when its his first year as a leadership student. 4. Clarisse Wangeline '14 plays the roll as Edna in the juniors skit. Everyone in the class was saying she was perfect for this part.

Sophomores took second place in the floats beating the juniors was very big for them. 7. The fight scene everyone knows Batman vs The Joker. Batman is being played but Paul Moradian '13 and the joker is being played by Ryan Lucas '13 8. After reading the comic book for a bed time story Drake Delorfice '16 is put to sleep by the great Superman. The freshman put this in their skit cause they thought it would be a cute for all the parents and students to see. 9. Spiderman comes to the rescue as he goes and saves the love of his life Marry Jane. For the sophomores Spiderman was actually played by two different people during the skit.

Wyatt McCampbell '13 and Illeana Pichardo '13 finish off there final dance with a dip. For the past 2 homecomings Wyatt and Illeana have been partners for the final dance.

Super Heroes Unite

Every person has a hero in life whether if its a comic book character or a family member. A hero can be someone that helps you all the time or someone you really look up to. They can be big, small, skinny, fat, a athlete, or maybe a nerd. There are many versions of a hero; its all a matter that what they do is heroic. The 2013 homecoming basketball theme was superheros: freshman had Superman, sophomores had Spiderman, juniors had The Incredibles, and the seniors toped off their final homecoming by doing Batman. If you ask the students that were a part of homecoming they will most likely tell you that it's actually really stressful, but by the end of the night they will say its a blast. The whole process of homecoming is a lot to do. You have to create dances, teach them, make the back drops and you have to do all of this in a matter of 3 weeks untill you preform it in front of the basketball crowd. Senior Paul Mooradian '13 said that this was his favorite homecoming because he got to play the character of Batman which was his childhood superhero. The night over all was fun. The seniors took first place.

Under Dogs

With Braden Remington '15 and Brittany Chudzinski '15 wining prince and princess was not only a great night for them but the Sophomore class as well were able to celebrate. The prince and princess could celebrate for their victory while the rest of the class would celebrate beating the Juniors in the skits.

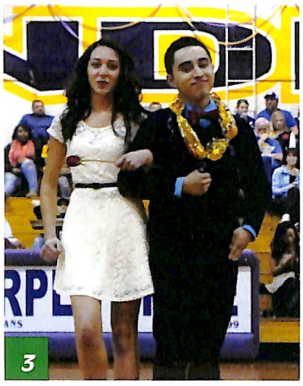

The Sophomore beating the Juniors not only felt great but will boost their confidence next year and be able to compete against the next year Seniors.

Later both would go on to win prince and princess. 9. Samantha Macfall '13 receives a red rose from Wyatt McCampbell '13. Samantha Macfall '13 "enjoyed my time in front of everyone and I was surprised to win."

☑ Royalty Assemble

All the nominees had a fantastic night as they walked out in front of everyone hoping to win as either prince and princess or king and queen. This homecoming was especially special for the seniors. Not only did they win in the homecoming skits, but it was their last homecoming. It was bitter sweet for Ryan Riddle '13, Leeza Oyoung '13, Samantha MacFall '13, and Wyatt McCampbell '13 because they were the winning court. All the nominees hoped for the best and were hoping that they would win. All the students included in that night definitely shared a special moment because not one homecoming is the same. For the freshman, they finally got a handle on how things worked since it was their second homecoming. The winners of the freshman, sophomore, and junior class definitely had the time of their lives as they waited in anticipation for the winners to be announced. For the freshman, "it being their second time of homecoming, it was a little easier on the nerves" Kirah Overman '16. When asked which homecoming would you prefer, football or basketball Jacob Maher '14 said "I'd prefer football because something about being under the lights brings back so many memories that I have on the field."

And The Winner is...

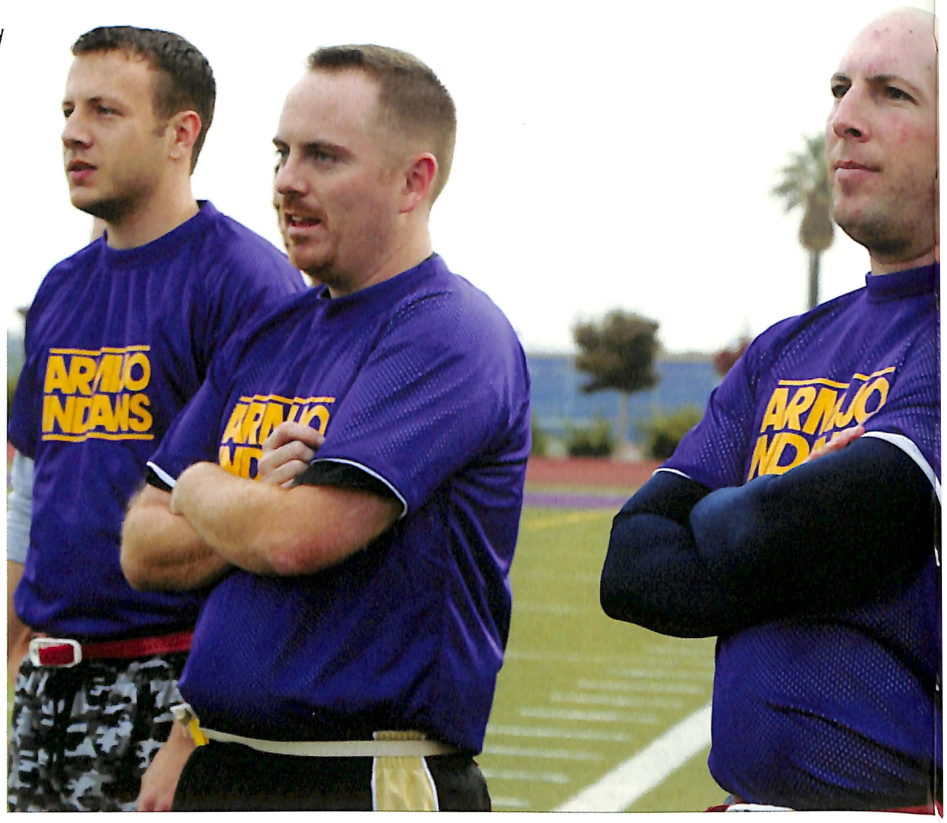

A Teacher Takeover

Every year Armijo High School has Student vs. Staff games where the teachers and students go head-to-head in a sport, and it is treated as a real as a league game. Same competition and the same amount of fun and effort is all put into the games as well. No experience is required to participate, but if you've played before it's an advantage to your team. The three sports that had Students vs. Staff games were flag football, volleyball, and basketball.

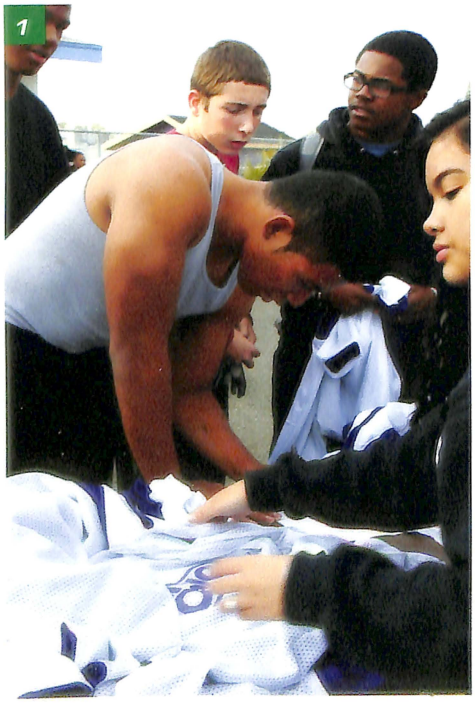

More students participated than expected, but it made things even more competitive and fun. Most of the staff members found the Student vs. Staff games a good way to "get back" at their students who may have gave them a hard time and show the new generation how its done on the court and on the field.

The teachers each had signs made for them that had their name and the college that they attended to show spirit and the appreciation of participating in the games. The games are spread out over the school year based on the end of the season for that specific sport.

The Student vs. Staff games are a great break for students and teachers to just have fun together.

A few excited fans get the opportunity to take pictures with their favorite rap group Loud Money Empire!

My life be like

With having hobbies you can get away from all the stress that's created from school, work, and your family. This is something you are passionate about. It's a way to escape and be in your own little world. Hobbies may consist of doing it by yourself or with your friends. You're being creative and unique. Other people might not have interest in "your" hobby, but all that matters is that you do. Whether it's a sport, drawing, arts and crafts, singing, rapping, dancing, doing hair and makeup, designing and many more. Being able to get away and do what you love is necessary to maintain a healthy lifestyle. Armijo High school has a variety of different students with very interesting interests and hobbies. Isaiah Simpson '13 actually has his own rap group. Isaiah has dropped two mix tapes with his group called "Loud Money Empire," or "LME" for short. He plans on making it big with his group and becoming very successful in the future. Isaiah isn't the only entrepreneur at Armijo, Nathan McCall '13 runs his own computer repair business and serves private parties and small businesses. If business isn't what you're into and you're more creative we have plenty artists at Armijo as well. Shannon Dewhirst '13 loves to sketch and draw different things. Shannon says drawing is what relaxes her the most. Hobbies sometime can lead into a career for some people like Haley Yost '13 who competes in rodeo's all around California. Haley hopes to acquire her pro card this year and start getting sponsored and make it to The National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas as a professional. No matter what your hobby is all that matters is if you are passionate about it and it makes you happy. Armijo is privileged to have many passionate individuals with interesting talents.

D.I.Y Bows!

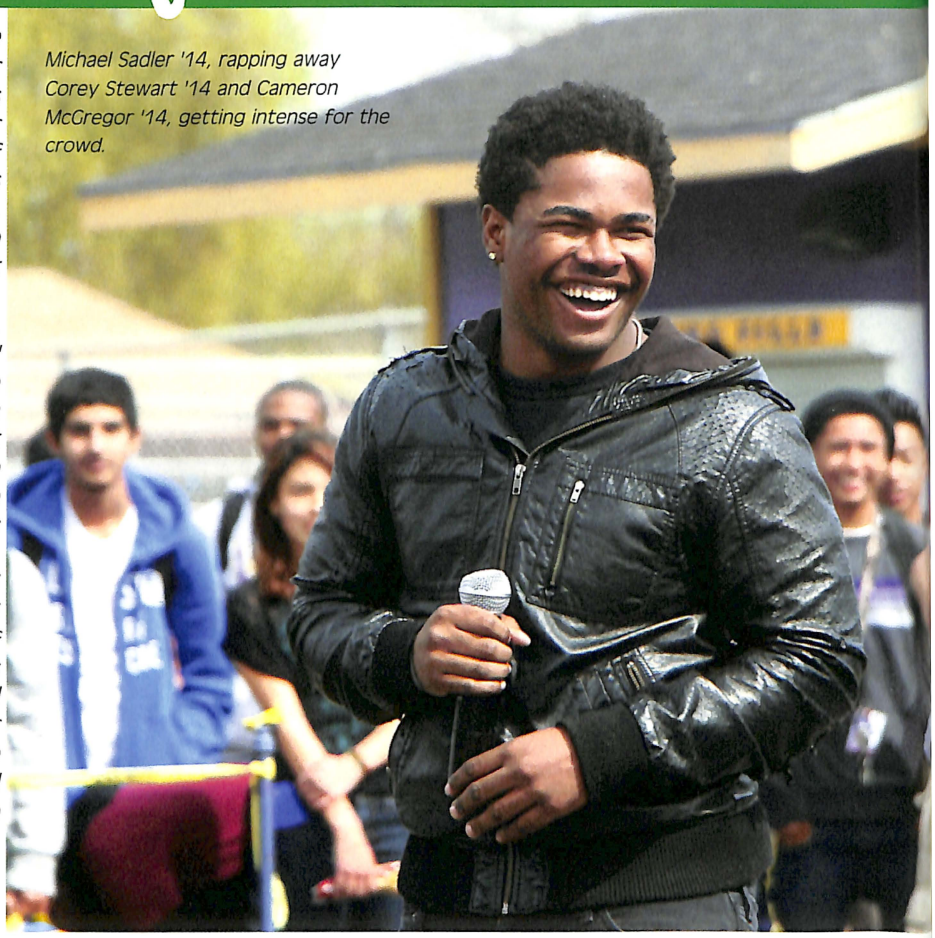

Are you sick of spending too much money on hair bows? Bows are a hot trend right now and buying them at a store like Claire's, Icing, Forever 21, etc. can get really pricey so why not make your own? Jalina Booker-Navarro '14 and her grandma make their own custom bows and it's really easy! All you have to do is pick a fabric fold a bow and sew it together. It's that easy!

Bringin' It Back

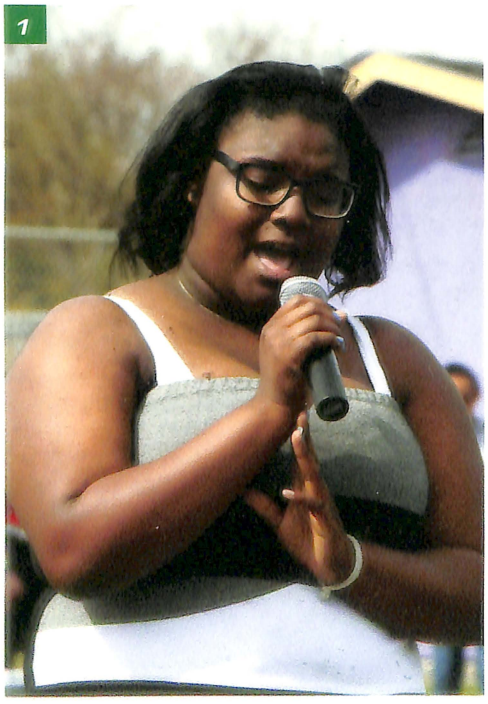

Students from Armijo gather around the Indian Outpost, anxiously waiting to see their friends perform. A total of 7 students participated in the activity and all brought their talents to show the school. The students of Armijo brought some diverse acts, such as singing a duet, doing an a capella, playing drums, and even rapping! The competition was going to be tough, but all the participants were confident and ready to prove they had talent.

The three judges Mr. Burzynski, Mr. Klapper, and Mr. Dickens gave their input on the students' performance even though they did not do the voting. The comments range from appreciation to questions about the performance. This input helps the students decided on who they want to vote for. The students voted for their favorite performer at the end of the week and winners were announced on Friday.

Coming in 3rd, was Paul Mooradian '13 playing the drums. In 2nd, Briana Belluomini '13 and Elisha Machado '13 singing their duet of "Mean" by Taylor Swift. Coming in first was Michael Sadler '14, Corey Stewart '14, and Cameron McGregor's '14 rap group doing their rendition of "Run DMC." The groups won a cake to celebrate their victory. All the performers did great and all showed that Armijo does have talent.

That's Cray-Cray!

1. James Joyce, (the little Irish figure on top if the white board), listens in on the discussions that Mr. Brandt's classes have. If mini James Joyce disagrees then he turns around in disgust. 2. Mrs. Harrington keeps positive despite crazy class switches between two classrooms everyday. Mrs. Harrington has to move to another teachers classroom and teach her English class while another teacher teaches in her class.

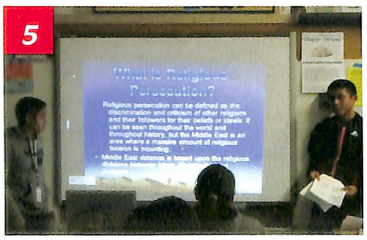

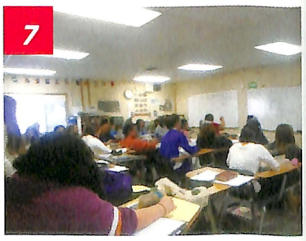

When ever students get a new book they have to read for their English class they never really like it. Until the craziest thing happens that makes the students like the book, like people who you thought were dead aren't really dead, or something traumatic happens to the main character. Then everyone wonders, "Why does the school lets us read this because that was cray-cray and we are not even supposed to cuss at school."

How the district decides what we read in class is not based upon what happens in the book its based upon how many literary devices, and symbols the book has.The reason for needing these devices and symbols is so the students can be taught how to recognize and analyze them, and also to understand how to use them in writing. Students don't always understand the use for such intellectual books, but the teachers do.

Each year students pick up a book in class, read the back and sigh in disappointment. The book doesn't include anything they were hoping. Just chalk full of everything from plot twists to endings that just let them down. What they don't know is that there's more than meets the eye.

3. Mr. Brandt loves to stand up in front of the class and talk about what's going on in the books and poems that his class reads. His students also like to have discussions about what the authors really mean. 4. All the English teachers like to encourage their kids to ask questions when they don't understand something or they have something to add to the discussion. 5. To make the students learn more the teachers assign them projects to teach the other students in the class. Most of the time the students teaching usually learn more then the students they are teaching. 6. Sometimes students take notes in class and sometimes they don't, they just goof off. 7. Students love to do their homework in class while the teacher is talking so they don't have to do it later. 8. Emily King 13' is so excited for her A+ paper! When ever she gets a good grade she sticks it on the fridge.

Bound to Repeat!

People always say that history is bound to repeat its self. So then how do the history teachers keep it interesting? Each teacher has their own style for keeping their students intrigued.

In the picture above Mr. Burke puts on a movie to explain a little more about topics that they have learned this year. When teachers put on movies it's kind of hard not to hear what is going on in the film, especially if they turn up the volume super loud. So if a student is doing something else while the movie is playing they still comprehend whats going on.

Mrs. Wright has her students go to finlit.everfi.net to complete one chapter in her economic classes. This program helps her students get more involved. While the instructors give the students real life situations, the students have to come up with the solution. This program is really good because it helps her students deal with the problems they will have to face when they are out on there own and their parents are not there to save them.

Every history teacher teaches the same thing, but what they do differently helps them stand out in their students eyes.

9. Students in Mrs. Lockhart's class participate in a Jeopardy style game,preparing for finals. 10. Mr. Burke keeps his students listening in class with movies on his lectures. 11. Mr. Dickens (the newest history teacher) keeps his class awake and alert by keeping away from lectures and teaching more interactively. 12. Mr. Correa's students cheer excitedly for each other.

Digits That Count!

1. Students answer questions to a math problem in Mr. Mikkola's Algebra 1 class by holding up their response's on a piece of paper. 2. Devante Henny '15 volunteered to write down what the cosecant, secant, and cotangent was in a problem in Mr. Molumby's IB class. 3. Bradford Nilsen '14 writes down the tangent, cosine and sine to a math problem in class. 4. Ms. Tomko's 3rd period Geometry Class works out math problems on their white boards.

Students who enjoy math are, for the most part, guaranteed to succeed within different opportunities in life. To be able to solve a math problem is like solving a piece to a puzzle. In this sense, being able to solve problems for yourself may open doors to solve social, economic, and even political problems throughout the world.

Within Mrs. Tomko's 3rd period Geometry class, presented in the main photo, her students participate in a series of word problems on their white boards. Once they finished answering the questions to the best of their abilities, with the lessons and tools that Mrs. Tomko has granted them, they hold their answers on their white boards up high and discuss their answers afterwards. Helping provide a learning environment in which one may discuss their answers and figure out a problem is one of the keys to learning not only in the math department, but in many other teaching curriculum's.

Over the years, you would find more and more students becoming more sufficient within the math department than in the past. Student's eagerness to learn is what keeps these teachers going. Many freshmen even take Algebra 2; in which case, they can check math off their list early.

Elemental Factors

Science, the thing that helps us understand how the world and our body's function. Though it may not seem important, in reality it is the only way we know the earths next moves; some examples: a tsunami, earthquake, extreme weather changes, etc. Without this information, we wouldn't be prepared, and without preparation we would be lost. Science is no subject to turn your back on.

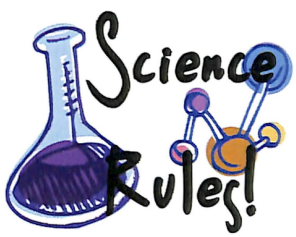

At Armijo, there are many types of sciences you can learn about. There's earth science, physics, biology, anatomy, chemistry and even medical science. The teachers of these classes believe that their kids will be great doctors, physician's, nurses, or even ER medics one day. These teachers here want their students to be as successful as they can be. But of course, not every student or even half of the school's population wants to be a doctor. However, many of them who don't even think about it, end up becoming one someday and going on to save peoples lives and to help families. Not all doctors today planned on being a doctor when they were our age but look at them now, making money and saving lives. What a great contribution from science.

8. Adrian Tenorio '15 is hard at work with his science worksheet in Ms. Aronsen's 5th peiord.
9. Mr. Chapman helps a student with a lab in his 5th period.
10. Lucy Altman-Newell '13 points the parts of the heart that she just learned about in Ms. Rockwell's 6th period class.

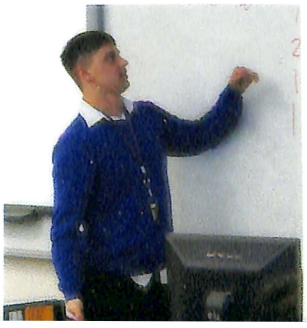

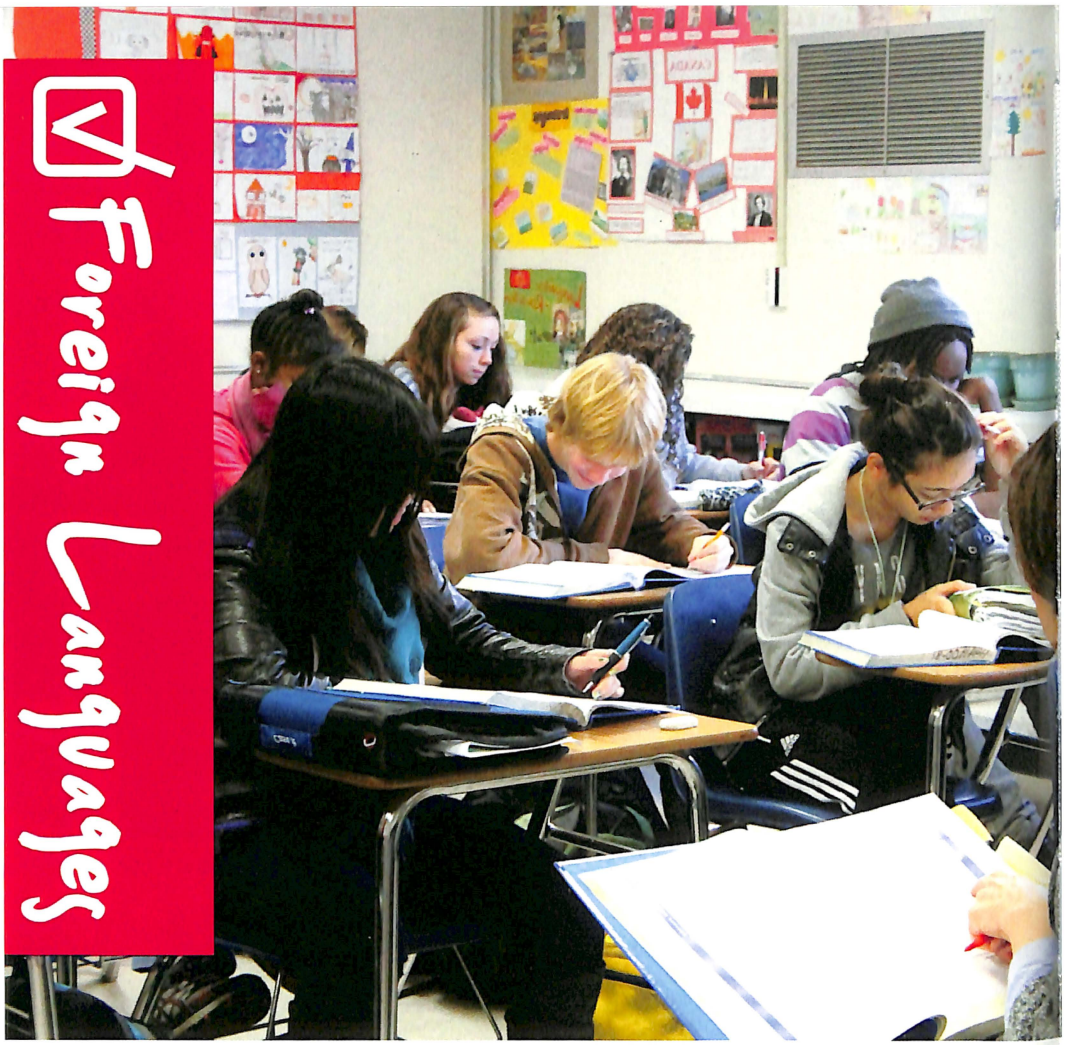

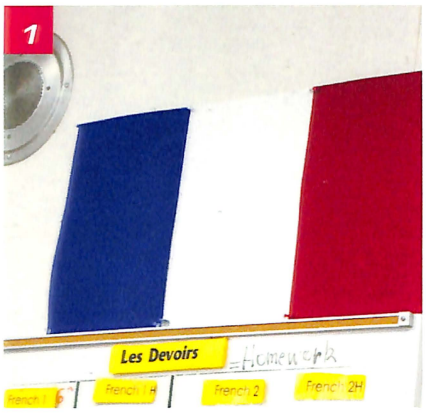

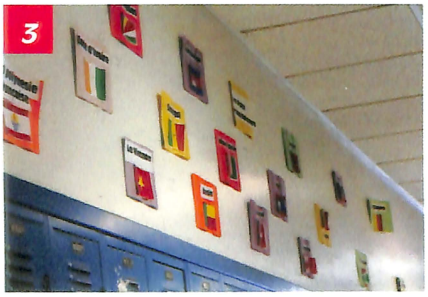

Foreign Languages

1. The French flag that hangs in Madame Radmanesh's classroom always hangs to the left of the door.
2. French conjugations sheets help the students remember how to conjugate every verb form to prepare for oral tests!
3. The international flags in A-hall showcases all of the different cultures seen around Armijo.
4. Spanish projects done by the Spanish classes are seen all around the Spanish rooms in A-hall to show the student's superb work.

Have you ever found yourself bored in a classroom thinking to yourself when am I going to use this outside of school? Many students fail to find a point in the subjects of the classes they take because they feel it's useless in the real world but the foreign language classes are beneficial inside and outside of the classroom. By learning different languages you are often presented many opportunities to use the skills you learned while learning a different language. Whether it be English or Spanish knowing another language can be very helpful. In many situations it can get you a job.

Considering jobs are scarce these days many employers have said that they are more willing to hire a bilingual person for a job, and in many cases you can find a higher paying job if you know more than one language. Alexandra Paulsen '16 said " I really like my Spanish class, because not only am I learning a new language that will benefit me in the long run, but I'm learning a lot about interesting Hispanic culture as well." Most of the students enrolled in these classes have the same eagerness towards learning a new language.

5. Andrea Bolanos '16 reads and translates and interesting article in a Spanish newspaper for a homework assignment.
6. Mateo Armijo '16 reads the examples in the book aloud to practice speaking and reading in Spanish.
7. Madame Radmanesh's French II class read the text book together so they can master reading in French as well as writing and speaking it.
8. Alexandra Paulsen '16 reads silently in Mr. Blum's Spanish I class while trying to write her "Esponja" which is what Mr. Blum calls his warm-up activities.

International Baccalaureate

The International Baccalaureate program also known as "IB" is a is a two-year educational program for students aged 16-19 that provides an internationally accepted qualification for entry into higher education, and is recognized by universities worldwide. Armijo High is privileged to have a wonderful IB and Pre-IB program for students who are willing to take the challenging classes. These classes are very tough but the point of taking them is to prepare students for collegiate level learning. Students have the options to take all IB classes and graduate with not only a normal high school diploma, but an IB diploma as well. If you don't want to take all IB classes then you can get a certificate in a specific subject like English, science, math, etc. IB can also get you college credits while you're still in high school so you don't have to take the classes when you get to college! When asked why they're doing IB Austin Wedenmeyer '14 said " I do IB because I like to challenge myself and it will save me some time and money when college comes around!" Armijo High strives for excellence and IB helps produces it.

Physical Education

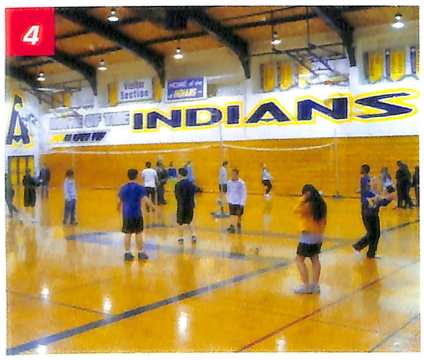

1. DeVante Henny '15 Is practicing his throw in stance for a scrimmage game between P.E classes. 2. Alexis Roman '15 Plays defense for his team, by using all his strength to kick the soccer ball away. 3. Gustavo Rios '15 plays defense by kicking the ball away before Timothy Chase '13 can gain possession.

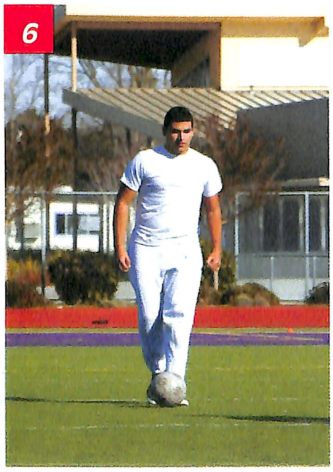

The Physical Education classes are an essential part to the diverse curriculum offered at Armijo High. Though some might think of it as a fun and free course, teachers train students in sports like football, soccer, basketball and volleyball. A typical P.E. class gets about 40 minutes of exercise daily enough to keep kids active and healthy. P.E. classes are unique as its the only course that doesn't involve desks or paper and pencils. Here, you are encouraged to move around and be loud, while still being able to exercise and enjoy themselves. It is not your typical classroom setting and is just one of most unique things about Armijo. This class gives students opportunities to find a skill they have in a sport or just to have fun with a little friendly competition. For majority of students P.E is way to get in shape without paying for a gym membership. Students are also encouraged to give it all they got, when it comes to mile run days P.E teachers push their students to beat their record time. Students that are interested in trying out for a sport utilize the time they spend in P.E to get hang of the sport of their interest before the real deal.

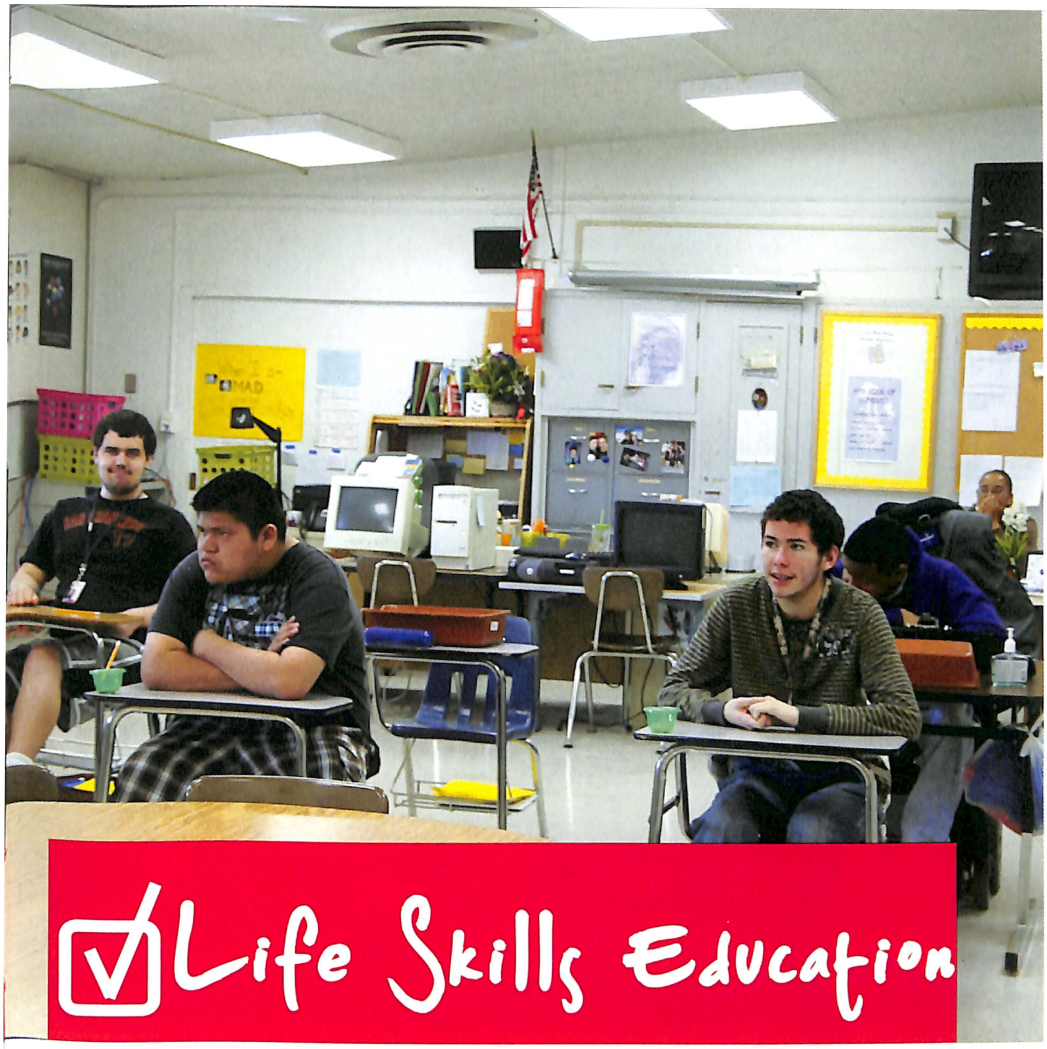

4. Mr.Hafner's class is in the gym practicing bump, set and spike volleyball techniques. 5. Victoria Renteria '15 plays as the goalkeeper and rolls the soccer ball down the field. 6. Christian Mesias '13 is on the soccer field practicing his dribbling skills as he looks up to see who's open on his team. 7. Jasper Schakenraad '16 serves the volleyball with his right hand by using the "palm technique".

☑ Life Skills Education

The Life Skills Education classes offer a whole new aspect of learning to students. In these classes, students learn skills to help them know how to deal with everyday life outside of a classroom setting. Simple lessons are taught by demonstrating them for students. A full working kitchen is often used to teach students basic cooking abilities and common household responsibilities. Students learn more than just typical school subjects, giving them a head start on life outside of Armijo. A day in class is always different, besides learning basic kitchen skills, basic computer skills are taught as well. To learning how to go on the Internet, typing a quick story and how to view videos and pictures. Every teenager has to wash their own clothes as well, students are taught how to use a washer and dryer machine. Students also attend elective classes such as Art, Ceramics and Wood Shop. Everyone enjoys these classes and gives them something new to learn and to have fun at the same time. Art and Wood Shop is majority the best class that everyone enjoys, students like painting a masterpiece and building anything that comes into their mind.

Nails and Sparks

1. A student begins to cut out his pencil drawn outlined piece of metal with a blow torch. 2. Students in wood shop use a machine to sand down their pieces of wood. Sanding down wood helps to give the wood a more smooth texture. 3. Tyler Yoakum '14 chisels the piece of metal that he's welding. Students are very careful when they work with hot metal to ensure they don't receive any harsh burns. 4. Student starts up and adjusts his blow torch getting ready to start cutting out pieces of metal. The dark glasses ensure protection from the bright light that could easily cause retinal flash burns from up close contact.

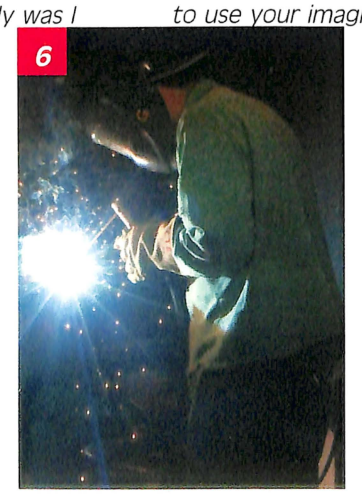

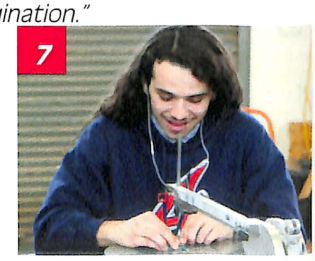

The art of contorting metal and wood and coming out with something amazing at the end is what wood shop and welding students strive for. These two arts not only help students get creative but they also help them prepare for the future.

Not only did wood shop students utilize their talents in class, but also outside of the classroom. In class, students were seen being dedicated to making exquisite pieces of furniture such as chairs and chest boxes. Outside of the class room Mr. Malano took a group of hard working students to help out with a nearby Habitat for Humanity project. Jorge Zepeda '13 comments "My favorite thing about this was that not only was I getting a great learning experience, I also got to help people." The home is planned to be finished by the end of this school year.

In the adjacent welding room, many other great things were happening. With bright hot orange sparks from blow torches shooting around, the welding class can be very colorful and exciting. In this room students focus on learning how to use blow torches and other welding tools with the proper precautions. Like wood shop, this industrial art also helps students become educated for different careers. Marcus Oliver '13 comments "There's a lot of great things you can do in this class. You just have to use your imagination."

5. Ezequiel Rodriguez '13 does his part by hammering in a metal sheet and wood together at the Habitat for Humanity project. Ezequiel '13 was just one of the many the many Armijo students that helped out during this project. 6. Tristen Trichak '14 welds away with his welding helmet on to prevent damage to his eyes from the bright acetylene torch. Students use special jackets to ensure that pieces of hot metal don't hit their bodies. 7. Darrell Letterman '13 enjoys working on his project, while he cuts out his art design from a piece of plastic. 8. Jeremy Gilmore 13 finishes his hope chest by carefully painting the last coat onto it. Aside from doing this project, Jeremy has also made a complete dining set table with six chairs and helped with the new visitors ticket booth.

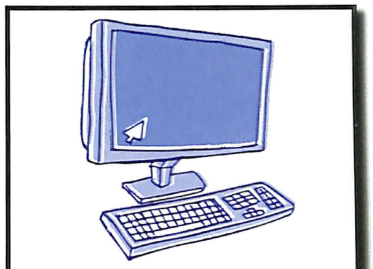

Intertwined with Technology!

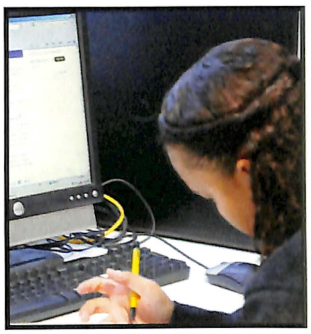

Computer arts can play a role in the production or display of images, videos, animation, photo shop, and websites. With todays world being more and more intertwined with technology, the lines between traditional works of art and new age computer media has been blurred.

This elective teaches students about a small portion of the infinite amount of knowledge there is to learn about computers. Like all other electives, it has its own specific purpose of preparing students for the future. "I think this prepares us for the future by giving us a chance to show our creativity while also challenging us to organize and actually finish our work on our own time without the supervision of a teacher," explains Edgar Plascencia '13, who is in Mr. Summers Video Production class.

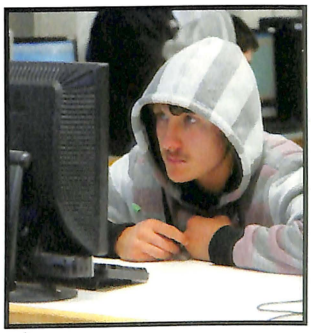

Not only does this class help the students that take the elective, but it also branches out to help Armijo's student body as a whole. Video production is responsible for getting updates and accurate news to students and teachers through morning announcements. They also record events all over the school from sports to lunch time activities.

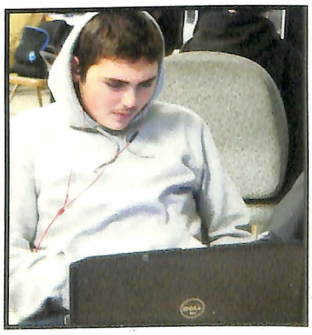

All in all, the computer arts class builds independence, discipline, and necessary skills needed to survive the complex matrix of the computer world.

Corey Stewart '14 searches up different things on the Internet during his free time in computer class.

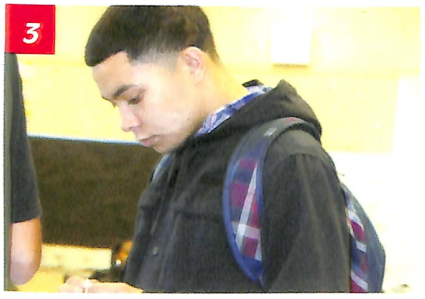

A Second Chance

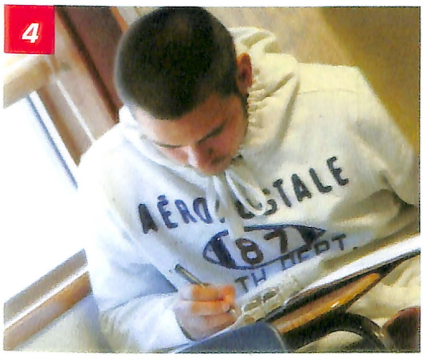

1. As soon as you enter through the doors that divide Amijo from Sem Yeto, a welcoming sign invites you in.
2. When needed Mr. Gore, as well as his fellow staff members substitutes for absent teachers across all subjects.
3. Efrain Marta '13 is decorating a cinnamon-scented pine cone with gold ribbon as a part of a project.
4. Gabriel Beas '13 is taking notes in his notebook while listening to his teacher give a lesson.

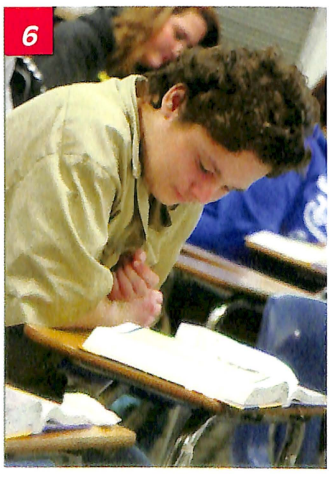

Earning back credits is an easy task to do now for Armijo students! Credits can come to students in a blink of an eye, and a little bit of hard work. Sem Yeto Satellite is an easy way for kids to continue to get a high level education and get all the credits needed for them to graduate.

Sem yeto is located in H hall and I hall in the annex. It is a small place but a big opportunity for a lot of people. Students on both campuses get through the separation from friends who attend Sem Yeto because the two schools share the same lunch times.

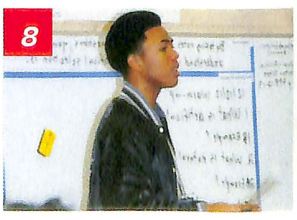

Sem Yeto is not just about getting credits though. It's also about learning new things and having great high school experiences. The Sam Yeto satellite school has extra curricular events, similar to the main campus. They had a Winter Clothes Drive where you can donate warm clothes to the people who are less fortunate then others.

School starts at 9:00 a.m. and ends at 3:04 p.m. But on Wednesday's it starts at 9:00 a.m. and ends at 1:58 p.m.

5. Lawrence Gatewood '13 and Christopher Holbein '13 are also decorating cinnamon-scented pine cones with ribbon.
6. La'Vaughn '13 is reading along with the teacher as he reads out loud to the whole class.
7. In this class we can see the class watching a movie about racism and how it was harder in the past.
8. In Mr. Wyandt's class, Jordan Demings '13 is helping the teacher out by telling the class what to do for the day.

☑ Express Yourself

Art is everywhere! From the billboards as you're driving down the city streets, to the bathroom stalls in the department store. Whether you're using only a pencil and eraser, a paintbrush, a camera, or your hands and some ceramic, you're creating art in some manner and learning to express yourself.

In Armijo, there are many classes that allow you to express yourself through the form of art, like general art, ceramics, and photography. Ms. Loveall is one of the art teachers and she's been involved with art for 31 years or so and she is a professional at what she does. This helps her teach her students

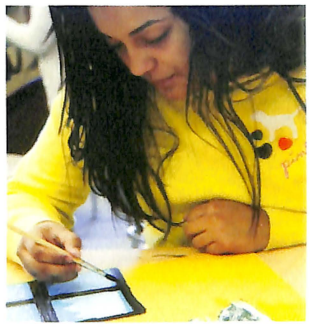

Learning from real artists makes the classes experience all the better. Students love to take art electives because it is an opportunity for them to do as they please in ways they can't in their normal classes. The classes also offer them to access to supplies they don't have in their normal lives. Access to these tools makes it possible for students to excel in something they may never have experienced before.

By learning about different techniques and styles of each art the students gain a whole new appreciation for the arts, and even begin to pursue them with new found passion. This passion leads to the artists of tomorrow.

ROTC

A.F.S.J.R.O.T.C. is the official name for this club/class which stands for Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps. The ROTC program has 140 cadets enrolled, including six Senior Staff members. The Senior Staff members are the leading officers of the corps. First in command is cadet Col. Maria Pasion '13, second in command is cadet Lit. Col. Joe Sanchez '13, third in command is cadet Major Colby Wilsoncook, fourth, fist and sixth are all cadet Captains Jonathan Herrera '13, Courtney Donald '13 and Cristian Mesias '13. Instructors are Msgt. Santa and Lt. Col Bruce

The weekly schedule for ROTC is different everyday. Mondays is uniform wear, also march and drill. Tuesday is leadership where they build leadership skills and teamwork traits. Wednesday and Thursday are Aerospace science days which consists of aviation history, astronomy, and exploration of space. Friday is P.T. (physical training) which consists of exercising, outdoor games, mile runs, etc.

Main events ROTC completes throughout the year are marching in the Veterans Day parade, a car wash, and reading to senior citizens twice.

Tomatoes, Tamatoes

On November 1st curtains opened for drama club's first play of the year 'A Bad Year for Tomatoes' by John Patrick. A story about the famous Myra Marlowe (whose real name is Myrtle Durdle) that leases a house in tiny New England Hamlet of Beaver Haven. She tries to settle down to write a autobiography all while trying to overcome the many obstacles of her nosy neighbors. In an attempt to drive them away, Myra invents a homicidal, unkempt sister who is locked up in her room but occasionally escapes to scare away uninvited visitors. Though her trick works well at first, as her mountain of lies grow, her story becomes increasingly unstable and soon tumbles. In the end, when she grows tired of switching characters all the time, Myra comes under the suspicion of murder when her sister mysteriously disappears to Boston. Everything is sorted out after finally confesses to all of her lies. The play coursed with amazingly talented actors and was well received by the auidence.

The Center Stage!

Lights...Camera...Action! Whether its on the spot improvisation or a long and thought out monologue, students always bring their A-game when it comes to theater. They get to explore their creativity through drama exercises and learning different acting skills.

Mrs. Choy plays a big role in drama on Armijo's campus. From leading all of the theater classes to directing big school drama productions. For the on campus theater class, Mrs. Choy has her students go through different on the spot acting exercises to see how her pupils can perform under pressure. Aside from these improvisational exercises, her students also go through learning a variety of acting methods and get to practice writing their own skits.

"Being able to act silly and become another person" is what the best part about acting is according to Breanna Hardy '13. She, like the many other actors who starred in this years debut play "A Bad Year for Tomatoes", loved being able to put on a costume and stage makeup to accentuate the dynamics of the characters in the show. Drama not only helps students who want to go into acting later on in life get a solid skill set, but also experience.

Overall, drama is a fun experience for everyone. This class adds many distinguishable aspects to Armijo's culture as a whole with it's unique flair for dramatics. "I absolutely want to have a career where you make'em laugh and make'em cry. It's all theater."-Jim Carey

Circle It Up

Maivan Le '13 does well following in her older sister's footsteps, taking over the position of Drum Major for the Armijo Super Band. She had been the assistant drum major in her Junior year because of her dedication. She continued to be dedicated and to show the most leadership of her class, so she was promoted to Drum Major this year as a senior. Drum major does not mean she majors in drumming. It means that she leads the band when they compete against other school bands. She represents the band when it's time to accept awards, and some of those times are some her favorite memories in band. She not only leads the band when competing, she also leads them in a little ritual that starts when she says, "Circle it up."

Circle up ends what they do together. Maivan will shout, "Attenhut. Feet!" and then the band shouts back "Together!" They continue shouting back and forth with, "Back! Straight! Chest! Out! Chin! Up! Eyes! With pride!" Maivan repeats, "Eyes!" and they repeat, "With pride!" She ends by dismissing the band and everyone cheers. "The reason we say those things," Maivan says, "is to remember how we should be standing at attention and we should be proud to be an Indian." She would also like to add that "band is NOT a nerdy thing. Band is like a sport. You practice, compete, and it can take you places."

Band Before Bros

A week before school starts, when others are clothes shopping and getting ready for school, the super band is already preparing for a clean sweep in September. A clean sweep is when a band is best overall in a competition. As soon as school does begin, every Tuesday and Thursday is reserved for band practice. Learning to march in step with an instrument isn't always easy, especially with so many people. After practicing for weeks over and over, perfecting every little thing, and competing time after time, it all comes down to the judges.

Band isn't just time consuming and stressful, its also physically hard. These young musicians must learn how to breath and control your breathing because some music is long and strenuous .To keep their focus on the way to shows, the band has a rule that when the buses get off the freeway they are suppose to be quiet and think about their show

"Band Before Bros" may sound like an overstatement, but in reality, many of these students will choose band every single time, and that's dedication.

8. The flutes practice in unison. 9. Despite the variety in the band, they all get along. 10. *In the practices before the band first show Ms. Jacob promises the entire band and color guard Krispie Kremes if they got a clean sweep. Boys Can Dance Too!

John Sabado '14 is just one of the members of A Guard this year, however he has also been the only boy in guard for the past two years. He says, "It's a great activity and dancing just makes it even better because it lets me forget about the people who judge me badly for being the only boy in guard. It's a great time though, especially with all the friends I've made and being the only boy makes me feel pretty great about myself knowing I am willing to do something most guys are afraid to do because it might not be considered the most masculine sport out there." B Guard Captain: Anna Cardoso
B Guard: Paola Alvarez, Cassidy Anaya, Angela Balalong, Jalina Booker-Navarro, Tianna Jimmerson, Izabella Rios, Kristen Tuazon, & Sadie Winkler

3. Izabella Rios '16 puts her game face on in preparation for her performance. She hope to score better than their rivals, Fairfield High and Benecia High, in the competition.

4. B Guard posses at the end of their show around a table that they used as a prop during their performance.

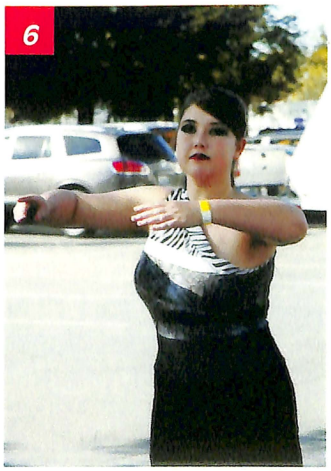

☑ABC Changes

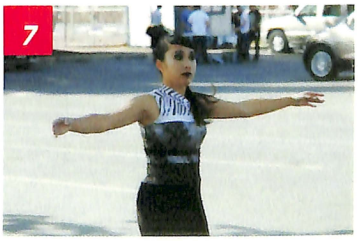

There were many changes that came to Armijo's Color Guard this year. For the first time in four years, Armijo had enough people interested in color guard that the instructors decided to divide it in to A Guard and B Guard. A Guard is for the more experienced dancers, who most likely have participated in guard before. B Guard, however, is for those member who may not have as much experience dancing, or it's their first year participating in color guard. A Guard is mostly composed of juniors and seniors, while B Guard is mostly composed of freshmen and sophomores.

Another change this year to Armijo's Color Guard Team is the league that they compete in. After being the #1 team in Northern California the past two years during competition, their instructors decided it was time for the team to compete in a more difficult league. Although B Guard still competes in the Northern California Band Association (NCBA), they now compete in the Advanced Division rather than open division. A Guard, however, competes in California Color Guard Circuit's (CCGC) open division and in NCBA's open division.

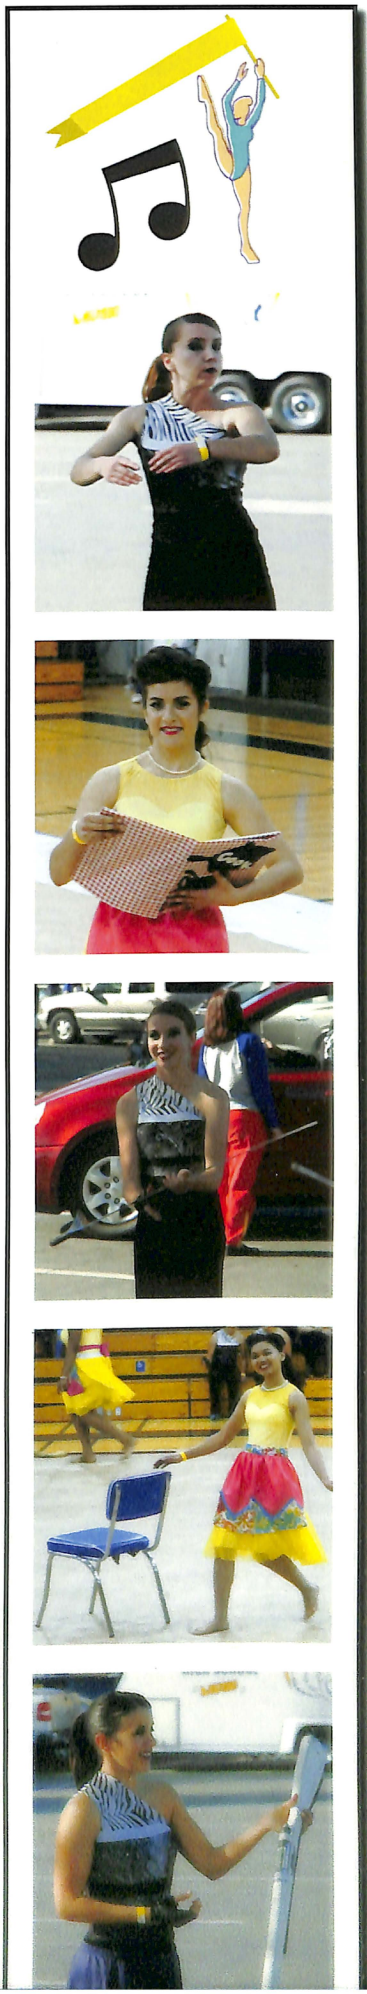

You may have thought color guard was just dancing, but it can get as competitive as any sport here at Armijo. They practice just as often too. A Guard practices every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and B Guard practices every Tuesday and Thursday. In addition to their competitions almost every Saturday, and when they don't have one they probably have a Saturday practice too!

I Got your Back!

A Yearbook contains stories that explains the school year, but a picture can explain a story more than words. There are times that we take pictures but they just don't fit the page right or the angle was just off. Since we can't go back in time, we ask a well know teacher Mr. Summers. His class records most of the events that happens at Armijo and takes great pictures. In desperate times his pictures really saves the day. Whenever we need to grab a picture, the yearbook staff brings a portable Hard Drive and heads down to room H-1. Between the yearbook class and Mr.Summers multimedia class, we have each others backs. Most of the time it's us grabbing photos from him. Some students from yearbook have a MultiMedia class, the benefit from this are: we can teach each other on how to take great pictures.

Behind The Book

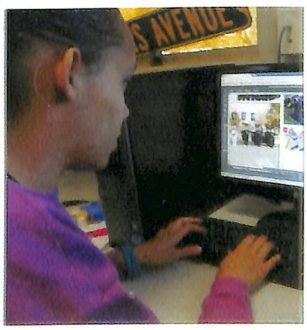

Yearbooks are the best item to keep memories from High School. From sports, School activities, Dances, Friends and other interesting information about students that no one knew about. The Yearbook staff's goal is to let everyone know what goes on at school and for students to have a book that they can cherish for many years. Their day consists of taking pictures, interviewing students and staff working on their pages and to create layouts for the book that standout to our school. We all work together as a family. Although in the beginning the students thought it will be easy enough to complete each deadline, they came to realization it was easier said then done. The staff had to learn to share between cameras, computers, and ideas. They also had to learn to work together as well as individually while being able to communicate with their editors. Pictures are very important to a yearbook. A picture can explain a sport or an event better than any story. Yearbook is a great class to try out, they learn how to take great pictures and make great stories.

Always Helping

Each individual class level has their own President and panel of officers, but the ASB Panel is a group made up of all seniors that lead and guide the Big Leadership class, as well as the entire student body. ASB stands for "Armijo Student Body" because they represent the entire school body as a whole.

They take in opinions of students that aren't in Leadership and try to incorporate those opinions when it comes to planning events. "We oversee all activities and are in charge of the entire leadership class. I feel like I know everything that goes on with the school and I really like knowing things like that," said ASB Secretary, Kyra Gillespie '13. When it comes to committees, the ASB Panel leads their own committee as well as someone else of their choice that they feel can help lead the committee with them. Even though there are only five members on the ASB Panel, they are representing the entire student body.

2. In their committee, Hanna Vigil '13, Carmen Garcia '13, and Ryan Lucas '13 take the lead and explain what they need to do to have a success in their event. As an adviser, he guides the students when it comes to planning event for our school. 9. On Valentines Day, the leadership class created a dance based off of the movie Pitch Perfect. "It was originally Sarhea Reyes's '13 idea because she wanted to do something special for her friend Katherin Calero '13. It was really fun to come together to make something so crazy just to make people laugh," said junior, Gabby Nathan-Funk '14.

For a Fun Friday activity, the leadership class chose to make a Harlem Shake video for fun. "It was so much fun to just act crazy like that as an assignment!" said Naama Angulo-Rios '13

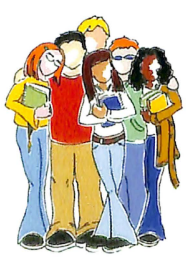

☑ Leaders in the Making

Leadership is the largest club at Armijo High School. Every morning classes of 30 from each grade level gather in the big gym or in separate classrooms an hour before school starts to discuss and plan any activities or events that are put on at or for the school. Whether it be cheering as A-Team at different sports events, setting up an planning a school dance, or even hosting a lunchtime and after school activities, the Leadership students are dedicated to put on a good show.

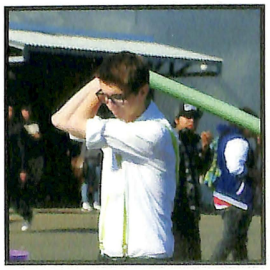

When in Big Leadership, the students break into individual committees to plan specific events. While in these committees, each member gets a chance to speak their mind and give ideas for the event.

On Wednesdays every week, each grade level separates into different classrooms to plan for fundraisers and other small things to help out their own class level. "Almost all of our fundraisers are successful. They're a great way to get the things we need for our class level," said Ryan Riddle '13. Fridays, the class has a "Fun-Friday" activity planned. Most of them are to see how well an activity will work for a lunchtime activity or maybe just an ice-breaker. "Fun-Friday activities are always the best days in Leadership because everyone gets to have fun and do crazy things together," said Freshman Jasper Shackenraad '16.

Armijo Leadership students come into the gym everyday ready to learn. But this class is not only just about doing work and planning, as you can see students not only in the class but from all over campus have a great time as well

Academic Decathlon

The Academic Decathlon club is filled with Armijo's academically talented students. This club is a team competition where the students match their intellects with students from other schools. The students are tested in 10 different categories: Art, Economics, Essay, Interview, Language and Literature, Mathematics, Music, Science, Social Science, and Speech. These students study very hard to be as knowledgeable as they can in a category,. Each students takes on a certain subject and learns as much as he or she can about that one topic. These students are at the top of their classes and try their hardest to be at the top.

1. All the students in the Academic Decathlon get ready to compete. They all study really hard to compete. 2. The speaker asks question to all the students who are participating. 3. During intermission all the students get together and quiz each other. They study really hard for this competition.

Club 180

Club 180 gives the students a chance to come together and talk about their religious beliefs. It gives all different types of students a chance to bond over something they all have in common. During lunch these students meet in B-9 to discuss the Bible. They take excerpts from different sections of the Bible, explain them as best as possible and relate the moral of the lesson back to troubling or enlightening moments in their lives. They do this to interpret the lord's words into everyday material that they would understand in todays world.

DECA

DECA provides teachers and members with educational and leadership development activities to merge with the classroom instructional program, teaching the skills that a successful career in business requires. Working hand-in-hand with the educational and business communities, DECA focuses on five major career clusters: marketing, business management and administration, finance, hospitality and tourism. DECA has gone to trips to San Ramon and San Francisco. This club helps the students get ready for a career in the business field. They go to conferences to get out in the world and experience what it is really like to be a business man or women.

DVD Yearbook

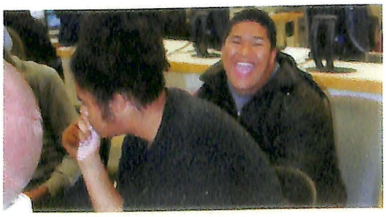

DVD yearbook is a club where students get together to make their own DVD version of the yearbook. The students in this class commit their own free time to going to after school events to take pictures. The pictures they take are then given back to Mr. Summers and he puts them all together onto a CD. These student put in hard work and dedication to make the DVD yearbook the best it can be. Mr. Summers, their adviser, also goes to all sporting and or school events to take pictures. All these students take quality pictures of each event to make the DVD yearbook good. Each year the DVD yearbook grows and gets better each time. These students love working with Mr. Summers and enjoy taking photos as a hobby.

Green Team

The AHS Green Team was founded this year by Lucy Altman-Newell '13 with guidance from teachers, administration, custodial staff, and Solano Garbage Company. The club aims to educate and inspire the AHS community about the importance of going green, as well as how to go about going green. Throughout the year, Green Team has been involved both on campus and off, painting new recycling bins, taking pledges to lead eco-friendly lives, touring companies and learning about their sustainable practices,. creating fun and educational videos, and more! Meetings typically consist of announcements, updates, brainstorming for future events, and mini presentations about pressing ecological issues of our day. Green Team meets most Thursdays in C-6 at lunch. For more information, find their page (Armijo Green Team) on Facebook!

Filipino Club

Filipino Club is the place to be every Friday during lunch! The club meets meets in F-1, Mr. Inserto's room. Discussion topics include Filipino culture, college, and more. As the club contains a large number of students, members are divided into "Barkada's" which is like a group of friends. There are two seniors per each Barkada. Filipino club participates in a lot of fundraisers and activities such as a car wash at the beginning of the year, Halo-Halloween, a Christmas party, and going to Mission Solano to perform and make ginger bread houses for the homeless people. One of the clubs biggest and most popular event of the year is the "Kabataan Youth Show" which takes place around March. Club president Yvonne

Helping Hands

Helping Hands club stays busy on and off campus. The club is involved in a lot of community service activities and helps students achieve their C.A.S. hour goals for the I.B. program. Helping Hands participates in a wide variety of events such as; Color Vibe, City of Fairfield So Fit, singing to the elderly in nursing homes, tutoring dual immersion students at B. Gale Wilson, running the "Teens for Jeans" drive, sponsored a needy family for Christmas, participated in getting Angel Wish Tree Christmas gifts for children, and spent hours on Armijo campus cleaning up trash. Students enjoy the service they do in the club because it's comforting to know they are helping other people and their fellow students. The selflessness learned in the club helps guide club members to better themselves and be more aware and caring of other people. Members of the club take the lessons they learn in the club and use them in their every day lives. These students are always willing to lend a hand.

Interact Club

Interact Club is a club created to help students who are in the International Baccalaureate program get C.A.S hours in a way that helps the community as a whole. Although Interact Club is a renowned club in other schools, its the first year its been here at Armijo. Club President Ryan Lucas '13 states that the main goal of this club was to teach students to take responsibility and learn interactive skills that would help them later on in life. Lucas has even gone to conference meetings in El Cettiro in order to further improve the clubs organization and structure. A main event this year that Interact contributed to was the Pumpkin Patch in October. Many members volunteered to help with fun activities such as face painting and games. Lorenzo Giron '13 was one of these members "The best part about volunteering was being able to communicate and also setting a good example for the kids that came to the pumpkin patch. It was a great experience and one that opened my mind to future events."

International Club

Having a multicultural group the international club gets along well. Earlier during the year they hosted a lunch for the Japanese students from the "Sister City". The Sister City is a city that is like Fairfield but in Japan. The club holds international week during May. A variety of dances are performed such as: Tai, Mexican, African and other cultural dances. Members of the club hope to improve the awareness of the value of bilingualism. The club brings people together through social and educational activities. They would like to bring ethnics together with social, educational and vocational pursuits. The International club and the American Fields Services are combined.

Journalism

The purpose of journalism is to create a newspaper in order to inform the student body about activities and individuals. It also wants to provide opportunities for students to develop writing and interviewing skills. "College inspired me to run a journalism class. While i was in college I fell in love with it. It can be stressful, but I enjoys it" -Mrs. Herring. A writer and copy editor, Jewel Esparaza '15 loves to write and hopes to become a journalist when she grows up. Anime Club

Anime club is a group of avid anime lovers who go after school to escape from their school life and enter their haven of yugioh duels and drawing. During anime club, students do different activities such as playing Yugioh, drawing characters from their favorite anime, and even watch anime on TV. In this club the students can act like themselves. There is a even amount of students in anime club that duel and or draw their favorite anime character. Students say that anime club is a fun time and it's a great way to interact with friends.

Black Student Union

Black Student Union, also known as BSU, is a group of Armijo students, where people can bring together and promote cultural activities and common interests, while learning in the process. The discussions often focus on problems facing the whole community. BSU brings together the people of Armijo and fights against anti-discrimination against all races, not just African-Americans. BSU is one of the most active, yet diverse clubs here at Armijo. The club focuses on unity, college opportunities, and the gathering of African-Americans from the school to all around the community. The club is ambitious and will continue to strive through-out the years at Armijo.

Virtual Enterprise

Virtual Enterprise is a group of aspiring Armijo students that run a simulated business that runs in a competitive environment which empowers the students and they learn the skills they need to operate a business in the real world. This class provides knowledge to the students about entrepreneurship and work ethic needed to act how people do in a business. In this class, the students operate as a real business, learn about stocks and different taxes that come with a business. The students also learn about the politics involved with the work industry. The future businessmen and women of this class learn the skills needed for the real world.

Gay-Straight Alliance

Gay-Straight Alliance is a youth leadership organization that connects Armijo's LGBT students to each other. Methods such as community resources through peer support, leadership development, and training help these students feel comfortable with their sexuality. Whether or not their straight or LGBT, students come out to support those that don't feel equal to others. Within this club they share their feelings and experiences that they have been through in the years it took to find their true selves. Gay-Straight Alliance also reaches out to those that have a difficult time dealing with their own heterosexual problems in the "high school society". Not only are they one of the most powerful clubs but they are the most well respected and influential clubs through out all of Armijo. Armijo salutes this diverse club for sticking up for what they have always believed in.

Guitar Club

Guitar Club is a home away from home where students can come be creative and express their musical talents. It's a amazing club to be apart of, it reaches out to those that are interested in serious guitar playing and those who would just like to know about the arts of the fine guitar. Students attend the club to be in a relaxed musical atmosphere where they can strum their strings with fellow music lovers. Within this club they have practice groups and also discuss music related topics that everyone is interested in. It's a amazing club that is very unique from most of the other clubs here at Armijo. The meetings are held by the incredible Spanish language teacher Mr. Blum in A-5, not only does he knows about his languages but he knows about the structures of fine music from all over the world.

Indian Culture Club

Indian Culture Club is a fast learning environment, that produces Armijo High School students with a lot features of the Indian culture. It's a very rare club, but yet it's very exciting and fun ! This club teaches you about the day to day lifestyles of Indians that you might have never knew existed, they take you out of your world and immerse you into the unique culture of India. Not only do they teach you about the lifestyle, you get the opportunity to teach them some new exciting things. Aishwarya Thakur, club president, states "I decided to take initiative and create this club because there was a strong base of interested students on campus who would've liked to participate." Indian Culture Club always takes time out of there busy schedules to reach out to other students here at Armijo High School the benefits of their amazing culture. Don't be afraid to step out of your element, join the Indian Culture Club and learn something different!

Speech & Debate

The Speech & Debate club is a organization full of skilled individuals who have creative minds and loud voices. They address the issues that affect our nation, society, and our communities as a whole. Speech and debate is more committed than ever before to dig deeper, work harder, and annunciate clearer as they deliver their well thought out opinions. The club works extra hard to spark transformation in the lives of students, to help them become effective communicators, critical thinkers, and engaged members of our society. Our speech and debate club has encouraged young teens to participate in interscholastic as well as community speaking endeavors. The structure of the speech and debate club is based on the framework of points awarded for all presentations or debates throughout their high school years. This club continues to grow as more and more intellectual teenagers take on the task of going above and beyond their limits. Not only is this a fun and close knit club to be a part of, you also take away skills of being a better public speaker.

Fashion Club

Does Armijo High School Have A Fashion Club? Well, we just in fact we do! It's a club were students can come together and talk about the latest fashion trends and the recent shoes that just hit stores! It's a club were you can come and express how you feel about the clothes around you. Most people would probably call them the "fashion police" because they know about their fashion. They know about the new trends before anyone else has even heard of them! They're also on the well known iPhone application, Instagram. They use this app to model clothes and update people on new trends. They use a term called "Instagram Flexing" which involves them looking down at the ground while doing something creative with their body while they model. It's widely known that this is definitely a very different club. The club overflows with creative ambitions and can in fact lead some of these members to a career in fashion design. Fashion Club is definitely a club to join. This is one of the most outstanding types of clubs around.

National Honor Society

1921 is the year that National Honor Society, one of the most helpful clubs, was made and later became part of Armijo. This club exists in all the 50 states in participating schools. To be a member of this club is considered to be a "gold standard" in academic achievements. National Honor Society participates in many well known events such as Read Across America in which students volunteer to read to a younger audience to promote reading. This club also prepares students for college. A major perk of being a member is the eligibility for college scholarships. In order to be a member, you must obtain a 3.0 grade point average. It also gives students the chance to make a change for our next generation by hopefully raising the numbers in college graduates. They get to share their knowledge with younger class mates about what it takes to get to college and doing so step by step encouraging each other to follow their goals.

Science Club

How do chemicals work? What reaction would occur with the combination of those chemicals? Well Science Club is capable of informing you! Since Mr. Mitchell has left the building, Mr. Anderson has taken over the club. Within this club, students perform different experiments and expand their minds of different possibilities. On a weekly basis, Science Club meets in R2 during lunch on Fridays and conduct different theories and test those theories by performing experiments. Science club is a great way for students to have fun with natural elements and learn the ways of nature. Science isn't all about books and work sheets. Its about experimenting and pushing the limits on the law of physics. Science is the key to how we understand our environments and know what's safe or not. Thats why its important that we know as much as we can about science because you never know when science is going to do something that you thought was unimaginable!

Solano Peace Initiative

Solano Peace Initiative is one of the clubs here at Armijo that care about todays youth and their part in their community. The goal for them is to encourage todays youth to take action in their community and spread the message of peace to their fellow companions.They also focus on environmental aspects of todays society. They want to make as big as a difference as much as possible to keep the earth healthy and strong to support our future. Aishwarya Thakur '13, president of Solano Peace Initiative states, "Our goal is to make as big of a difference as possible, one little step at a time." She also states, "We want to encourage everyone to do the same as well, it would benefit everyone in the long run." They have meetings in E5 during lunch every Tuesday. The Vice presidents, Zoreen Mohammad '13 and Cristina Sanchez '14 also support her statement.

Model United Nations

Founded by their president Johnathon Chang, Model United Nations is a new club this year to Armijo. Many wonder what this club is really about. And initially it's very similar to speech and debate. However they don't exactly prepare a speech that would conflict with the opposing person's speech. Instead, this group of people expand their thoughts of how the world works with keeping in mind interests of other countries and how they would react in "what if..." scenarios. For example, a topic that was brought up: What would happen if jet planes were made and used during WW1? The group was thus assigned different countries and carried on in story telling as if they were really apart of the scenario.

"Model United Nations is a really fun club. We get to learn how to expand our creativity levels and speak about nonsense at which we wouldn't really know if what we say would have actually happened," states Joesph Morris '13.

Leadership Classes

Clubs Not Featured

Writers Club, Key Club, State of EDM Club, & Yoga Club

Inside the leadership class at Armijo, there are also the four classes: Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior. These four clubs meet every Wednesday with their Advisers, Ms. Howell, Mrs.Harrington/Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Tomko, & Ms. Logan. These four classes are responsible for raising funds for all the fun events that each class has to put on each year. Throughout their freshman and sophomore years their main focus is fundraising for the major events they have to put on in their junior and senior years.Then in their junior year is the time to finally put on a big event. Their main focus that year is to plan, and put on prom. They meet with a prom coordinator to pick a location and a theme for the whole event. Prom can be a really expensive event to put on, but in the end the class actually uses it as a big fundraiser when they make profit from ticket sales! Then all the fundraising from throughout the years pays off when senior year the class puts on the many senior traditions on campus, such as Senior Sunrise, Senior Sunset, Senior Trip, Senior Gift, and Activities during the STAR testing week for the seniors. The classes are also responsible for putting on a skit at both homecomings and having a team for the powderpuff games. Aside from all the competition, they are all very close and each year the leaving senior class gives the incoming freshman class some money to help them start off their high school careers.

"ARMIJO on three ARMIJO on three 1, 2, 3 ARMIJO!!" The JV Men's soccer team always huddles before their games to get them pumped up.

Young, Skilled, and Ready

The JV Men's soccer team has been through a lot this year from losing players due to grades to losing players to concussions. This team is full of many young and skillful players. Most of the team is made up of mainly freshmen and some sophomores.

The trials and tribulations this team has gone through has made them a stronger team and has taught them to work through their struggles together, as a team. One of their biggest struggles was losing their goalie. Two players on the team who usually play on the field had to take one for the team and fill in for their goalie that they had lost. Even though the team had lost their goalie, those two players fulfilled that spot with the skills that they had been taught. Sure, they weren't as experienced as their old goalie, but they took those skills they had learned throughout their years of playing soccer to take over that spot.

The JV men's soccer team had a rough start but ended up working through it and finishing strong at the end of the season. The players on this soccer team are very dedicated and willing to go the extra mile to get that win that they want. The dedication shows on the players face when they play because you can tell they are very hard workers and they show the love they have for the game of soccer.

This team has worked very hard to get to where they have gotten to during this season. As this is only the beginning for most of these players, it means a lot to them to be able to be a part of this team and they wish to be able to keep playing on this team in years to come. They hope not only to improve as a team, but also as individuals.

1. Derrick Wadsworth '16 plays for the ball against a Napa player. He tried really hard and gave it his all.
2. Jason' Less '15 and Mitchell Nosbisch '16 both try to catch up with their opponent. Both players are hard workers and contribute a lot to the team.
3. The goalie, Alvaro Mendoza '15, drop kicks the ball down the field to his team mates. He had to step in for the goalie they lost at the beginning of the year.
4. Jason Hefner '16 defends the ball from the other player while gaining possession. He is a very dedicated player and enjoys soccer.

Stepping Up

The JV men's team had gone through a lot trials through their whole season. The team really worked hard to overcome their loses to the team. They worked together to help fill in those spots where they had lost players to grades and injuries. All together, the JV men's soccer team has come together as a family and has overcome many trials and tribulations.

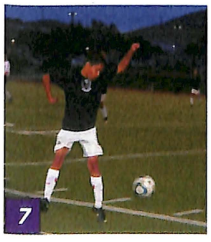

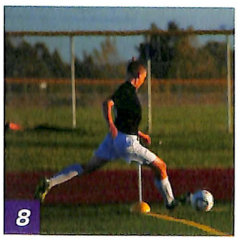

5. Drake Delorefice '16 steps in as goalie for the soccer team. Normally Drake doesn't play goalie but stepped up for the team.
6. Kicks are a vital part of a soccer game. This player shows his composure as he kicks the ball down field.

7. Daniel Cruz '16 tries to save the ball from going out of bounds. Cruz '16 hopes to continue to play for Armijo in the future years.
8. Derrick Wadsworth '16 kicks a very important corner kick. This corner kick was a crucial part for the team so they could score a goal.
9. Matthew Gumataotao '15 does a trick on the opposing team's player. He might be small but he is a very good soccer player.

One word that describes the Armijo Varsity Mens Soccer team: determination. These boys were determined to win every game they played so that that would be able to achieve the title of M.E.L. Champions for the second year in a row. However they faced some challenges when a few key players had to sit out due to injuries that ranged from concussions to pulled muscles. Luckily, there weren't any major injuries that caused any players to sit out the whole season.

The Armijo Indians faced a new challenge this year when Rodriguez entered their league and Fairfield High was switched to a different one. This caused Rodriguez to become the Indians now biggest in city rival. The boys were able to overcome this new challenge every game they played Rodriguez with the score board ending as 4-1 their first game, 8-1 their second game, and 5-1 their third game. Even though the first time the boys played Rodriguez they won, they never stopped putting in their all because they always wanted to make sure they would have a clear victory.

The boys played a magnificent this year, ending their season with 12 wins and only 2 losses which were both against Vintage High. Being the only team that was able to beat Armijo in League, Vintage is Armijo's top competitor. The Indians are determined to gain the same title of M.E.L. Champions next year but this time beat Vintage High.They also have the opportunity to play their biggest in city rivals, Rodriguez High, again and hopefully have the same turn out as they did this year.

Armijo was extremely happy about this year with winning M.E.L. Champions for the second year in a row and hope they can do the same again next year. It is always a goal to try and have no injured players so every player cane be healthy and ready to play all season so that they can accomplish this goal.

Ryan Riddle '13 carries the ball up the field and off of Indian territory. Having played for all four years, Riddle was a key team member in leading Armijo to M.E.L. Championships for the second year in a row.

1. Ryan Riddle '13 throws the ball in to another player. With Riddle's help in defense Rodriguez wasn't able to score any goals.
2. Josue Morales '13 defends a player from Merced. He was able to prevent a goal from being scored.
3. Jorge Zepeda '13 fights for control of the ball with a Merced player. After winning the ball, Zepeda took a shot on goal.
4. Team Captain, Jacob Less '14, does a great job of pushing his team up to offense. This was a great way to keep the ball off Armijo's side and prevent a goal.

Two is Better Than One

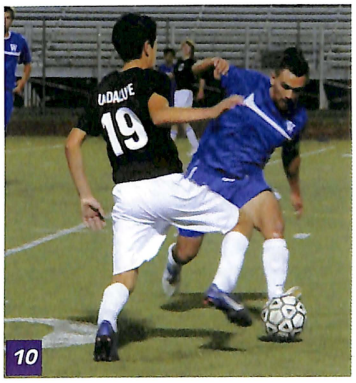

Although only a Freshman, Christian Diaz '16 was the top goal scorer for the Indians with 14 goals. However, Diaz was not able to do it all on his own. Each player on the team knew they had to work together to get the ball in the back of the opposing net which caused them to all work together. Most of Diaz's goals were scored off headers from corner kicks or throw ins which were mostly done by Trevor Flynn '13. With Flynn's accuracy and Diaz's determination, the two made an outstanding duo.

5. After Armijo beats Rodriguez, making them the M.E.L. champions, the team gathers around for a team photo. This was the second year in a row they earned that title.
6. Brian Rubio '14 and Zachary Horton '14 stand at the half line doing a Kick Off. In this game Armijo beat Will C. Wood.
7. Forward, Patrick Richards '13, sneaks up on a Merced player and takes control of the ball. The forward position was essential to the Indians as they scored _ goals, boosting them into the post season.

#1 in the League

8. Coach Brad Burzynski pulls Jorge Zepeda '13 aside during half time to help strategize for a victory. With the help of Coach B, the boys became League Champions for the second year in a row.
9. Javier Morales '13 takes the ball up the field for a shot on goal. Being a foreign exchange student, Morales was excepted onto the Varsity team and was a key player in advancing to the post season games.
10. Christian Diaz '16 goes head to head for the ball with a Will C. Wood player. Being the top goal scorer for the Indians, Diaz took the ball up the field and helped win the game for Armijo.
11. Michael Tong '14 and Jacob Less '14 are caught posing for a goofy picture. Although the team won M.E.L. Champions again, they had fun doing so.
12. Trevor Flynn '13 uses his body to get in front of a Rodriguez player to gain control of the ball. This is a good and effective way to be aggressive without fouling the opponent.

"Bump, Set, Spike!"

Throughout the whole season there was never a time, not once would someone not have a smile on their face. Everyone was always happy winning or losing, no matter what they always showed great outstanding sportsmanship with a smile. Hyper. Motivated. Wild. This season has also been tough for our team players. They have lost games but kept their heads up and hopes up for the next. They practice very hard but seem to not be more competitive than the teams they've played against. They are like family and, just like a family, look out after each other. They motivate each other to keep trying and never give up.

The coaches are very supportive as well; they have team spirit for their players and strive to coach the team how to be better. They do this in hopes that this year's experiences will help them better themselves and the team to get winning games. Some girls on the team are first year players, but along with that, there are also some girls that have been playing volleyball for more years.

"The energy from the crowd gives me more motivation on the court, I like it when the crowd goes wild for our team" Katie Halls '16 says after a game. To know that they have supporters all around them whether they win or lose is a great feeling. It makes the team feel that they are important.

"It really helps me when my teammates cheer me on, It makes me feel that we are more than just a team" Brittany Chudzinski '15 says during practice. During games it is nice to see teammates that are not playing guide the players that are playing and lead them to get a winning score. On practice days the team really enjoys hanging out with each other as a group and stay focused. They help each other improve on things they might need help on to make them better on their next game. They enjoy bonding with new players and also reuniting with old players. Before they have a game they do a lot of stretches and practice because "practice makes perfect" and practicing will help them loosen up during their game.

Now that the season is over they hope to move on to varsity next year and also hope there will be a lot of improvements and more winning games. JV volleyball's team goal for next year is to train themselves more and be more competitive to win more games. The team may have had a rough season but they are willing to do whatever it takes to have more victories and most of all have a winning season that they will always remember.

☑Work Hard, Play Hard!

Armijo Indians Volleyball team have a busy schedule on their hands and after a hard-working day at school they release that stress during practice and at games. The support that each girl provided just made the team even stronger. With Rodriguez High coming into the picture, Armijo was forced to be more competitive and work even harder than they ever had before, and it showed during their rough battles against each and every team that they faced. To keep up with their many competitive opponents, the girls had to want it bad and it showed. The strong desire for a win in their hearts and minds, the ladies knew they had to bring it and not let each other give up no matter what. There were moments of struggle and relief but this group brought it and did not hold back one single bit. The girls constantly cheered each other on and were able to hold their own for most games.

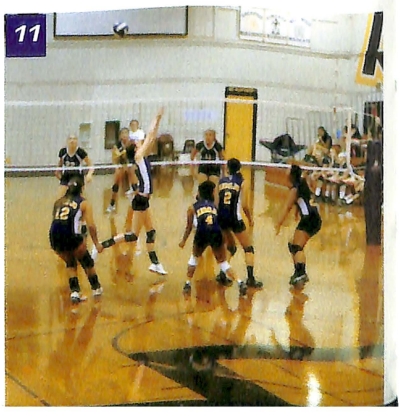

This team had ups and downs but picked right back up with no hesitation. Things that the girls did to improve was training with Coach Carly Perales during practice and doing different drills such as PEPPER. This drill is simply: Bump, Set, Spike with a partner while trying to keep the ball up while supporting your teammate with the proper pass and the proper set. Might seem simple, but one of the most important things to focus on is the basics.

To some of the girls the season went by quickly and to some not so much. All the girls had things on their minds but playing volleyball out there on the court kept things off their minds and gave them a chance to get all the dead weight off their shoulders, get on out there and handle business. The girls got their knee pads, tennis shoes, T-shirts, shorts, hair ties and went to work on the court. Whether it be practice or game time those girls were prepared. Eventually, with hard work came the point in time where it was too much work when a couple of girls dealt with injuries and needed the rest time, but that did not stop the Armijo Indians from doing damage while still being supportive like a family. Every team has had some rough times but the ladies can look back and realize how much they have improved and that no matter what obstacle, they can take it on. Practice the way you play and you will get the benefit of the doubt, no questions asked. At the end of the day the Armijo High School Varsity Volleyball team can check family support and hard work off of their list.

The Backbone

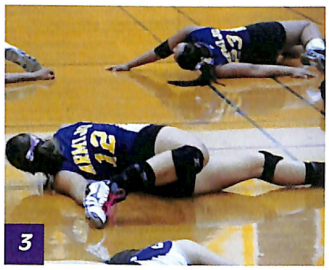

Jessica May Pamatian '14 kept the teams head up and never showed a single sign of negativity out on the court. What kept this girl going even during the most stressful moments on the court?
"I think it's important to have a positive attitude and keep going even if we lose. It's all about having fun and improving."
SPIRIT is a good thing to have during the game and practice. For Jessica the word has six strong words to it...

Support Positivity Improvement Radiance Influential Together

Finish Strong

One of the biggest and most notable achievements of this season's Cross Country team was the one involving sections. Last year, only one person made it to sections. This year, Armijo was represented by whole teams as well as individuals. The freshman boys, sophomore boys, and frosh/soph girls teams qualified, as well as Caleb Rounsavall '13 , BreAnna Overman '13, and Elisha Machado '13 as individuals. They all had great performances during their races. Some people beat their personal best time in that race. Others, like some of the sophomore boys and Kirah Overman '16, got medals for their good races. Having this many people qualify for sections brought excitement to the team and a positive outlook for the coming years.

From an individual winning a race to qualifying for sections as a team, the frosh/soph boys have a lot of accomplishments. They try to run with each other, which improves their abilities.

☑Crossing The Line

This season brought many new things to Armijo Cross Country, such as new people. Not only were there a number of new teammates, there was also a new coach. Coach David Monk came from Fairfield High to be Armijo's cross country coach.

Coach Monk had been coaching for many years, leading his teams to success. He brought that mindset and some challenging goals with him. He wanted to improve the team, help improve the talents of the team members, and qualify individuals and teams for sections. Those goals were met, and Coach Monk can check those off his list.

Those goals weren't easy to accomplish, however. It took days of workouts that targeted specific skills and strategies. It took dedication of the team. It took fighting past pain and discomfort. Coach pushed the runners to do their best. "I won't ever ask you to do something you're not capable of," he often said. "Are you going to let a bug in the eye stop you? Or will you run through a brick wall?" He would encourage the runners to make a plan and execute it to help them run better races. His voice could even be heard echoing throughout the race courses, for he never gave up encouraging his team to keep pushing till the finish line. Their plans and his motivation helped the team reach new levels. And he plans to keep the list of achievements growing.

Deeper Look

Lenora Quinonez opened with an 8-3 win over Napa's Corinne Tsai. She swept past Wood's Maddy Stark in the quarters, 6-2, 6-4, then held off Vacaville's Julia DePonte in this semis, 7-5, 7-5.

"I've got to move my feet. My coach keeps telling me that," Quinonez said.

"From an individual standpoint this is quite a surprise, and well-deserved on," Davis said about his star studded player Lenora Quinonez who well deserved to be in the finals this year.

☑ The Queens of Tennis!

The women's tennis team is an incredible, marvelous, remarkable team with awesome girls and wonderful coaches. Women's Tennis is one of the most successful sports at Armijo. You might not hear about Women's Tennis as much as you would hear about competitive teams like soccer, basketball, or football. Women's Tennis is one of the best sports Armijo has to offer. The coach also plays an important role in their great success.

Rain or shine, he doesn't ever cancel practices. He is constantly giving them tips on what they can do to improve their game. The girls worked so hard at practices and games. All this hard work really payed off in the end and it was that along with their determination and will that allowed them to take home that Monticello Empire League (M.E.L) championship.

The team always supports each other while other members are playing in their singles or double matches during game days. Even though the team has a very good winning record, ultimately, it's the player themselves who push their own selves to win every every match, and every game. Even when some of the girls weren't playing in the game, they would sit out on the sidelines and cheer on their team mates.

The team sticks with each other through thick and thin, winning or losing. It is easy to say that the Women's Tennis team's support, enthusiasm, and love for the game is what leads them to all their wins. All this plays a major role, since tennis can be a very individual sport. The team's closeness is what ties it all together in the end.

☑ Swimming With Luck!

The JV water polo guys start off the same every year with, "One...two...three... Armijo Pride" before each game! This chant gets the team pumped and ready to play their best. It didn't matter a win or a loss the guys kept their heads up. The coaches pushed the players to practice harder and put more effort in for the next game. A few key points the guys had to remember was keeping their heads up, staying alert and making sure they were listening for the next play. Whenever a goal was scored, the player who threw the ball was rewarded with chants from the fans and high fives from his teammates. This kept their spirits high for the whole season. The players pushed one another to work as hard as they possibly could. With practicing tremendous hours, the guys have grown a lot this season. Coming together as their own little family!

The guys were swimming with luck on their side, thanks to one of the coaches. Sean Kardos wore a specific pair of pants every game. These pants were supposed to bring luck t o the players. Sean showed the players he was not only a coach he was a part of the team. He supported them through a win or a loss. Having a special chant, piece of clothing or secret handshakes can bring spirits up in any team. It brings everyone together. This was one of the most touching highlights of the season. Not many coaches will wear one pair of pants a whole season. He showed the players dedication by wearing these pants. These pants helped the players believe in their coach, with him having dedication to these pants the players had to play their best every game.

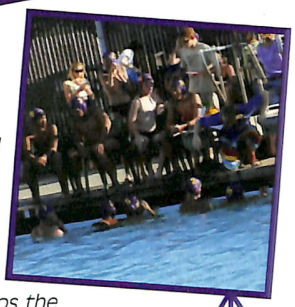

1. Charles Tralka looks around for a potential teammate to throw the ball to. It is extremely hard to do so when your opponent is so close, but these players were taught certain strategies to get out of these situations.
2. Zakery Chrest '15 uses all his force to throw the ball to his teammate before his opponent is able to reach him and snatch the ball from his hand.
3. Ryan Kardos '13 struggles to get the ball. He refers himself to Michael Phelps and in this moment he swam as hard as he could to reach it, with his long hours at practice and Michael Phelps- like talent he got to the ball before the rival team
4. Thomas Dawson '15 dodges his opponent's block and gets ready to get rid of the ball.

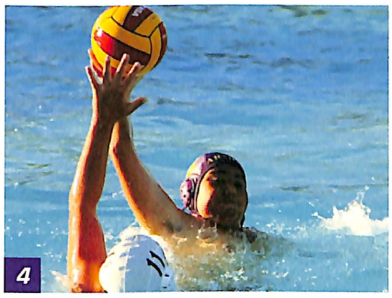

Our Little Family

Every team grows as their own little family. The JV Mens Water Polo team did not just grow as a family there were some players are related. There was a family inside the family that had grown. Sean Kardos the coach and Ryan Kardos a player are brothers. There are also twin guys on the team. Known as the Castro brothers or Nicki and Alex.

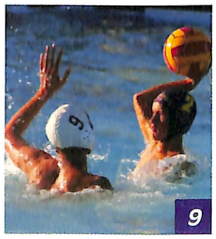

5. The Armijo JV Water Polo team gives good game high fives to one of their rivals with coach Sean Kardos at the end of the line making sure he also tells the opposite and his own team good game.
6. After making a block, team goalie Trent Baker '15 quickly finds a teammate on the offensive side to throw the ball to in hopes of getting the ball back to the other side of the pool.
7. The players huddle up to talk to their coach Sean Kardos, Always fashionable, wearing his multicolored pants, Kardos gives the players an encouraging speech before they get back into the water.

☑A Splash of Change!

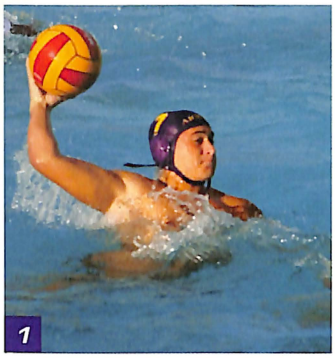

If you could sum up the season in one word what would it be? "Change" quoted Team Captain Eric Castro '13. No word could sum up the season nearly as accurate as the word CHANGE. This year the team had gone under many minimal changes such as tougher practices, and longer workouts, but the biggest change they had this year were the coaches.

Coach Sean Kardos '11 and Zach Peterson '12 were not only Armijo alumni, they were the new coaches of the men's varsity water polo team as well. Both of them are varsity water polo veterans and both of them have a true passion for the sport. The general consensus down by the pool is that with their help, they whipped the boys into winning shape. Not only did they improve their skills, but luck was on their side too with the help of coach Sean's "lucky pants" that had everyone on the pool deck talking. When asked what the new coaches' impact on the team was Ryan Lucas '13 said "They pushed us to new limits and implemented many new drills to make us better, faster, and stronger." By the looks of their victories and highlights of the season, the coaches did exactly that. Not only did the coaches bring upon change to the team but the players themselves saw that a change was needed for a successful season.

According to Ethan Wilsoncook '14 "the whole team put in 110 percent at every practice and dug deeper every time and were inspired to work harder and harder every practice." With extreme determination the boys went day after day and put in work every time. they got in the pool. This season everyone has shown such great improvement and they have proved that they truly earned their spot on varsity. Not only did they physically get stronger this year but the friendships and camaraderie grew stronger too. These boys aren't just team mates they're a family.This year all the hard work and dedication sure did pay off with a two year losing streak broken, two victories against Vintage, one victory against Rodriguez and fourteen satisfied water polo players. All in all at the end of the game, whether they win or lose,when every thing is all said and done, no one works harder than Armijo's Varsity Men's water polo team.

1. Cody Gonzales sets up and attempts to shoot a goal against Fairfield highs goalie.
2. Goalie Jonathan Beserra '13 stays alert and gets ready to block any shots coming his way!
3. Ryan Lucas '13 looks around to find an open team mate to pass the ball to.
4. Kevin Liu '13 makes a successful pass to his team mate just in time before a defender blocks him.

From Former Teammates to Star Coaches!

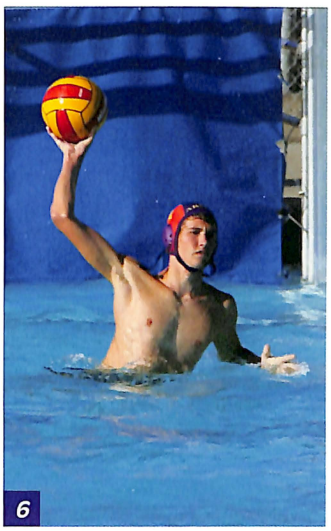

This year the men's varsity water polo team welcomed two brand new coaches! Sean Kardos '11 and Zach Petersen '12 were both former players for Armijo's varsity team, and now they get to pass on their skills and words of wisdom to the team. According to Gage Matiuzzi '13 " The new coaching staff made the team work hard and take practice seriously, which improved our playing and attitudes immensely."

5. Ryan Lucas '13 shoots the ball and makes his first goal ever. He had played soccer up until he tore his ACL, but that didn't stop him! Now he's making' goals in the water!

☑ Practice Makes Perfect

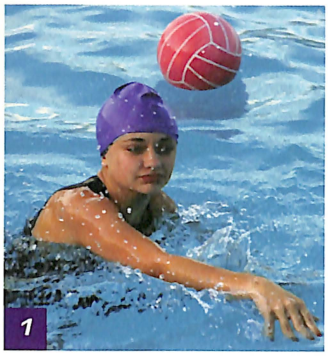

This 2012-2013 Junior Varsity Girls Water Polo Season has been a great one! The girls worked as hard as they could to get the best scores that they possibly could, and they did it. They tried their hardest and they succeeded at doing it. The girls practiced and practiced until they got comfortable with their team. Once they got out there and actually played, they showed how much effort they can possibly put into the game. They tried their hardest but also had fun in doing what they love the most. Some people may have their before-the-game rituals but these girls don't need rituals. Anybody can tell that they had luck on their side in the 2012-2013 season.

And where would these girls be without a few coaches to teach them the ways of Water Polo? These coaches are: Coach Charos, Coach Dahlin and Coach Peterson. Without the coaches, the Water Polo team wouldn't know how to set their arm or throw the ball, or how to communicate with their teammates when they want to throw the ball. And more importantly, they wouldn't have the guidance to know what to do.

But with the guidance of 3 great coaches, they had a pretty easy time figuring out the concept of communicating, and playing in the 2012-2013 Junior varsity Womens Water Polo Season.

1. Lacey Tomson '16 launches the ball to one of her teammates!
2. Alexis Dineen '16 throws the ball before the oppsite teammate could reach her.
3. Alexis Warner '15 struggling to get the ball while the player from the opposite team tries taking it.
4. Cassidy Anaya '16 throws the ball to a teammate who's close to the goal.

Miss Focused

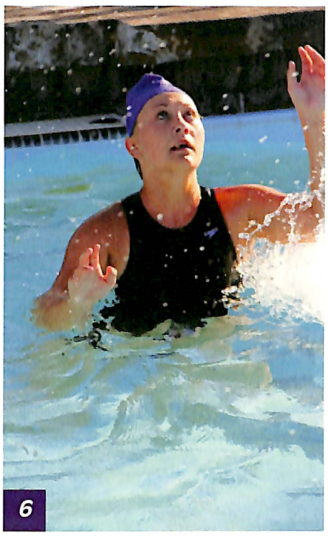

Alexis Warner '16 has focused a lot on this years 2012-2013 Junior Varsity Womens Water Polo team. She has been playing water polo for 2 years. She was interested in it because her friend told her it was really fun, and that she would like it. She says," We focused a lot on bonding as a team so we can communicate during games. But if I could change anything I would change the way the team was and how we barely bonded."

5. Alexis Warner '15 has thrown the ball once again to try to make a goal.
6. Candice Bryan '16 keeping her eye on the ball while a teammate just threw it to her.
7. Hallie Barnes-Butler '15 keeping the goalie protected while the opposite team tries making a goal.
8. Lacey Tomson '16 Just throwing the ball to her teammate so they can make a goal, and keep ahead of the other team.

9. Genevieve Zaghloul '15 looking for an open teammate to pass the ball to.
10. Hallie Barnes-Butler '15 looking out to whats happening in the game and making sure the other team doesn't score a goal.
11. Amy Marshall '16 about to score a goal for the team.

☑ #1 Thing

What is the most important thing to accomplish during a sports season? Is it winning a game or trying to score more goals then everyone else? Well, things like that always came second for this years Varsity Womans Water Polo team because to them, water polo was more than just a game. "The most important thing to me was making sure that I created a bond with all the players," says Vianey Miranda '13 as she remembers the season, "I wanted to make sure that we created a family by the end of the season," she explains with a smile on her face because she knew that they were able to accomplish this goal. Not only did they create a bond with each other but they were also able to create a bond with the other Armijo water polo teams.

The girls made sure that not only were they a team, win or lose, but that they were also always a family. By the end of the season the girls had nicknames for each other, sweatpants with Puffy paint signatures and hand prints on them and memories that would stay with them forever no matter what. Though they weren't able to check off everything on their list this year, they were still able to check off the # 1 Thing. . . Being a family. "I'm really proud of all the girls and the bonds that they have made," says Vianey '13.

Lauren Banks '14 gathers up all her strength for one powerful and skillful throw to the goalie. The girls always make sure to give it their all whether they are playing an intense game or just playing a practice game against each other.

2. "Huddle up ladies!" says coach Lacey as the girls prepare to scream their "Armijo Pride" cheer before the big game.
3. Vianey Miranda '13 races to the other side of the pool to protect the Armijo goal. Vianey, alongside Emily Eddy '13, helped lead the team as Team captain.
4. Emily Eddy '13 stretches for the ball during the Armijo home game versus Napa.

8. She Shoots! She Scores! Valeria Sandoval '14 practices her shooting skills during a team warm up before the big game.
9. Estefania Flores '14 pushes herself to keep swimming for the ball, before the other team gets it. Along with many other girls, this was Estefania's first year playing water polo.
10. Zhane Garlington '13 laughing and having a good time during the warm ups before their game.
11. Lucy Altman-Newell '13 prepares to throw the goalie a "Halo Shot" so that the goalie can get some practice blocking. A "Halo Shot" is an easy throw that is within the goalie's reach.
12. Andrea David '14 lunges, grabs on to and holds on to the ball tight while battling a Napa player. Though the girls didn't win that game, they made sure to finish off strong and with their heads held high.

TWINSIES!!

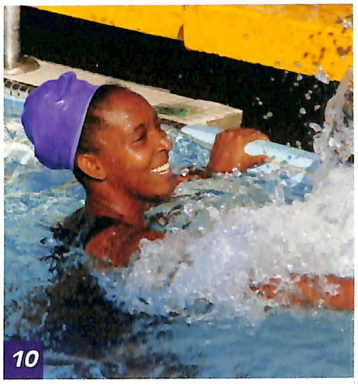

Matching sweatpants, clothes, hairstyles and bow! yep! This team has everything to make them look like complete "Twinsies" at their water polo matches but, how did this all start? It started with the coaches. The coaches, Lacey Dahlin and Alex Charos, decided that not only did they want to show off their purple and gold but they also wanted to match each other while they did it. This amazing idea spread to some of the players too, when the varsity captains, Vianey Miranda '13 and Emily Eddy '13 decided that they wanted to be matching buddies too.

5. Coach Lacey Dahlin and Coach Alex Charos walk behind their players and show their support by wearing Armijo colors. Lacey and Alex were both former Water Polo players here at Armijo.
6. Hanna Lawson '14 takes down the Vintage player and shoots for a goal during the Home game versus Vintage. Hanna was one of the most valuable players on this year's team.
7. Alexa Carballo-Carrion '14 searches for an open teammate and prepares to throw the ball before the time runs out.

Senior Night!

Hanna Vigil '13 swings for the green, to set herself up for the easy put. Hanna was in the main group of people that struggled to make this new team at Armijo happen, so she will leave a legacy behind when she graduates.

☑The Start of a New Beginning

Although it's a new addition to the sports teams at Armijo the Women's Golf team had a surprisingly good year for how many players joined the team. This year, to the players and coaches it wasn't to play to win but to play to have fun. For most of the team it was their first year ever to play this sport competitively.

With this being Armijo's first ever Women's Golf team they didn't have a lot to live up to. The girls main goal this year was to create this team with a good respective atmosphere that everyone on and around the team could enjoy. This season was just an insight of what is to come in the next years to Armijo.

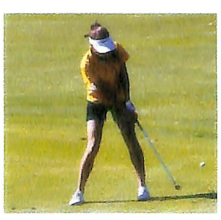

This first time playing team represents this school and comes to show that something can be created with commitment, effort, and a great attitude. If this program continues to develop there is no telling how far and big the feature teams could become. With the help of Mr. Harrison (coach) and Ms. Logan (coach) and the time they took out of their day to push these select few ladies to the best of their abilities, they can now showcase each and every part of their talent to get this team further.

Now that this season has come to an end for these girls, they leave behind a legacy for others to follow. Not many people can say they were apart of a first year team, and that they had a major part in getting it to happen. With this being a young program it only leaves room to grow. Hawa Naimzada '13 says "thought it would be fun being able to be apart of a first year sport. It was also a great way to start my senior."

This year the team could all agree and say the season could have gone better, but what happened in the past can't change, so now what the next year players have to do is look forward and keep progressing.

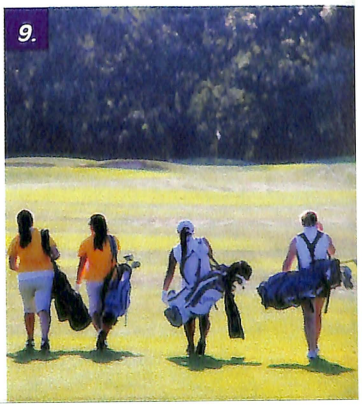

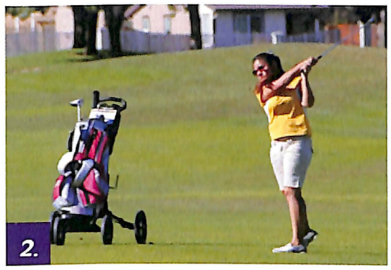

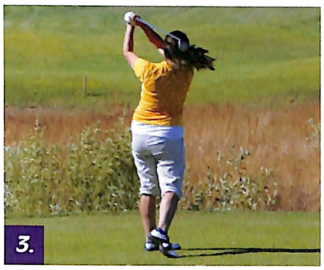

That's a Long Drive!

1. Hanna Vigil '13 and Leeza Oyoung '13 pose for a picture after winning the fourth hole against Rodriguez in their home opener.
2. Sofia Brayton '13 on her third shot aims and lands on the green. Soon after she met back up with Hawa Naimzada to help each other out with some pointers and how to improve their game.
3. Hanna Vigil '13 tee's off on the third hole. Later sinking the put for a par three.

8. Sofia Brayton '13 Lines up her shot to get on the green for a short put. She explained "no matter the end score of the matches she will have enjoyed hanging out with friends and the memories they will share."
9. Being the first two to finish their match Hanna Vigil '13 and Leeza Oyoung '13 hope that the rest of the team can pull up from the rear and finish with a victory.

Deeper Look

Looking deeper into this first year golf team is was an unique way of how it started. The women's golf team was created by players on this team with a similar goal to start something new and something they enjoy to do. With out the help of Mr. Harrison and Ms. Logan none of this would have been possible. They showed they really cared about this school by putting their own time into making this new team happen.

4. Hawa Naimzada '13 barely misses sand trap from her tee off. She then swings for the fairway landing her ball only three feet from the green.
5. Leeza Oyoung '13 At practice practicing her long ball.
6. Hanna Vigil '13 in the middle of the sixth hole attempts to reach the green to put her team up for the lead. They didn't win the match but came very close because of Hanna's efforts.
7. Ericka Houk '14 almost goes out of bounds but manages to put the ball back on the fairway. She was battling the flu while playing this match which explains why she didn't do her best.

Daerion Spencer '16 jukes Fairfield High and continues down the field in order to make that touchdown against former league main rivals, Fairfield High School.

☑ Compete to Compete

For JV football at Armijo, the team didn't have high hopes for playing any sports this year due to the "no sports scare" in the school district. So the team kick-started a fundraiser by selling beef jerky to pay for the necessities to play. Many people saw the team selling jerky to friends, family, school mates, anybody to raise the money. And before the season started, they raised enough money.

A great number of the team was disappointed by the win/lose streak, but the team played with integrity, power, and confidence. A highlight of one of the games was Armijo's runningback Bryon Hill '15 making an interception at the Davis game, and the crowd grew ecstatic.

All teams have ups and downs, but Armijo played hard and put up a good fight. The team was determined to play rough and that's exactly what they did. Offensive and defensive linemen Kris Elkin '15 said, "I felt okay but I think most of the team was mad. I did good as an individual so I feel good about myself". The players knew they were coming into a tough season, and so they had to work extra hard during the practices to compete during the games. The team practice tons and tons of drills, different maneuvers, and plays to play their best during their games on Friday night.

New League Rivalry

More Than Just A Name

Mateo Armijo has more than just a name, he shares the name with the school! He doesn't know if there is any direct relation to the school's name but he thinks it's a cool name to have.

4. Trevor Lewis '15 and the Armijo defense runs to tackle and stop Antelope High from advancing.
5. Michael Donald '16 and Kris Elkin '15 walk back to the scrimmage line and prepare themselves for another play.
6. Daerion Spencer '16 pelting the ball down the field.
7. Armijo's defense works together to hold back the Napa High School offense for one last play.

8. Bryon Hill '15, who played as one of two of the running backs, sprints down the field, past the Fairfield High School defense, during their first scrimmage game of the year.
9. Dae'rion Spencer '16 tucks the ball away safely to prevent a fumble from occurring.
10. Thomas Weisz '16 kicks the ball as hard as he can after a turn over. Thomas '16 played multiple positions which included the Quarterback and the kicker.

Not Ashamed

Some of the boys on the team like to lean back on their faith before and after their games. One player in particular is Jairon Gacosta '13. On the first home game Gacosta put a Bible verse on his new spats. He says "I put Romans 1:16 because it tells me I shouldn't be ashamed of what I stand for or who I serve...Whatever happens on the field on Friday night is God's will. He is in control of whatever happens in my life so I know I'm in good hands as long as I serve Him...What makes me so strong is what He did for David against Goliath. David was so much smaller than Goliath, just like me and the opposing team, so I know that if I stick to my faith I'll be alright." Captain Toeta Elise '13 said after their last game, "Jairon made me cry before the game, he asked if he could say a little prayer for the team and the things he said, I had tears already coming down, so I gave him my spot in front of the line to lead us out to the field." Gacosta says the team is pretty strong in their faith. He likes to lead the team in prayer before they take the field and they enjoy it. He says "they even ask me to do it because it's something that brings us together as a team."

1. Brian Weisz '13 gets ready to throw the ball through the air in order to complete a pass. Although Armijo isn't known for being a passing team, when Weisz throws the ball, all eyes follow.

2. Right guard Danny Charos '14 stands up Napa's defensive lineman preventing him from stopping Armijo's ball from moving to get their first down.

3. Damian Simpson '13 pushes to pick up some more yards. By the end of the season he racked up a total of 1,051 yards, breaking his own personal record.

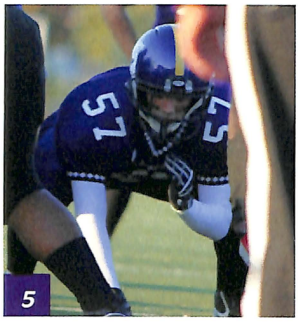

4. If anyone's good at stopping a ball from being ran, it's Taz Udell '13. This 3rd-year varsity defensive player's vicious drive and positivity is what keeps not only him, but also the team going.

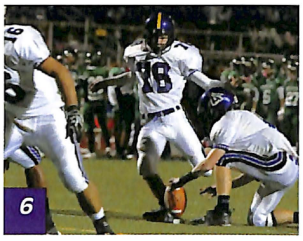

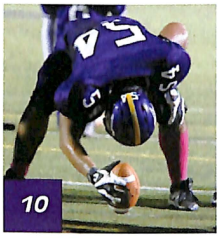

5. Left guard Chance Udell '14 locks in his position ready to block anyone from getting through his o-line. Although Udell was a first-time varsity player, he started in 8 games.

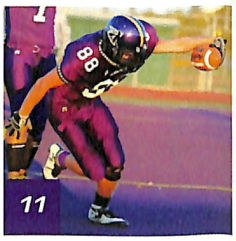

6. Wyatt Greives '14 gets ready to kick the ball for a field goal attempt. Being a previous soccer player, Greives found a home as Armijo's new kicker.

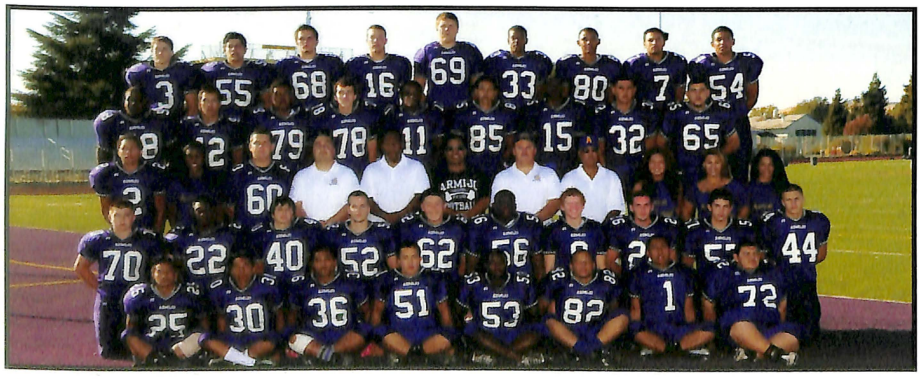

7. Greg Forkes '14 and Danny Charos '14 take on their Rodriguez opponent making him lose grip of the ball and fumble it.

1st Row: Jairon Gacosta, Cristian Hernandez, Jordan Rozul, Jeffrey Blackman, Derrick James, Andre Johnson, Darien Espiritu, Rudy Dominguez

2nd Row: Danny Charos, DeMario Penton, Caleb Lally, Brad Nilsen, Lucas Ang, Anthony Spann, Brian Weisz, Damian Simpson, Chance Udell, Greg Forkes

5th Row: Gaelan Kamin, Christian Marmolejo, Taz Udell, Jacob Chauvin, Ryan Crone, Joshua Toney, Miles Thompson, Enrique Garrido-Ramirez, Toeta Elise

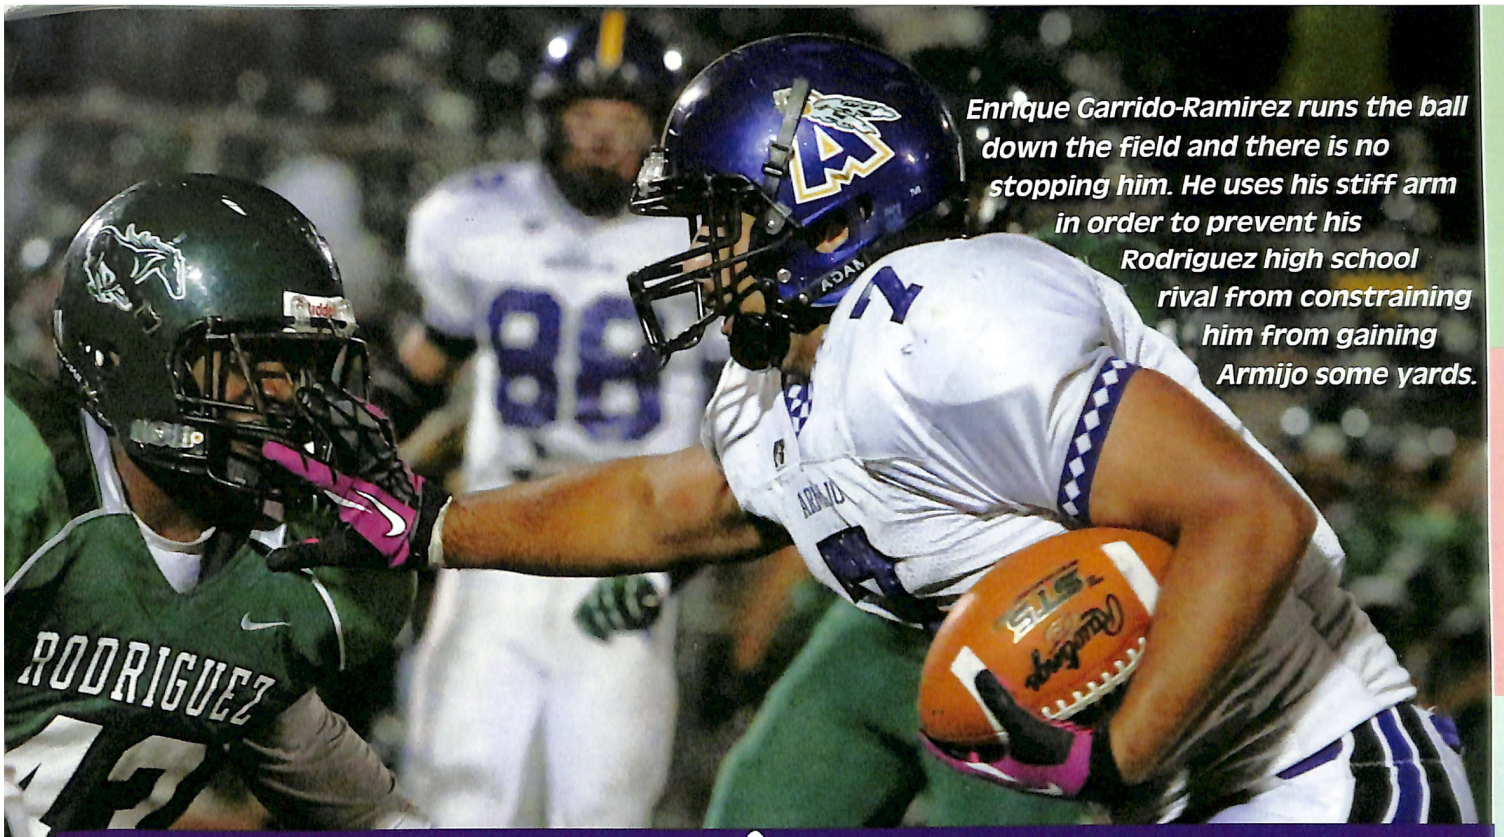

8. Runningback Jairon Gacosta '13 runs the ball down the field leaving Armijo with only a few yards to get a touchdown. Although his injured knee stopped him from being very active throughout the season, Gacosta gave it his all in his last game, leaving everyone on the field and in the stands breathless.

9. Jacob Chauvin '13 tries something new this year and it pays off. Running the ball through the field and dodging his opponent as he does so, he is able to gain yards for Armijo.

10. Toeta Elise '13 gets ready to spike the ball going for the field goal after making a much-wanted touchdown.

11. Wide receiver Dylan Beck '13 has his own idea of a celebration dance. He "flies" into the end zone making a touchdown and makes a nice "airplane" impersonation. It is easy to say this is one player that truly enjoyed himself on the field.

12. Jordan Rozul '13 is not one to give up easily. As his opponent grabs on to him, Rozul stays running the ball with drive and determination.

Enrique Garrido-Ramirez runs the ball down the field and there is no stopping him. He uses his stiff arm in order to prevent his Rodriguez high school rival from constraining him from gaining Armijo some yards.

☑ Starting Again

Rebirth. This word pretty much sums up the entire season for the varsity football boys. From having a completely new head coach, to having a new starting quarter back, to having to deal with new injuries in key players, this year was filled with surprises.

After an emotional year with head coach Toliver in the 2011 season, the team was struck with the sudden news that he would no longer be with them. Being late in the year, the players didn't know what to expect or how to react; they just kept doing what they were doing and hoped for the best.

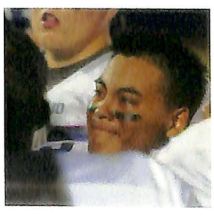

With no sign of a new coach, the players grew more and more anxious, but as summer came, they were finally able to meet their new head coach, Coach Finley. Coming from a completely different city, and not having any previous experience with the boys, Finley decided to take matters into his hands. He started a new way of working, from the way of coaching, to the plays, both defensively and offensively, to the boys' behavior on the field. "I think at first we were feeling shaky about Finley, but as the year went on, we learned how to work with him" says defensive lineman Nile Celaya '13. Not only was the team forced to be closer together, but they also learned new things. Captain Taz Udell '13 says "I think as a team we dealt well with the new coaches. It kind of made us realize we need to depend on each other to get better because these new coaches didn't know our capabilities individually. It brought us all together as a family, and personally, I counted on the team a lot to get me through practice...we encouraged each other a lot and we all learned lessons that will help us in life, not just football." It was hard for the players to adjust at times, while also letting go of old traditions, but the team did a good job of holding each other together. Overall, QB Brian Weisz '13 says "I feel like getting a new coach so late into the summer and being able to learn as much as we did in that short amount of time, we had a pretty good season. Even though the score didn't show it, our team played pretty well every game. Being the QB was exciting and also humbling because it's pretty hard to keep your composure and not only worry about what I'm doing but also to be able to command the other 10 players as well."

With these changes also came a roller coaster of emotions. Certain key players were injured and weren't able to play a during a majority of the games. However, this is also where we saw a lot of players really step it up and give a new hope to their fans.

Although cross-town rival Fairfield High was no longer in the MEL, Armijo couldn't have taken this game any more serious. They stomped their way through the afternoon, winning the intra-city trophy for the season! Not only did this bring pride to the team, but also to the raging fans. Captain Udell '13 says that even though Armijo didn't have the best season, he is proud to be an Indian, "I can honestly say I will miss playing football, my team, and more than anything, those Friday night lights..."

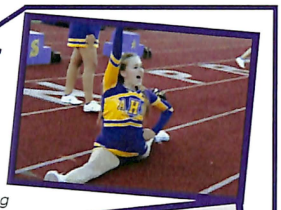

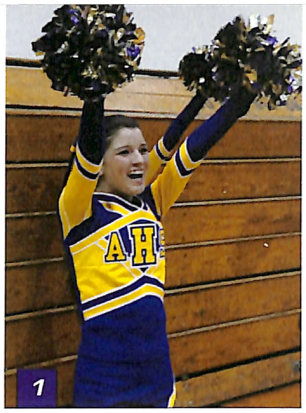

Stretching the Limits

Within the sport of cheerleading, being flexible is a necessity. To be able to do different jumps and cheers, the squad must work to get as flexible as possible. This helps to improve the height and overall look of the jump. The girls on the team stretch together every day at practice in order to improve their range of flexibility.

Even through all of their work, some girls on the squad are exceptionally flexible. Rachel Harrison '16 says she did a lot of stretching to help make herself more flexible. Rachel says she did many different stretches almost every day, like wall stretches, nylon stretches and worked on her splits. She said stretching was "super painful at times" but said it was worth it in the end. Rachel and Brittany Campbell lead the team with their exceptional flexibility and showed the squad that with hard work and dedication, they could accomplish any goal.

1. Merrissa Rios '16 is all smiles as she leads the JV squad during basketball season. Merrisa was one of two captains this year.

2. The squad huddles up to do a cheer before their halftime performance. Many of the girls would agree that performing new dances every week is definitely a highlight of being a cheerleader.

3. The girls on the JV squad cheer in perfect unison, which is essential to cheerleading. The squad practices about six hours a week to work on being perfect.

4. Alayna Portugal '15 claps and cheers to pump up the crowd at a football game. Alayna said that her favorite memory of the season was marching the halls for spirit marches.

5. The girls are all on time and dance full out during a halftime performance on the basketball court. The squad always managed to get work done at practices, while making many memories and having fun together.

6. The flier of a stunt group goes into a handstand before getting lifted into the air. This year, JV went to Aerials Gym in Vacaville to learn new impressive stunts to add into their halftime performances.

8. Sonya Zawaideh '15 is tossed into the air during a basket toss by her stunt group. Being a flier in cheer requires a lot of skill and trust in the team to not be dropped.

9. Haley Adam '16 cheers at her first football game, saying it was "exciting and fun!"

10. Tessa Williams '16 shows off her Armijo pride with high energy and big smiles.

11. Rhianah Holt '16 adds some attitude to her dance during a halftime performance.

12. The JV Cheer squad yells loudly to pump up the crowd and rally the football team to victory.

☑ Learning to Lead

The Junior Varsity cheer squad was all about new experiences this year. With over half of the team being new members of the team, the coaches and captains had a lot of work to do to make sure that every girl was prepared to be a great cheerleader. Though they weren't able to attend cheer camp at UC Davis like in past years, the squad still practiced frequently over summer to learn dances, cheers, and stunts that they would need to know once football season started.

Practices were long and usually tedious, but the girls always found a way to have fun at them. Some of the girls said that they enjoyed practices because they could bond as a team and make many memories throughout the season. Alayna Portugal '15 said that JV was special this year because "we were all close with each other and we would always have lots of fun". She liked being a cheerleader because it allowed her to bond with girls that she might have not known if it wasn't for cheer.

Cheering at football and basketball games is always fun for the girls, as they help control the spirit and energy for both the crowd and the team while playing. They have an up-close view of the games and have to choose cheers that go along with what is happening in the game.

Even with having such a young squad, the girls always made the best of all of their time together, improving their personal abilities and bettering the team as a whole. The girls had a lot to learn but they never gave up and proved to be successful. Whether it was cheering on the football or basketball teams, or even being in the stands during the Varsity, the JV squad always lead Armijo in showing their school spirit and encouraging the team to win their games.

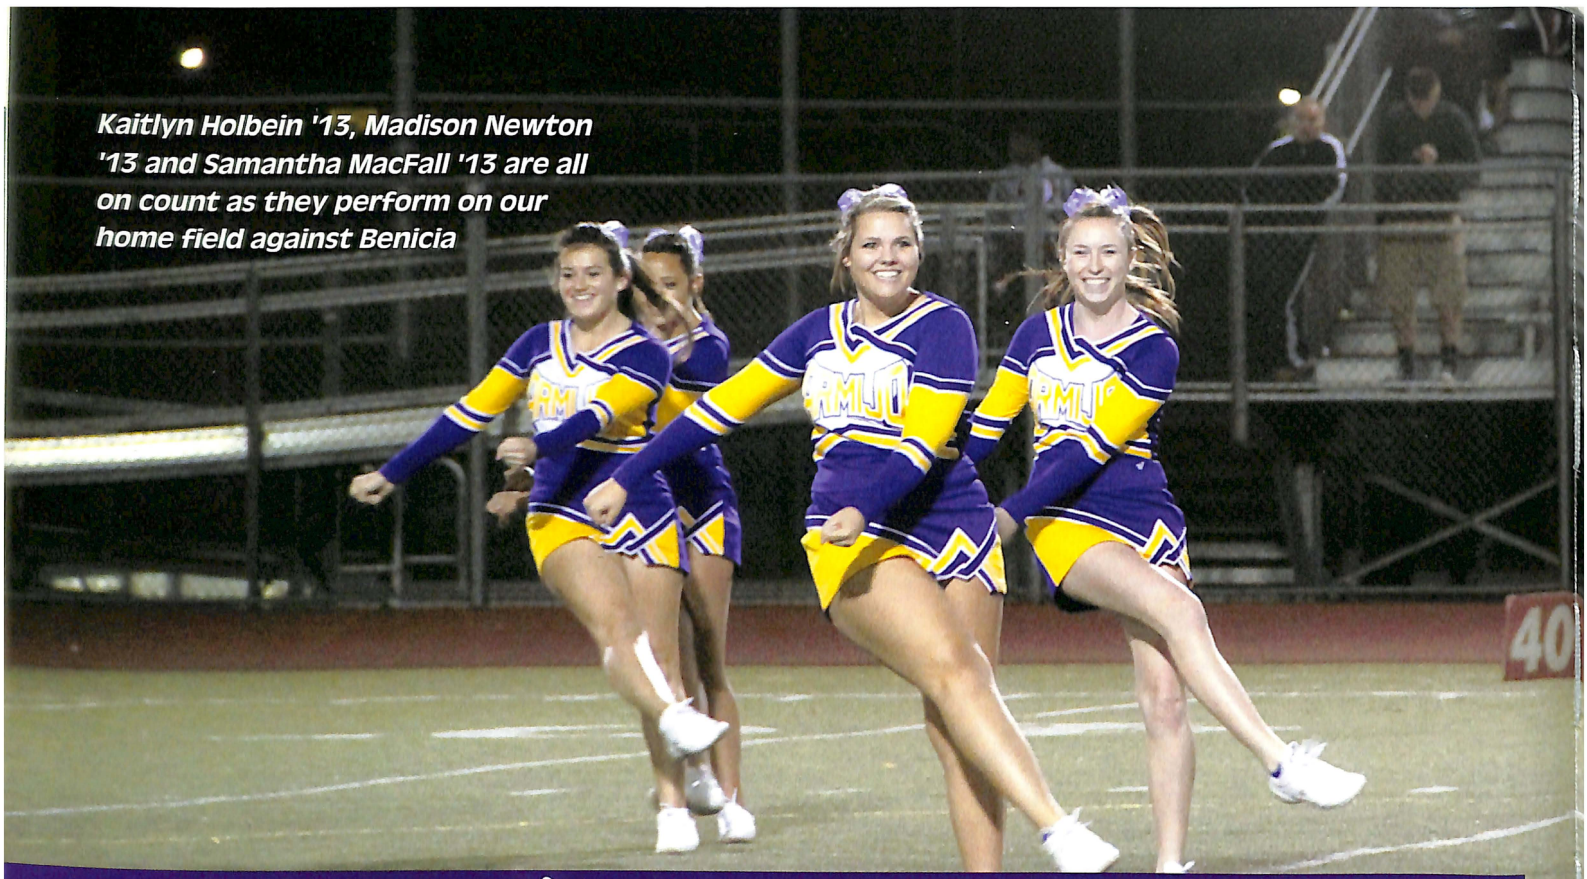

Kaitlyn Holbein '13, Madison Newton '13 and Samantha MacFall '13 are all on count as they perform on our home field against Benicia

The Hearts of Spirit

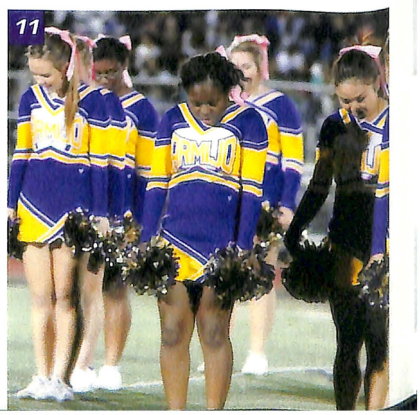

One word that describes the cheer season this year is progress. The cheerleaders believe that this year was a big improvement compared to other years. "Out of my four years of being on the team this year was my favorite. I had fun being a captain and I'm proud of the team for improving in stunting and half time performances. We also bonded more as a team" Samantha MacFall '13 stated when asked what her thoughts were about this year.

As Samantha stated the team bonding was a big deal this year. The team bonded during practices, like doing exercises that helped with teamwork and to overcome obstacles together. One activity that they did during practice was they got into a circle, held hands and had to climb through a tire while still holding hands. The team also had two major bonding sessions at Madison Newton '13 home. At the beginning of the season the girls made bows and had a pizza party and the last bonding time was for fundraising. They made tamales by hand with the help of coach Macias.

The Cheer team funds itself, the school does not give funds to the team. The girls put on fundraisers like the tamale fundraiser previously stated, they sold nail polish stickers and they also put on a pancake breakfast at Applebees.

The team also got new uniforms this year, the team chooses new uniforms every two years. Jv and Varsity both get new uniforms but they differ in style. The captains and coach Macias choose the uniforms for the girls.

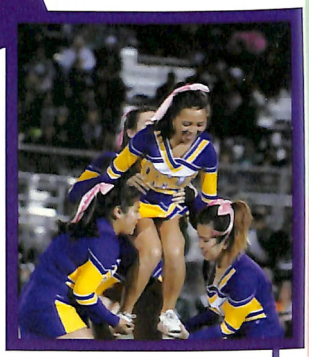

1. The girls perform one of their many great halftime performances. During basketball season, the girls need mats to do their stunts to prevent the girls from getting hurt.
2. A group photo of the Varsity Cheer Team during football season, looking like a happy family.
3. Valerie Kimbrough '14 and Shavasia Jahi '13 keep their smiles throughout the whole time performing.
4. During the basketball season, the varsity girls being silly during a break between cheers.

Hard Work Pays Off for Cheer

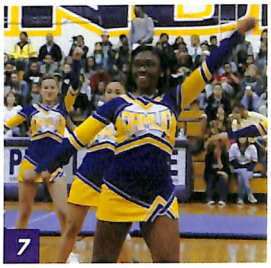

This year not only did the team practice after school on campus, the girls practiced on weekends at the SWAT all stars gym. They were taught how to properly stunt and also learned dance from the SWAT all stars cheer coach. The team stunted with a brand new stunt group and there was a total of five stunt groups through out the year. The four flyers were Briana Belluomini '13, Janessa Jones '14, Mercedes Shute '14 and Caryssa Brandt '13.

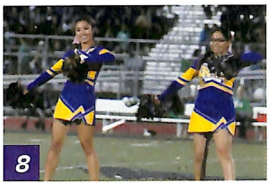

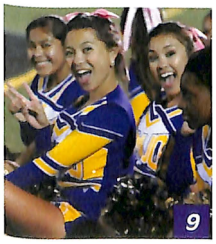

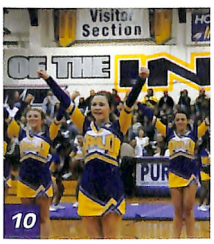

5. Before a half time performance the Junior Varsity and Varsity girls circle up and perform a cheer to wish the varsity girls good luck.
6. Aiko Kato '13 is in the middle of the cheer "you don't want no purple and gold, you don't want none".
7. Kajanae Walton '13 struts her stuff during a half time performance. She was one of four captains this year.
8. Janessa Jones '14 and Kiara Lam '13 do the only half time performance with pom-poms. this game was against RHS.

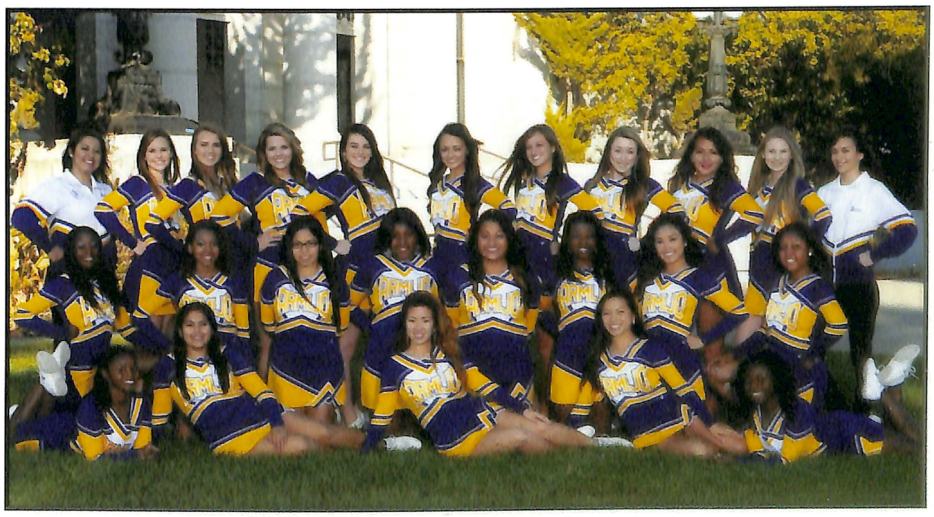

9. Caryssa Brandt '13 , Miriam Ramirez '13 and Janessa Jones '14 strike a pose as they wait excitedly to perform their half time performance at their last football game of the season.
10. Briana Belluomini '13, Kristina Owens '13 and Alex Knott '13 perform while the stunt groups stunt behind them.
11. The girls are about to perform their half time performance at Rodriguez High School during Armijo's last football game of the season.

Practice makes Perfect

This year the JV Men's Basketball team focused on not only winning the games, but making sure each player gained the skills they need to know to become a great basketball player. The JV team practiced every day for several hours throughout their season. They focused on teamwork and gaining basic and advanced basketball skills that they will need to know as each player continues to go further in their basketball careers. The players of the JV team plan on moving forward to play for the Armijo Varsity Men's Team. By focusing on gaining their chore skills they will make it there with no trouble at all, hopefully leading our team to become MEL champs like the 2013 Men's Varsity Basketball Team.

1. Armijo's players Antone Broussard-Carter '16 and Isaiah Stewart '15 await the ball as it falls for the rebound.

2. Player number 24, James Ledoux '16 jumps up to try and swat the ball away from the opposing player from Dixon.

3. Number 10 from our Armijo JV team, D'Mario Johnson '15 reaches up high to dunk the ball during the game against Rio Linda High School..

4. Team member number 33, Jordan Allen '16 prepares to take a free throw shot. It's very difficult to keep completely focused during a free throw shot because of all the distractions from the crowd and surroundings.

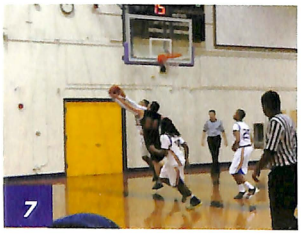

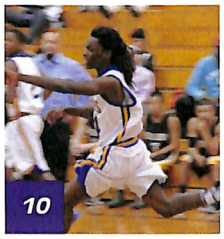

5. Player number 10 D'Mario Johnson '15, on offense, tries to keep the ball from the opposing player from the Rio Linda team.

6. Christian Diaz '16, number 14 on our team jumps up high with a player from Dixon to get the ball to Armijo's players.

7. Number 33, Jordan Allen '16 fights to grab the ball from the opposing player as the ball leads off court.

☑ First Time Around

This year the 2013 JV Men's Basketball Team had its ups and downs with a season record of 12 wins and 12 losses, including their preseason. Each game the players of the JV gave it their all, putting in all their effort wanting to win every game. The players at Armijo have compassion and love for the game they play, which was demonstrated on the court as they fought to win their games. Their effort paid off because the players gained many skills and learned many lessons that they will use as they move to go to the varsity team.

The JV team worked very hard and became very close to each other. They shared many memories together as their season went on. Teammate Divontay Lebria '16 said his favorite memory this season was, "how me and my teammates all got along", and his favorite thing about the team was "how our coach was a real boy!".

When Divontay's teammate Antone Broussard-Carter '16 was asked what his favorite thing about the 2013 JV team he said "I enjoyed hanging out with my teammates." His best memory this year was "winning the tournament in Dixon.". As the team spent so much time together throughout the season the boys became like a small family. They learned to trust each other and count on each other. They shared many bonding experiences they will never forget. The experiences they have push them to love the game more. The players are so fortunate to have all the support they have from their friends and family.

At Armijo the students and parents love basketball and come to support their games.The support the players get from their peers and family members really motivates them to play the game they love. Their friends and family enjoy watching the game as much as they do playing it!

Performing Under Pressure

The ability to perform professionally under pressure is one of the most desired skills and qualities of being a successful basketball player. Mr. Perales always addressed the fact that not all of the players will be able to perform successfully under pressure. "Stress is not created by the situation but in how the players look at it and handle it." explained Mr. Perales. The exact moment the boys need to maintain their mental toughness. Pressure was created not by the game situation, but how they handle it. Being a high school basketball player requires that you not only deal with pressure, but to thrive under the stress of competition. The men's varsity basketball team worked on preparing themselves to perform under pressure which took focus and practice. The Men's Varsity always worked on their mental game just as much as their physical game. This season was probably one of their most successful seasons that they've probably achieved in years. Throughout the season, they strive for the desire of success to be capable of making it to the championship. The Men's Varsity knew that they had a point to prove and success to achieve, they didn't ever let discouraging comments get in their way of accomplish their desired goals that they already knew was achievable.

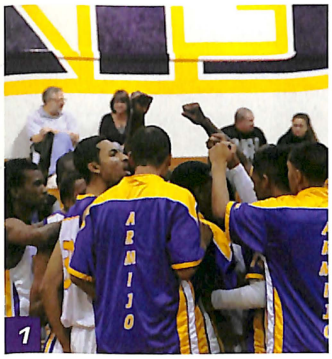

They've reached the top of the high school basketball roller coaster. At the halfway point, it's nothing but better success to overcome within the next years. However, that doesn't mean there won't be more twists and turns to maneuver in the rest of their regular seasons. The Men's Varsity has came a long way, they've not only grown as a family but a bond of brothers in brotherhood together in a wonderful bond that no other team at any other school has. As a team they've went through wins and losses, and still after every game still hold HUGE smiles on their faces whether it was wins or loses. "My boys never quit, we always play as hard as we can to the very end." team member Tyree Carrie quoted. The Armijo Men's basketball team had a very promising and surprising year during the 2012-2013 seasons. They finished with a 7-3 record in the league, with victories from Rodriguez High & Fairfield High. A lot of hard work, sweat and effort were put into each game. With leading scorers, Hosea Barfield '13, Troy Anderson '13, Terris Brooks '13 and Davontre Thompson '13 being seniors, next season will require many of the other returners to the challenge of putting points on the board for the Indians.

The Stretching Techniques

This year the men's varsity basketball team started this season off by stretching before every game. Terris Brooks '13 and Joshua Bryson Lumpkins '14 were both the main two players know stretching literally before all their games for at least about 10 to 15 minutes, they're the reason why almost half of team started following this new trend. This was a great trend that led them all to success throughout season.

☑ Bringing The Heat

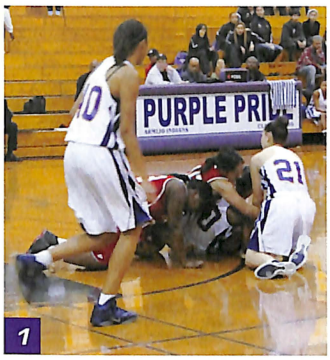

"We must all suffer from one of two pains: the pain of discipline or the pain of regret"- Coach Monk. Despite not having the same coach as last year the Indians still had a great season. In fact they had a better one. With the great discipline of Coach Monk, the Indians came together quite well. Having an overall record of 17-7 they learned many things throughout the season. With leadership from Destiny Blueford '16 and Azanae Lewis '16, they helped control things at practice and in the game. Having a team with almost a perfect balance of freshmen and sophomores everyone one the team each had their own role and were expected to play it. With many players suffering injuries at different times, the Indians were still able to have others step up in others positions and fill their shoes.

As Imani Jones '15 stated "I appreciate and love my teammates and I'm glad that we shared this experience together," many teammates became more as a family and shared a lot of memories together. A lot of them learned how to become better players and realized that hard work is needed to become successful. Awa Diop '16 thinks that "it was a great season for learning and improving, I also had a lot of fun with my team." The Indians will have some returners for next year but some will be moved up to varsity since they will be in 11th grade. With the talent they have they still should have a great season and look forward to being even better next year. As long as the girls work hard during the off season it shouldn't be a problem. "We are young but we are getting it" Destiny Blueford '15 says. She feels that although being young they can still be great and achieve a lot. The Indians will have to prepare for another hard season. With having Coach Monk as a coach they shouldn't have a problem.

Coach Monk works very hard with the girls, he really gets on them, and helps them understand the reason discipline is needed. The Indians aren't just athletes they are also students in the classroom. A handful of them take I.B. classes. Grades are really important and they are encouraged to do well in the classroom. They try to maintain a great grade point average. This will all lead up to them getting ready for next year. In the end, when the Indians return back next season they will need to follow up on what they have started.

This season has been extremely great. Whether they be home games or away games, they always had their "head in the game" and won. These girls have really been working hard to get where they are now. Each day they get better and better. Having coach Stoll by their side teaching them, guiding them to be the great players they have become now. When some players were asked how they thought this season went, Marshanique Hall answered "It feels great to two-peat and three-peat in the M.E.L. and to be the first team to do it." Kianna Simms said "I've been playing basketball with my team since the 5th grade. Its amazing how far we have gotten as a team. They are my family and wouldn't trade them in for the world." The team always cheer each other on no matter if they loose or win the girls kept their head up and did better the next game. Most seniors say that even though they're not going to be on Armijo's team that they are going to college to continue basketball. Wish them luck! They are the champions of 2012-2013 womens varsity basketball at Armijo High School. We hope to see the juniors next year.

Dedication

Colby on 3! Colby on 3! 1, 2, 3, COLBY! This is a cheer that Colby Hatfield '14 would always hear before starting a match. Colby has been wrestling for three years and looks forward to wrestling next year. Colby has improved his skills a lot this year and it reflects on the coaching ability of Coach Correa. "Coach is always telling us that to be a better wrestler, you need to be committed to the team. Wrestling is an individual sport but as a wrestler you rely on your team to support you and pump you up." After every match Coach Correa always talks to the wrestlers and helps them to improve their skills with suggestions. Colby and his teammates are very fortunate to have such an invested coach.

☑ Taking Control of the Mat

The 2012-13 Wrestling season was more than just a race for the title, it was an experience that resulted in a large amount of improvement for most of the JV wrestlers. This season, there was a lot of incoming freshman and underclassmen. Armijo had a great season this year, but because of the large amount of incoming freshmen and underclassmen this year, next year will bring an even better season for the JV team. Joining the wrestling team your freshmen year means you will have a few years to improve and benefit the team. The wrestlers' hard work every day after school in the small gym with Coach Correa definitely payed off with such a successful season. Caleb Lally '14 says "This season has been a great season for Armijo. We've had a lot of close matches and a solid team this year." Caleb Lally '14 also mentions that Coach Correa is a an excellent coach and in result, he has improved his wrestling skills a lot.

Wrestling is different from other sports at Armijo in a sense that the "JV" and "Varsity" players are kind of all grouped together. In most high school sports, there cannot be any upperclassmen on the JV team, but in wrestling all of that depends on your weight class. The best wrestler out of every weight class is considered Varsity and the rest are JV regardless of their grade level. Also, while other sports have different coaches with separate practices, wrestling doesn't. The whole wrestling team practices together with Coach Correa.

When it comes time for their season, wrestlers are probably the most dedicated to their sport as their life will begin to revolve around it.They all have a certain weight goal that they are trying to achieve, which usually involves cutting weight. Getting their weight down to the right number can determine their weight class and who their opponent will be. This is because they want to wrestle the smallest opponent possible so they will have a good chance at winning the match. Many wrestlers seek to reach this weight goal outside of just conditioning at practice by cutting back drastically on the food that they eat and what types of foods. A lot of wrestlers will change their entire diets in order to lose body fat during the season which is why wrestlers are in such good shape.

Overall, it can be agreed that the JV team's hard work at practices definitely payed off during the matches! Successful wrestling season? Check!

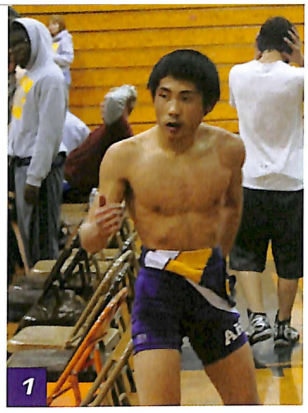

Two Prodigies

Being a freshman on any varsity team is an exceptional accomplishment. Freshmen Vishavjeet Singn '16 and Houston Skibek '16 had their chance, even though for both it was a no brainer that they were going to make varsity on their first try. Vishavjeet has been doing wrestling for the last three years and Houston the last four. "The best feeling was when I placed eighth in a two day tournament at Libery High School", says Singn. Even though Singn and Skibek are the two youngest on the team there really is no rivalry or competition between them. They have wrestled each other before and when one loses there's no hard feelings. According to Skibeck, the older varsity guys treat him with a little more respect than they do toward the J.V. guys.
"Having the title of a varsity wrestler as a freshman is really cool, but it really just means its a lot harder and a lot more work" says Skibeck.

-Darius LeVan.

☑ Losing Pounds, Gaining Victories

"You should not be reading this sign" is what the sign on the roof of the small gym says. This is saying the guys should be completely focused during practices, not letting their minds wander. When learning new techniques and ways of taking down an opponent, team captain, Terrance Saeteurn says it's important to listen to what people are saying, its easy to get hurt when you don't know what you're doing. The seven wins this year is an example of what this team can accomplish when they do pay attention. They placed first at Don Duals, third at Lou Encolad , and fourth at League and the Armijo Invitational. Out of the ten Armijo wrestlers that qualified for Sections four of them made it to Masters, they were Terrance Saeteurn'13, Hayden Skibeck '14, Billy Cimmino '14 and Darius LeVan '14.

The impression someone may have gotten when they saw Darius LeVan in action during this wrestling season is that this young man is doing a lot and is making it very far this year. He has been pushing himself time and time again to better improve on his skills. All the extra hard work and hours of practice paid off when he made it past the Sections to Masters. Though Darius has done his best this year, he is without a doubt going to make it even farther and do even better next year. He has shown the perfect psyche to continue leading the Varsity team to another seven wins or more next year.

Wrestlers are probably one of the most dedicated people at Armijo when talking about sports. They must watch their weight and what they eat year round, to ensure they're in the weight class they need to be in when the season actually starts. When conditioning begins in November, wrestlers put themselves on a diet mainly restricting sweets and start to work out daily. The varsity boys are a little more strict on their diets but Coach Correa would like all his wrestlers to do the same. Correa has been working the J.V. boys vigorously, preparing them for their upcoming years on varsity. He believes these boys will make next year a great one. Now that the season is has come to an end, Correa has provided some of the J.V. boys the opportunities to come practice with varsity. This has allowed some of the younger guys time to improve before next years season begins.

Even though the daily practices are physically and mentally draining, these young men choose to continue to go every time. This just comes to show that wrestling is more than just a bunch of sweaty boys rolling around on a mat, it's a sport consisting of a group of men that forces them to put all they have in them into their matches and ultimately win. When the word commitment is said the picture that should come to mind is this group of guys, working hard to achieve higher and higher each year. Dedication? Commitment? Seven wins? Check! Check! Check!

Swim to Succeed

Brian Louie is not only a swimmer on varsity for Armijo's swim team, but an amazing swimmer for SASO. One thing that SASO does is help teach kids to swim over summer at Solano college. He enjoys helping kids find their talent/hobby, or just a new way to have fun and relax. Brian finals at sections every year for SASO, and holds the top record for free style swimming year round. Brian says,"What I like most about the swim team is that everyone's welcome, it's great exercise, and I love being in the water." ☑ Swimming With Dedication!

Armijo's swim team takes a head-strong dive into this season with high hopes. Due to having trouble finding coaches this year, this season for the swim team started about two weeks late. But that didn't stop them from having confidence in themselves. To their rescue, two coaches, Will Giugni, and Justin Lomas volunteered to take over. They are doing a great job at coaching the team, and giving them the determination to win, and if they don't win, not to give up on themselves. They also had their first meet, which was a home meet, to look forward to on March 20th against Vandin High School. Even though they lost, they took it like champs, using the loss as a strength booster for their next meet. During the meet, not only was Armijo being cheered on by their own, even players from Vandin were helping cheer them on to the finish line. That just shows how much support your really get in swimming. Wesley Dillard '12 said, "Swimming isn't taken seriously enough when it should be, and that its a great way to relax." Another Player Zachery Chrest '10 says, "It's fun and nice to participate with the team." It's going to be hard to kill the spirit of these team players this season because they are swimming to win, and to have fun either way.

Charles Tralka, '16 says, "Not only do you get a great tan, but it's great exercise and I am looking forward to the game, it'll be my first match." Two swimmers, Cody Gonzalez '11 and Kevin Lui '12, both say and agree, "Swimming isn't good for just tanning and relaxation, its great for getting us in shape and ready for water polo." These players aren't only getting courage from their teammates and coaches this year, but now even from the new purple and gold flags and land lines they bought help give the team a little extra team spirit. Rodrigo Amgulo '16, says, " I am expecting anything really. I am just ready for the experience and the fun times." The team is making great effort during practices and games to follow through with what they've started. Giving up is not in their schedule for this season. They hold practices for both boys and girls Monday through Friday from 3:00pm-6:00pm, and Saturdays from 8:00am-10:00am. Sundays are their days off. They show their dedication during practice and most definitely had it showing during their game, whether they are behind or ahead, they didn't give up. There will be high hopes for the team this year to succeed and gain many victories, or gain strength from losses. Either way, our players are getting stronger and fiercer.

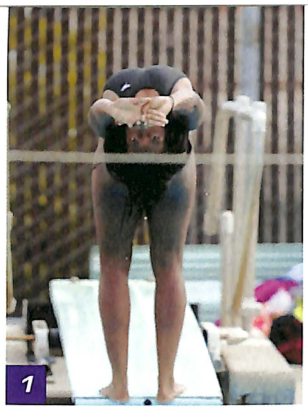

Thrive to Dive

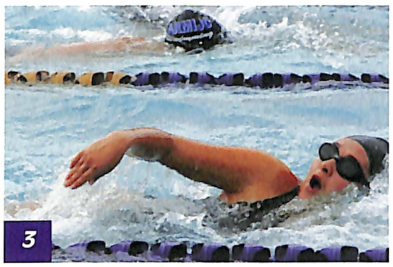

Starting something new can always seem hard to do, but not for these girls. Jamie Garlington '14 ,Jhaynehl Fortaleza '13, Lauran Banks '14, and Cally Paul ' 14 are the girls divers for this 2012-2013 school year. They put their heart and souls into this year so they could hopefully continue having the diving team next year. They used this season to concentrate on MELs, which is the final event of the season. With the help of Coach Will and a lot of morning practices they were able to learn and perfect all of their dives.

New Coaches and New beginnings!

Shaky starts won't stop these girls! While the rest of the schools were done with conditioning and had been swimming in the water for about two weeks, The Armijo swim team was still in search of coaches. With the help of the boys swim team, they were able to schedule days that they could condition and get in shape, so that they could be ready for when they got coaches. After weeks and weeks of conditioning they were introduced to Justin Lomas and William Giugni, who would be their new coaches. "Going into this, my plans were to get the swim team back to what they were when I was younger," said Justin Lomas, who took on the role of Assistant Coach, "I want to get new equipment and push them harder then ever before."

The coaches goals were achieved when they were able to buy a new clock for the swimmers to look at, timers that they could use during the meets, lane lines with Armijo colors, flags for the backstroke swimmers Kick boards and Pull Buoys, which they would use for every practice. They were even able to fix one of the diving boards and start up a diving team.

The team was also introduce to all new exercises that they do everyday after school from 3 to five. They started off each practice with dry land routines that consisted of push-ups, sit-ups, lunges around the pool and wall sits. After completing this, they hopped in the water and swam a warm up swim that would prepare them for the rest of the practice. For the rest of the practices they learned things like flip turns, diving off the board, all four of the strokes and different drills that would help them with their freestyles.

The girls had the best time ever practicing and going to meets together. They taught each other different things and learned new things about themselves. But the coaches were also the backbone for these girls. They were their motivation during the games, by cheering them on and teaching them new things. They pushed them to limits that they never thought that they would ever reach before. The girls had a great time with each other and the coaches but when it came time for business they were back to being serious and and more determined then ever.

☑ Taste of Victory

Young, but fierce! This phrase is what describes Armijo's JV baseball team during this year's season. The amount of freshmen on the team was not one seen very often before, but this didn't affect the team's effort and strive to succeed. No matter how young, this team was blessed with talent and passion. Pitcher Braden Remington '15 says he enjoyed how well the team got along, and the tight union they had because that is what made the sport so much more fun. A lot of these players had previously played for the same teams, such as FEBA and Babe Ruth, helping the bond between them:be that much stronger.

Coaches Casey Towner and Brian Wilson, two Armijo alumni, were of major help to this year's JV baseball team. Not only were they both former students at Armijo high school, they were also both 4 year Armijo baseball players. Coach Towner had been an assistant coach for Armijo's JV team the previous year, however he stepped up as head coach this year, bringing his great former teammate with him as assistant coach. When asked how he felt about the season and the team as a whole, Trent Baker '15 replied, "We've already had more wins than last year and we're not even half way through the season, and our coaches and baseball players had everything to do with it". It may be hard for these guys to sustain a team of their own having to balance out college along with other duties, however the passion and love they have for the sport and their team is what helps them achieve their victories.

All in all, having such a young set of players along with coaches didn't stop this team from achieving their goals. Although in the very beginning this team was a bit divided between returning and new players, Kody Steiner '15 says, "Through the months we've had our ups and downs, our share of fun, and our taste of victory. Through this we have come together as one amazing team for years to come."

Prom? I'll Go to that.

"Bombs? I hit that. Seeds? I spit that. Curveballs? I spin that. Prom? Will you go to that?" Nothing says "Great Prom Proposal" like a clever poem written on a baseball and the whole team's help to surprise you, which is exactly what happened to Trent Baker '15 this year. "I was super nervous but I thought, it's my senior year so why not go all out!" said Naama Angulo-Rios '13. Naama '13 thought of many different ways that she could ask him but she wanted to make sure that Trent '15 had no idea that she was going to ask him. Her plan was to make him leave practice to look for a baseball that had a special, incomplete message to him, and when he came back to his practice the rest of his team would hold up the signs that finished the message asking him to prom. "I had no idea that it was even for me, I kind of thought that it was for my friend, but I'm glad that it was for me," said Trent '15.

Armijo Baseball is based on one main thing that all of the players have; love for the game. Each of the players all have a true passion for the game and many of them have been playing for most of their life. The boys of the Armijo baseball team are very talented. They go above and beyond just practicing and going through the motions of what it takes to be apart of the team. Because of their hard work the team has become truly extraordinary Clayton Espino '16 and Jason Brasile '15 both agreed that they both believe in repetition when it comes to practice. Brasile '16 even went as far as to say "When I find that i'm struggling with something I just work harder at it and then repeat it" By the looks of the teams amazing skill, great things are in the making for these boys. A team isn't a team if they don't have wonderful pitching to keep the team from scoring. Luckily Armijo has many talented pitchers. Among the very talented squad is David Hostler '14 who says "We all put in one hundred percent each day, that's why we're improving." To further prove the hard work the indians have been showing to become hopeful MEL champions. The varsity team doesn't just have great players, they have a great coach too. Coach Maldonado has proved himself as a newer coach that he is very talented and willing to work with the boys. He commits his time and expects the boys to do the same in return. He makes sure each and every player works to their full potential and shows a positive attitude while doing so. The proof of such hard work the team has done has been paying off considering they have already won 3 games. With a great coach and great players it's safe to say there is a bright future ahead for many of theses talented young players on the Armijo High School Varsity Baseball team.

Life's a Pitch

Pitching is a key role on a baseball team. As much of a key role as it is, it's far from easy. To be a pitcher you must be very agile, persistent and always alert. One's pitching can sometimes be the difference between a win and a loss. Luckily Armijo has many talented pitchers on their team. Pitcher's not only have to be able to throw consistent throws but they must be able to throw them correctly to strike their opponent out. The most common pitches thrown are the "curveball," "fastball," and "change up."

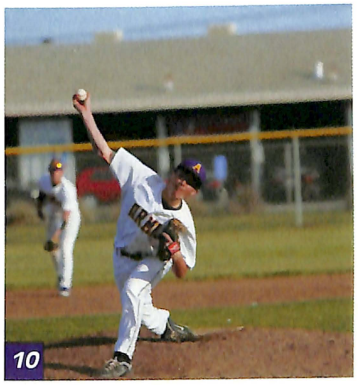

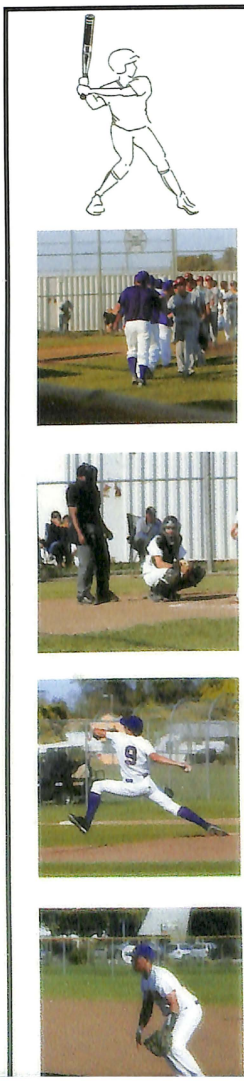

5. The whole team loudly cheers on each batter in hopes of some big hits and a winning game.

Nothing says team work like a united group of girls playing some softball. Communication is key in softball; it helps the girls be quick, smart about the play, and learn each others limitations. Not only do they call what's going on so one another hears it, they also yell for every single player that comes up to bat, not one single player is left without a motivational chant. This team has gotten to know one another over the course of the past few months, and with that, they have become a close-knit family. When a team is as close as these girls are, it shows that games aren't that difficult to win.

The jv softball team has worked hard and it's paid off. Elena Stacy '15 says they are having a real good season in her opinion. "I am confident in our team," she says. With a 2-2 record only half way through their league season, they are confident of keeping up the good work. Victoria Rodgers '15 says "This season is going good so far. We're like a family, we are a very close team, we hit home runs, we have a good defense, and I really think we'll have a winning season."

Jade Breaux '15 slides into home plate bringing in a run for Armijo. Jade played a major role in helping her team bring home the win against Vintage High School.

Look, Don't Touch!

Sports are filled with superstitions. From not washing certain pieces of clothing, to saying a secret chant before a game, to performing some type of ritual before a game. The list goes on and on. The jv softball team has something very peculiar and interesting that they refuse to do, however. We know what you're thinking: the players must abstain from doing something for good luck, but don't be surprised when we tell you it just so happens to be the coach and not the players.You will never find this coach touching the game ball! When asked why this is, the players just said that was it, there wasn't much to it, "she refuses to touch the game ball with her hands during the game. It's just her thing."

Caught in a Pickle

When you are stuck in a pickle which way do you go? Back to the base you came from or do you take the chance and go to the next base? In softball, being in a pickle is being caught in a rundown between two bases while the opposite team is trying to get you out or make you go back to the base you came from. This season the varsity softball team was caught in a pickle, the starting catcher, Alexandra Azzopardi '14, was injured before the season started. She still supports her team by going to every game and practice. Kelsey Bomar '14, the starting shortstop, was forced to take over the catching spot until Alexandra could return. This opened up a position for freshman Destiny Blueford '16. She became the starting shortstop and the lead off batter. The upperclassmen took her in and she did not disappoint her teammates or the coaches. The head coach Rick Newman said, "She's a heck of a player and heck of a young woman." The team was stuck in a pickle, but in the end they advanced to the next base. This shows that if you're caught in a pickle in life, go for the next base, it may turn out better than you expect.

Strike Them Out

Brandi Shepherd '13 and Kayla Hancock '13 take on the season as the only pitchers for varsity softball. They compliment each other very well, when Brandi is pitching Kayla is in the outfield and when Kayla is pitching Brandi is playing first base.
"My favorite part of being one of the starting pitchers is striking people out with a curve ball, it's my best pitch." says Kayla. While Brandi's favorite part is "Striking people out with a rise ball or a change up." The pitchers are both upset that Alexandra Azzopardi '14 is not behind the plate.

☑Push Past the Limit

Track and Field has many different events. The different events require different skills. On the team, there are categories of people that participate in these events. There are the sprinters, distance runners, throwers, jumpers, and hurdlers. Sometimes it gets generalized to distance and speed and power. In fact, there is even a little friendly rivalry between the sprinters and distance runners. Arrie Cartier, a senior on the team, finds this one of the memorable things about track. Arrie is a mid-distance runner, which means she does both distance and sprinter workouts. "Track at Armijo has been a really great experience," she says. "The meets on Friday and Saturday nights created some great memories. Plus I love the smack talk between distance runners and sprinters."

Even though there is a divide in what these athletes train for, they are all good friends. Some of the team members are even family. Whether they are new to the sport or returning, the teammates have something in common: they all work hard. Of course, the coaches push them to work hard. Coach Monk, the head coach, always reminds them that working hard and pushing for success will bring desired results. As the athletes take this and apply this while they practice and compete, they end up making personal records, winning events, and even breaking records. ("I'm very proud of this group as they've taken on the challenge I've presented to them, raising expectations, developing an incredible work ethic, and creating a culture that will build champions," Coach Monk stated.

Although achievements have been made, there are still more goals to be met. Though the team is good, there are teams to try to beat. If things keep going the way they have been, the program can become a really good one. With the help of Coach Monk and the other coaches, the team can make it there. This seems very likely, as the lower grades show so much potential. If they are making breakthroughs now, they can make even more. Everyone has that chance if they keep training, working hard, and pushing past the limits.

Record Breaker

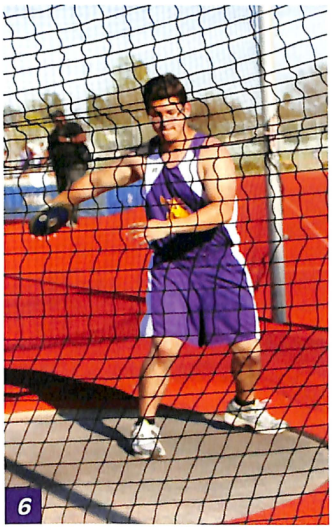

Tyra Holt is a junior. She is a mid-distance runner. She broke the school record for the 800 meter run, with a time of 2:26.25. "It took a while to sink in that I actually broke the record. Mostly because I was kind of dead after my race and my ankle hurt. But it was overall really exciting and a lot of people were coming up and congratulating me on it during school." She later found out that she has an early stress fracture. Hopefully she heals quickly, so she can get back to breaking records. Until then, she's cheering her teammates on.

New To The Green

Coach Anderson and Coach Clapper are new golf coaches for Armijo. They both have played golf in their spare, time but have never actually coached a team. They enjoy coaching, because its something new for them, and its challenging because its an individual sport. Usually you coach a whole team, but golf you have to focus on everybody individual and their own skills. But they love helping the boys develop their skills, especially the boys who aren't as experienced as others. It can be hard and stressful coaching a sport they have never coached before, but its worth the try and they like it. They know the team has quiet a ways to go to get better, but they keep pushing them to do their best, and they do their job to make them better.

☑ Get In The Hole !!!!!!!

Hitting off the tee, Trevor Flynn '13 and Nathan McCall `13 are the only returners for the men's golf team. They both have played golf for 3 years for Armijo. The team consists of 3 freshmen, 3 sophomores, and 4 other seniors. Its a young team looking up to the upper class men to get better. This year seems to be more of a building year, not a MEL champ team. But don't count them out as the under dog. With the team being so young and not as experienced, their season hasn't really been going their way. A 0-4 team has yet to struggle, but can come a long ways if they keep working hard and develop the skills they need to win.

"We`re a very young team, but if we keep working hard and building our team we will have some success in the next years," says Coach Anderson. But one player that does stand out is Trevor Flynn `13. Every game so far Trevor has scored the highest. In the game against Napa he shot a 43, against Wood a 40, against Vaca a 47, and against Vintage a 40. He is number one in the game for Armijo. "I work hard at golf and try my best every match to shoot low" says Trevor. Hes not only good at golf, hes also a good soccer player. Trevor is just all around a great athlete. He helps the younger boys as much as he can to be better at the game.

The boys really look up to him. "Trevor helps out a lot, he shows me pointers, how to place the ball, how to aim, and on what clubs to use," says Jonathan Delmendo `16. Jonathan is one of the freshman on the team, and he's number two for Armijo Mens Golf. Hes one of the freshman to watch for this spring. Jonathan has been playing since he was five years old. He likes to golf because it's a great sport and it challenges him since its an individual sport. If hes not hitting a par hes kicking a goal. Soccer is another sport he loves to play. He plans on continuing to play both sports in his next years.

Since golf is an individual sports it makes it kind of easier to just focus on yourself and your own skills. For the boys thats never played before, they try their best and ask the older boys for help since they`re more experienced.

Once they boys develop more skills and come together as a team they will be much better and start winning matches. For all the seniors they really enjoyed their season and helping out as much as they can. The younger boys are really going to miss them and all the help they brought to the team. "There is a lot of promise with this inexperienced group" said Coach Anderson. He is really looking forward to next years season.

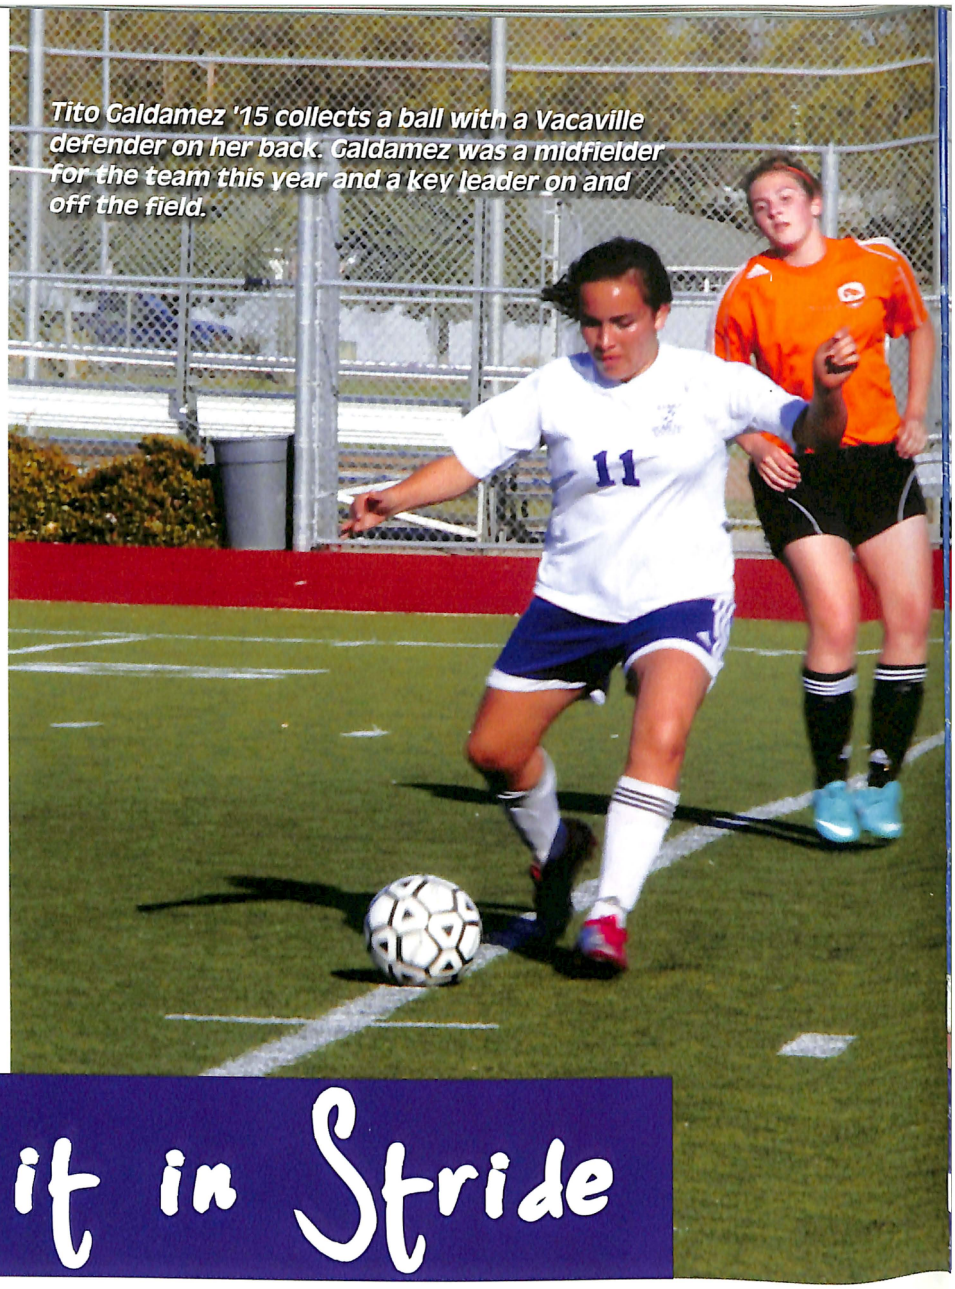

☑ Taking it in Stride

This year's jv women's soccer team had plenty of goals set early on in the season. With a healthy group of sophomores returning, this year's team was looking to build on the success of last year. As is the case with many sports teams, injuries became a big issue. Injuries to key sophomore players such as Adriana Cruz '15, Kylee Webster '15, and Gabby Wiley '15 forced some of the younger players to step up earlier in the season and made the list of goals for this year's team change just a little.

The season was nowhere near a "lost season" for the jv soccer team. Freshmen such as Rachel Nathan-Funk '16 and Tessa Newell '16 saw their roles increase dramatically because of the limited roster. Nathan-Funk was needed in goal with little notice when the season started. She has quickly become the backbone of the defense and has kept games close with some great play. Newell has gotten key minutes as a freshman at the outside midfield position, something that is sure to benefit her moving forward.

As the season progresses, you can bet that the team will too. Led by returning sophomore Alyssa Heffernan '15, this year's jv team knows how to overcome adversity. Their play on the field has shown that this season and will continue to show as they move on to the varsity level in the coming years.

2. Andrea Cruz '15 pushes a ball outside as a defender. Cruz improved as a passer from the defense as the season progressed.
3. Maria Flores '16 looks to switch the field to her teammates making a run. Flores played primarily as a forward.
4. Adriana Cruz '15, Kylee Webster '15 and Gabby Willey '15 look on with teammates during a game against Vacaville. All 3 suffered serious injuries this season but were out there supporting their teammates.

A Huge Save

Throughout the pre-season, Armijo's JV soccer team was without a goalkeeper. Freshman Rachel Nathan-Funk '16 had been working out all winter with the idea of playing defense for the team. When tryouts came and there was no one trying out for the goalkeeper position, Rachel stepped up. She had played before, which meant that she had the most experience on the team at the position. She has been one of the most valuable members of the team this season and continues to keep them in close games. Rachel is the ultimate example of team player.

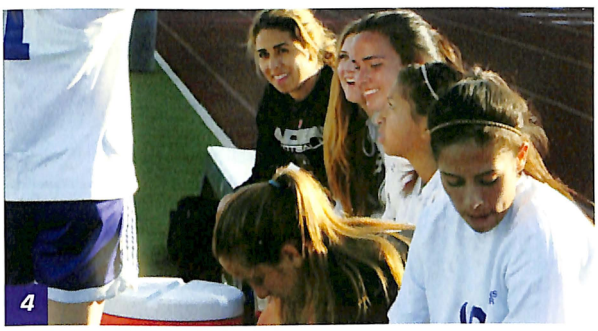

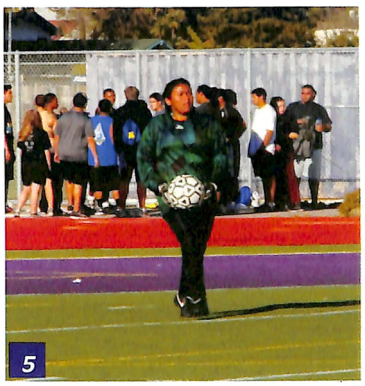

5. Goalkeeper Rachel Nathan-Funk '16 collects a ball and scans the field before punting it to teammates. Nathan-Funk really stepped up for the team when it looked as if they would be without a goalie.
6. Freshman Briana Ayris '16 holds her position on a Vacaville attacking player. Ayris became a defensive starter very early in the season.
7. Outside midfielder Kyra Overman '16 caries the ball upfield. Overman was new to the team this year and played important minutes throughout.

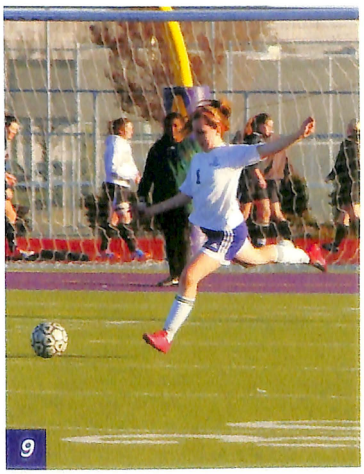

8. Sophomore Tito Galdamez '15 controls the ball in the center midfield. Galdamez made the move from outside midfield to center midfield this season.
9. Alyssa Heffernan '15 sends a free kick towards her attacking end and the forwards. Heffernan came back from major knee surgery this season to captain this jv team.
10. Bianca Estrada '15 drives the ball down the line against Vacaville. Bianca plays attack as a sophomore on the jv team and has scored for the young team this season.

Center Midfielder Erin Erwin '14 Dribbles down the field and spots out an outside midfielder for a nicely placed pass vs Vintage High School.

Working Towards a Goal

Armijo's women's varsity soccer team this year is significantly different. Still trying to improve on last year's 500 record, the Indians strive for victory. Coach Brad Burzynski quotes, "Our goal this year is to develop chemistry on the field and to learn how to play in this system. We have girls who are very close to becoming dynamic players. Right now I think we are just working on gaining the confidence to believe in ourselves to make positive plays on the field. I think we will be in the playoff discussion if we can stay healthy and continue to make great plays and build up that chemistry that we have on this team." Chemistry is a key to Armijo's success this year.

There has been a great loss in players from last year's teams, but with a lot of new team members join the team this year. With the senior center defender Britney Wheeler '13 and outside defender Leaona Hadrava '13. Which are the only two returning starters on the team. But they are both strong leaders on the team and are a huge part of Armijo's great start this year. They plan to go out of the league with a bang for their last year of high school.

Key returning players for the team are junior forward Monique Evans, who finished last year with seven goals on the season just shy of first on the the team. Also returning this year for the team are all three of the Armijo center mid fielders junior Dulce Armas '14, Jasmine Calderon '14, and Cindy Rodriguez '15. These three girls have made a huge difference in the middle of the field with their defensive presence, but also their offensive game being able to pressure and make plays on the field.

Working hard at practice is finally starting to pay off for this team. They are ready to push through playoffs and make a hard run.

1. Pictured here is Monique Evans '14 gets here spirits lifted by Coach Joel Calderon who has stepped up to take the assistant coach position next to head Coach Brad Burzynski.
2. A key part of Armijo's defense is Ileana Pichardo '13 as she wins the ball high on the field to spark Armijo's attack.
3. When it comes to blocking the box, Anna Castro's '14 got our back. She is a vital part of the team, not only stopping the ball, but also with the communication on the field.

Starting off Young

This year the Women's varsity soccer team welcomed first year player Emily Tobada '16. She is a very special player who starts on the outside left defense. Her special talents on the field prove that she is determined to play at such a high level. Even Though she is the youngest player on the team she shows her leadership through her actions and playing on the field. She is a young player who makes a huge difference on the team at Armijo.

4. Armijo's outside midfielder Caitlin Anderson '14 as she sends the ball to the point player.
5. Here's Brittney Wheeler '13 as she takes the ball forward and makes a run to get the offense jump started. Like they say, the best defense is a great offense.
6. Monique Evans '13 with a nice pass from her midfielder. She shows the league her skill vs Vacaville High School as she dribbles toward the goal.

7. Alexandrea Bowers '15 dribbles the ball up the line while she is being pressured by a defender, using her body the shield the defender off the ball.

8. After a great win vs Vacaville here is the Armijo squad with smiles on there face after a great game played. All their hard work is starting to pay off and show during their game.

What is victory? The answer: Armijo's Men's Tennis team. Their 92 game winning streak was ended this season with a 5-4 loss to Vacaville High School, but after winning 6 consecutive MEL league titles, this young team is well on its way to clenching its seventh title. By practicing, anything is possible for a team so full of enthusiasm. Players go above and beyond as they motivate each other. Such as veteran player Elyes Chettfour '13 who brings out the fire in his team as he gives them tips on how to stay focused throughout their games and to keep trying even when they lose.

The team has very high academic and competitive standards, with team members having to have a 3.0 GPA and over 25 players competing for 12 varsity spots. This year's team is full of young potential, such as the second doubles team of Justin Wong '16 and Gabriel Vigil '16, 6 singles player Liem Nguyen '16, and the singles player Derek Wadsworth '16. Derek currently plays third singles, on a singles line-up of 6, and remains undefeated.

Other undefeated members of the team this season include the first doubles team Elyes Chettfour '13 and Brad Davis '14, and the third doubles team of Jose Gaglianone '14 and Crispin Marquez '13. When asked to sum up his tennis experience, Elyes Chettfour '13 said, "Being a member of this team over the past three years has definitely been worth it, it's like a second family to me, and we get to play the sport we love." Best of luck to our men's tennis team!

Wesley Richardson '16 throws up his tennis racket in victory as he gains a point in his match up during practice.

Getting Involved

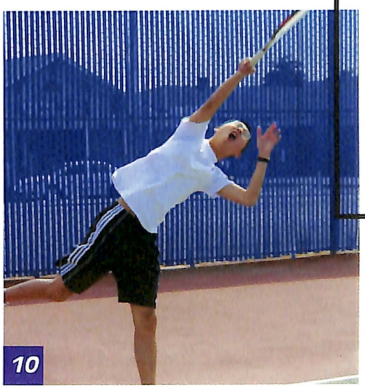

Coach Davis has taken on the responsibility of coaching Armijo's tennis team for many years. However, for him, coaching goes beyond just standing on the sidelines and giving pointers to his players. At the beginning of every practice and game he motivates his players with inspirational speeches. Coach Davis comments "We try to bring out our best every game and fight till the very end." He also gets involved by practicing with the team on one on one. This helps them to avoid holding back and brings out their full potential. In the end, from the coach to each individual player, the teams passion for tennis shines through as they work together to be the best.

5. Randall Thompson '13 prepares his equipment before practice to ensure he plays to the best of his abilities.
6. Arthur Mestas '13 concentrates on hitting the tennis ball at the right angle to get the perfect trajectory.
7. Erik San Miguel '14 practices his serve a few times so that he gets it perfect during a real game.

Serve it then Smash it!

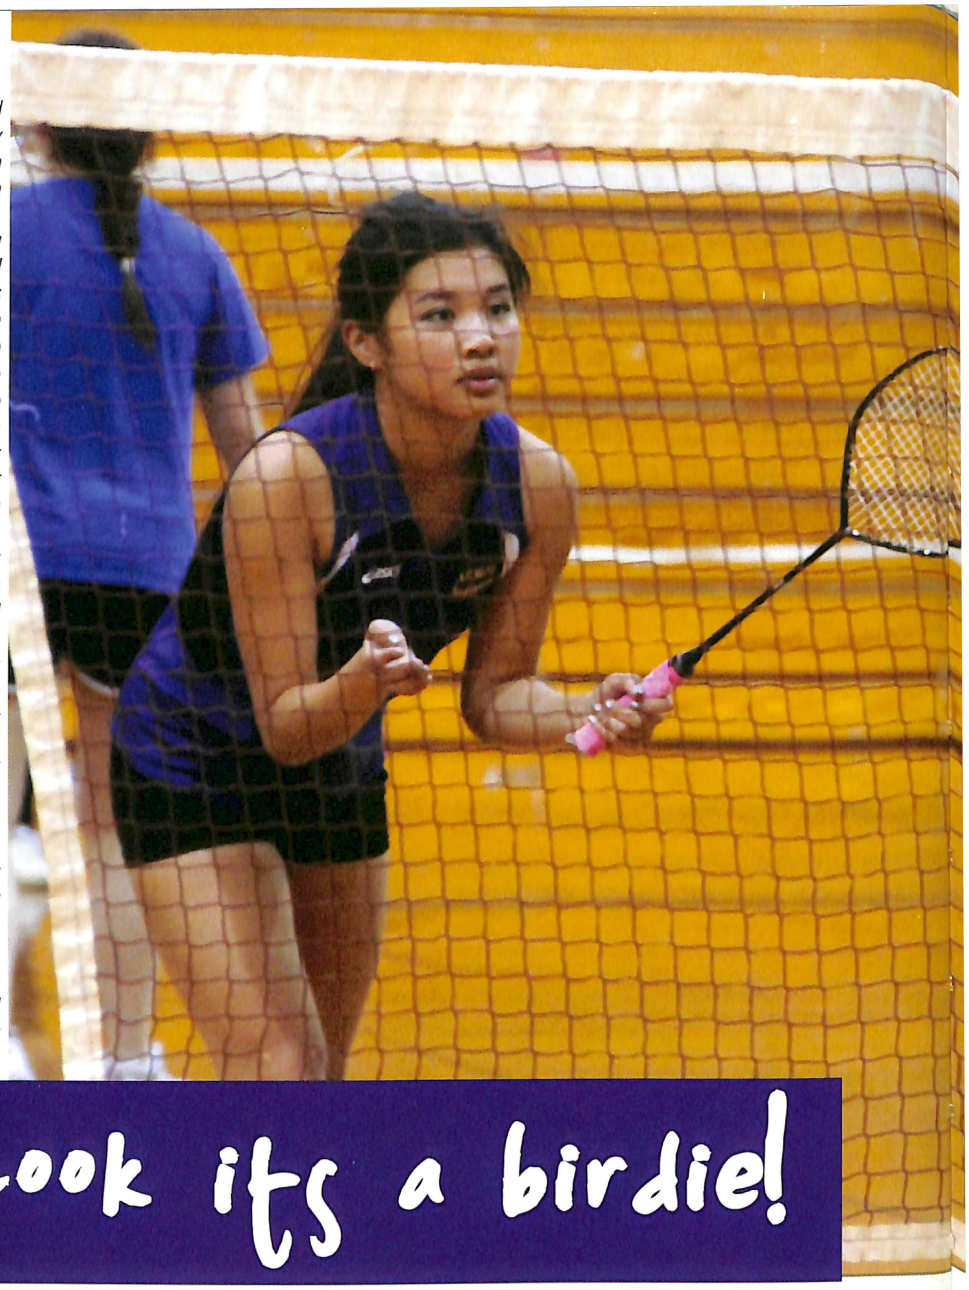

8. Crispin Marquez '13 playing 3rd doubles in a home match against Napa.
9. Leng Vue '15 picks up the ball showing his opponent that he is ready to play.
10. James Zheng '14 thrusts power behind his swing as he hurls the tennis ball over the net. Being aggressive in this manner helps keep the opponent on his feet.
11. Jose Gaglianone'14 anticipates his swing as the ball comes towards him at a fast pace.
12. The team runs together at practice to warm up their bodies for tennis. Doing warm ups as a team helps physically and subconsciously keep the team together as it gives the look and feel of a singular unit.

Badminton is a sport that takes a lot of hand eye coordination, focus and determination. Everyday the team either has a long, and hard practice or a game. This a great time for the girls to interact with fellow badminton players.

At practice you would see the girls working hard, so in the game they could have the upper hand on the opponent. One drill they do in particular is called "Mile Mondays' in which the team runs a mile around the school. This helps build up endurance so that they can move and react faster and run for the birdie during the game. Other drills include moves like the "smash" in which when the birdie is high enough and in front of your face, you try to aim/hit it downward, this allows the birdie to travel at a fast enough speed that the other player wouldn't be able to react.

Before every game Coach Trigg pumps up his players with encouraging and inspirational words such as "Hit it where they ain't. You know what you need to do, and relax and enjoy." The players know to always play to their best abilities and always look forward to further improvement. Diana Rose Navarro '13 state "these speeches makes us play better players and give us the determination and the will to win."

Coach Trigg states, "We expect the league to be very competitive this year as most teams are bringing back ladder players from last season." He also comments on the changes for this season compared to last "We also hope to improve on our singles and doubles showing at the MEL league tourney this year. We have 21 brand-new players to the program along with 22 returners." Each individual on the team contributes their own bit of heart, soul, and dedication that overall helps make this group of girls a well oiled machine keep going.

Got Focus?

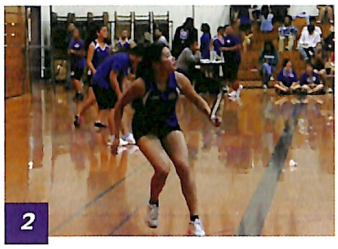

Rackets and birdies and nets oh my! Badminton takes a lot of hand eye coordination. A lot of people think badminton is a very easy sport, but when you're on the court it isn't that easy to hit the tiny birdie. But for most of the girls on the team it is starting to become natural. Some other aspects of badminton are you have to have focus and you have to be in-shape. Thats why Coach Trigg made up the drill "Mile Mondays" and many different hitting drills. If you have great eye hand coordination, extreme focus, and amazing endurance, badminton is for you!

Fashion and style may help define who a person is, their culture and most importantly, their generation . At Armijo, we have it all. One new trend that has developed this year is the sock bun. By using only a sock and 3 quick steps you can have a professional looking donut bun! The first step, after getting a sock, is cutting off the toes of the sock. Then roll the sock into what appears to be a donut. The final step is to put the sock around your hair and roll it starting at the tips of your hair, until you reach your head. "I love sock buns because they are easy to do and are perfect for lazy days but still look cute." says Kyra Gillespie '13.

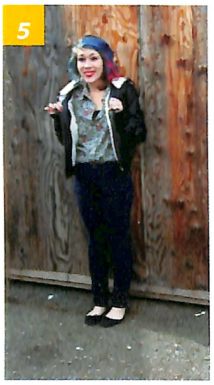

Another huge fashion trend this year are boots. Boots can come in all colors and styles but Uggs and combat boots have been the most popular. They give you a really good accessory that you can wear with any kind of clothes.

The best part about featuring fashion each year is that it is an ever changing trend. Whether it is boots, sock buns, bows, thrift shopping or designer clothing, fashion is a big part of the culture on campus. Students will look back on 2012 and either stand proud of their fashion decisions or find themelves asking "what was I thinking?"

☑ A Fashion Frenzy

1. Kyra Gillespie '13 accessories her sock bun by using a cute, pink, polka dotted bow. 2. Seghen Woldai's '14 style is very trendy, "I love to shop at Forever 21 a lot because I love their clothes!" She gets her style inspiration from Rihanna. 3. Ear gauges are becoming very popular and Conner Lewallen '13 makes sure she has hers because "they are a way I express myself." 4. "What I wear is what makes me different,"says George Blackman '13, describing his style as "Urban San Francisco." 5. Miranda Garcia-Blum '13 shows off her fun, uniques style with her multi-colored hair and leather jacket. 6. Hawa Naimzada '13 prepares for the cold weather with her long sleeve shirt and fashionable scarf. 7. Alexis Angel '14 loves fashion because "you can do anything with it, you can mix and match and make really cute outfits." 8. Brianna Belloumini '13 sits with poise showing off her style with her black tights and matching cardigan.

Lucienne Altman-Newell '13 is the reason why everyone saw recycling bins around the campus this year. She said that she really felt like she needed to do this for two reasons: First, "I genuinely felt that the world and community- the people at Armijo in particular- had done so much for me, yet I had not done enough for them." Second, "I myself had often wished for recycling bins at lunch so I wouldn't have to carry my recyclables around until I could get to class, and figured that others probably had the same wish as well." It took her a while to get everyones approval and to get the money to buy the cans. Once she got the cans, she realized she didn't have people to help her paint them, so over summer she organized the new club, The Green Team. The club is currently active, and she has nothing but good things to say about Green Team, "I am proud of this program and all that we have accomplished so far, and hope that it will continue to grow and flourish after I bid AHS adieu in June."

1. JayLynn Schiff '13 is cleaning up garbage in her local park. She loves when the earth looks beautiful and clean.
2. Sem Yeto Leadership raises cans for a food drive to help those in need. They raised more than 90 cans.
3. Maiya Williams '13 is trying to help a neighbor by pulling weeds in her yard to make it look better.

Work, school, and other activities...

Its what these kids do on a daily basis. Managing all of these things at once can be very stressful for a teenager. In talking to students that are employed, they say it's hard balancing school and work, because it takes up a lot of their time. Many of these kids work for fun, to pay their own cell phone bills, or to purchase things for themselves. But many also work because they need to help provide for their families. After coming home from a long day of school and work, it makes it hard for students with multiple activities to do their homework, because they're so tired. Jacob Chauvin '13 has two jobs, one at Mimi's Cafe' and another at Game Stop. He is also a varsity basketball player. "Having to go to school then to work gets very tiring and stressful. Coming home from a long day makes it hard for me to do my homework sometimes," said Donaven Spencer '13 who works at Nike. Jaqueline Booker '13 works at the Matt Garcia Center tutoring kids. She's also in the IB Program, and participates in band. Not everybody can go to school, work, and engage in other activities all at the same time. It is a struggle now a days for people in this economy to have a job, so for these students it is a blessing. There is no doubt that it's difficult, but it can be done. As for these kids they do what they have to do and get the job done.

How I Make a Living

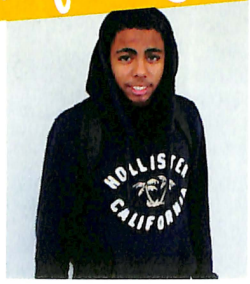

1. Ashley Lunceford '13 works at Wendy's, taking orders and cleaning tables. 2. Hawa Naimzada '13 works at Mimi's Cafe' as a server. 3. Bertha Cuevas '13 works at Baskin Robins scooping ice cream. She enjoys being able to scoop different types of ice cream for people. 4. Lauren Corn '13 surfs through Hollister as she greets people and stocks clothes. She has a lot on her plate, because she has a second job at Edward's Cinema. 5. Montana Altman '13 works at a little cupcake shop called Cako's. If she's not there then she's working at her other job at K-Mart. 6. Elijah Salandana '13 works at Taco Bell. He does everything there from packing and making the food to cleaning and customer service. 7. Jacob Chauvin '13 works as a server at Mimi's Cafe'. He is a hard working man, because he also works at Game Stop. 8. Jacqueline Booker '13 works down at the Matt Garcia Center as a tutor. She enjoys helping the kids with their homework.

Future Jobs

"When I get older I want to be a teacher, teaching high school kids, because I like kids. I think its important that everybody has an education."

-Jessica-May Pamaptian '14

"When I get older I want to be a lawyer to help African Americans to stay out of trouble. I also want to go to the NBA and play for the Chicago Bulls."

Battle of the Votes

The 2012 elections really seemed to keep us all on our toes, not to mention intrigued. Obama and Romney we close int he polls until late in the evening which kept California watching their every move. Knowing California is a Democratic state, it is no surprise that Armijo High students are too. Taaj Mack '13, a senior has kept herself up to date with whats going on in office this year. She has her hope set in for Obama because of the accomplishments he has achieved within his four years in office like his health care reform, the veterans budget, expanding grants for college, signing the family smoking prevention tobacco Act, and even endorsing same-sex marriage equality. She believes He'd bring more peace and changes to the world that would very beneficial. Taaj believes that Mitt Romney will bring more debt among the United States; however, making the upper class more wealthy, and making it more difficult for the lower class to make money and get out of debt. No matter our political view, our campus made their voices heard this election.

Photo Strip: Angelica Ortega '13, Sahrea Reyes '13, and Maggie Kushner '13 are students that chose to work for the electoral poles this year. They enjoyed there time working there and learned a lot about how the voting system works. They took the time and turned it into a great experience that they can carry with them forever. On the bottom right, 1: Kianna Sims '13, 2: Kiara Lam '13, and Taaj Mack '13 (main photo) were students that were supportive and interactive with this years elections.

Got Talent?

Some people say talent is a special ability or power, but for some people it's a blessing to even have such an unusual outstanding gift. Most people have a hidden talent that they haven't found or exploited yet. Clayton Watts '14 is a great example of a special power. He has multiple World Records in Bench Pressing. He benched over an astonishing 221.2 lbs. at age 14 and weighed only 112 lbs. For Clayton it was really easy for him to start weight lifting because his whole family does it. Another example of an special talent would be Oscar Ramos '13 and Edgar Plascencia '13 who have their own video production company called RP Pictures. These two like to write, direct and produce their own videos. They recently came out with a 45 minute short movie called LAPSE. Both Ramos and Plascencia want be professional film makers in the near future.

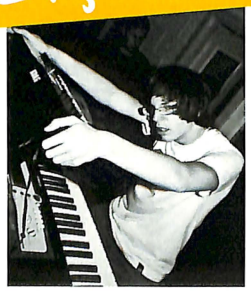

1. Clayton Watts '14 World Record: 221.2 lbs.,Weighed:112, Age: 14-15 , Chico CA, March 17, 2012 2. Edgar Plascencia '13 shoots a scene for LAPSE with actor Aldo Ibarra. 5. Damian Bowers '15 holding his favorite board. 6. Christopher Bruner '14 After a long day hunting he got 15 birds. 7. Dakota Howard '14 Showing his welding skills, making a fire pit. 8. Oscar Ramos '13 and Edgar Plascencia '13 pose with their scene clacker and video camera. Ramos states "we were inspired to go into movie producing because of Christopher Nolan."

"I love to do archery because I get to challenge myself by trying to improve my score every time I compete. It's a great sport that takes a lot of concentration and hard work."

Harwinder Sandhu '13

"Being in a band takes a lot of dedication and a lot of your own money to pursue it. But the feeling of playing in front of a crowd is amazing."

iPhones have been around for seven years, starting with the first iPhone and successfully growing all the way to the latest iPhone 5. Today iPhones are used in so many different ways you can think of besides the basic benefits, such as calling, texting, web browsing, and taking pictures or videos. The year 2012 has definitely earn it's name as "Socially Active". The way we communicate to each other is so much easier with iPhones. Students on a daily bases check their tweets on Twitter, posts on Facebook and pictures on Instagram. With fast performances, a camera, texting, calling, web browsing and any application you find helpful to you, why not buy an iPhone. Calling is slowly fading down, with social networks that we use today, we become more dependent on what people post online. This device may be thin and lightweight but it performs on higher scales when compared to other phones that students in Armijo carry.

The Quincenera ceremony is the celebration of a girl's fifteenth birthday in Latin America, and also here in America. This birthday, however, is different from others because it is the transition from childhood to young womanhood. Some of the celebrations may be more religious than others, but the concept it the same. Laura Licea '14 had a great time with her friends during her celebration. "It was really fun and exciting, but I was also nervous," she said. The Quince celebration is one big extravaganza for some families, and parents go all out in expenses to make sure that their daughter's Quince is one of the best experiences in their life. They hope to make them very memorable to everyone.

4 Parents go to great measures to make sure their daughter has the best for their Quinces. There's proof when seeing this amazing cake. 5 Twins Adrianna and Andrea Cruz '15 shared their quince and were really stressed out about it. Adrianna Cruz '15 said, "It was really difficult because we both wanted different things, but ended up working it out. 6 Senior Bertha Cuevas '13 has a giant grin on her face during the ceremony. She had so much fun doing it. 4 Vanessa Angel '15 is posing for the camera in her beautiful dress. She was both excited and nervous for her ceremony. 5 Junior Emily Paz-Altamirano '14 hugs her dad at the end of her ceremony. He was very proud of her. 6 Senior Bertha Cuevas '13 is getting ready and preparing for her big day. "It took me about two hours to do my hair and make-up," she said. 7 A group picture is taken in front of the fountain in downtown Fairfield for Emily Paz-Altamirano's '14 quince celebration.

Always There!

"People might say I've been to quite a few quinces before. Yeah. I have. I think I've been in nine of the actual parties, but I can't really remember how many I've been to in total. They're pretty fun to go to. You get to dance and eat, and even go to a church for the ceremony. I think I'm always invited because I always get it live."

What's your Idea of Romance?

Jamie Mojica '13 and Christian Metivier '13 have been together for about 4 years and still aren't tired of each other. "We know each other so well that it's easy for us to have a good time together. We bring the best out of each other," the couple explained. When asked about any issues that occurred throughout their relationship, the couple replies that there has been jealousy issues but their advice to others that want to stay together for a long time is to "not let those issues get the best of you two". When asked about their idea of romance, the couple spoke for a minute and then replied with, "Your love for someone is an instinct, you immediately know when it happens and when it's real." This couple still has people gasping from how genuine their love is for each other. Seniors this year, they have gone threw a growing process together. Having been together since before their Freshman year, they've learned to cope with their differences and learn from each other. Will they be together forever? Time can only tell, but we all hope to for the best for them; unless their views change.

Different Views

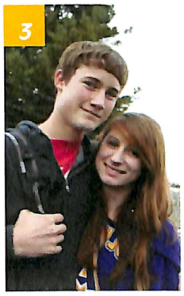

Angel Aquino '16 expresses his views of Love and Romance in terms of his sexuality. "Right now, I am single and happy. It's hard to find someone to love because of my sexuality, not a lot of people like me because of it.. I was jumped several times. There isn't a lot of people that are gay and even if there are gay guys, it doesn't mean they're going to love you. My idea of romance is the same as everyone elses'. Love is when you feel a great connection and do nice things for each other."

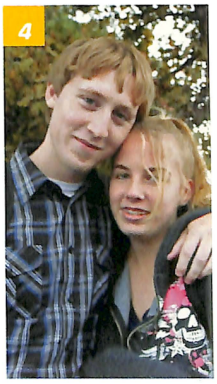

Other views of Romance:

"Love is what the heart seeks not what society accepts."
-John Sabado '14

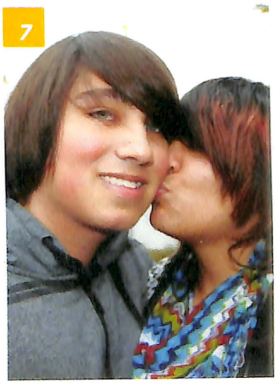

"If what you see by the eye doesn't please you, close your eyes because your heart can see beauty and love more than the eyes can ever wonder."
-Misael Aqraz '16

The following pictures are couples that plan to be together for a long time and find love precious. 1. Octavia Libey '15, Matt Burgess ',15 2. Heather Dunkin '13, Darrell Letterman '13 3. Amanda Lunceford '13, Gaelan Kamin '13 4. Atlee Brown '13 Madison Krauth '13 5. Sharif Hardy '14, Akayea Kochet '14 6. Skiphyla Lee '14, Alexis Burke '14 7. Anthony Reyes '14, Deva Francis '14. Photo strip: The left photo presents Jazzman Johnson '15 and Dante Mickens '13, the middle left Kiara Lam '13 and Lorenzo Giron '13, the middle right couple, taken at a football game is Enrique Garrido- Ramirez '13 and Alexa Carballo- Carrion '14, and lastly, the right picture is of Brandon Dodson '13 and Miranda Garcia- Blum '13. To ask these couples their view on love and romance was like talking to a broken record. Everyone pretty much stated the same thing as what Jamie and Christian stated. Hopefully they last just as long and are just as happy!

☑ Senior Sunrise!

There was a big turn out for senior sun rise! Everybody had a really good time hanging out with friends and uniting together as seniors to watch the sun rise, and to play some really fun games together.

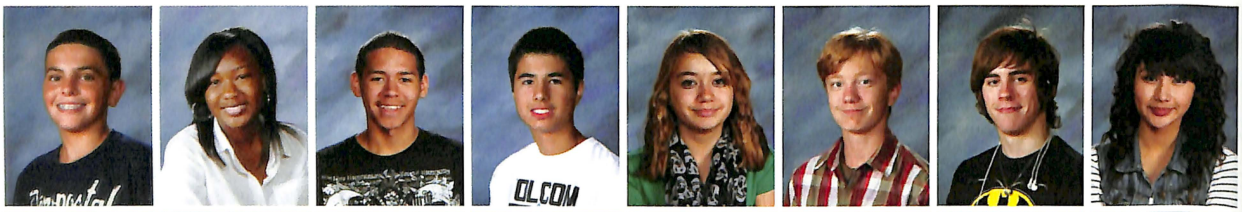

One of the games that the seniors played was the banana pass. They had three teams of nine go out on to the football field. They all had to lay down in a straight line and then when they told the teams to go, the teams had to pass the banana by giving it to each other only by using their feet! They had to go down the line and back up again with out dropping the banana! The first team to successfully complete the challenge won!

Some seniors came to hang out with friends, some to watch the sun rise or the games being played, but most came to experience the first and last senior sun rise that they will ever go to. It was a great way to start Senior year for all the seniors.

1. Dixie Byrd '13, Rachelle Cambelle '13, and Hanna Vigil '13 all came to hang out with their friends, watch the sunrise and eat some good food that the leadership students were selling for a fundraiser. The leadership class sold muffins, donuts, Sunny D, and water bottles.
2. A lot of seniors are hanging out with their friends, or they were watching the games that were happening on the field.
3. Ounce the sun rose most of the seniors went in front of the bleachers to take pictures with their friends.

☑Family Comes First

Also Having a school bond with you sibling can have its ups and downs. There are so many benefits of growing up having a brother or sister. Siblings relationships are uninhibited , highly familiar, and very intense. This type of relationship brings its share of both problems and benefits. Even during intense sibling rivalry, having a brother or sister is like someone having your back. A sibling can offer support, love, friendship, and understanding on a level that a family or friend cannot.

Blood is thicker than water , friends come and go but a sibling is everlasting and doesn't usually have the type of bond you have with just a friend. Siblings have a bond that you may not have with anyone else. You always have company and have someone to talk too as much as they might irritate you.

Does you and your sibling fight a lot?

☐ YES ☐ NO

Do you have a sibling that likes to tell on you about everything?

☐ YES ☐ NO

Fam[i]ly

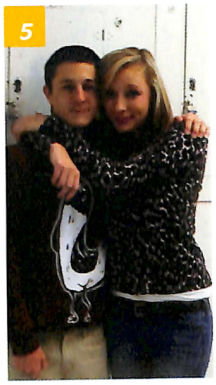

Do you have a twin? Or ever wanted one?

☐ YES ☐ NO

Is your sibling also a best friend to you?

☐ YES ☐ NO

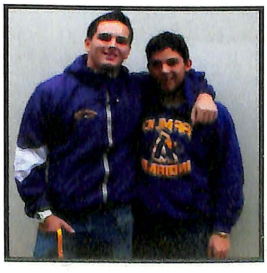

1. Annisah Brown '14 and Ahliyah Brown '13 enjoys going the the same school together. 2. Andrea Cruz '15 and Adriana Cruz '__ love playing soccer together. 3. S'ade Ware '13 and Passion Ware '15 enjoy each others basketball games. 4. Z'hane Garlington '13 is glad having a caring sister like Jamie Garlington '14. 5. Kayla Hancock '13 and Dallas Hancock '__ love having each other at school. 6. Tyler Bouchard '14 wishes him and Derrick Bouchard '14 weren't twins sometimes, but loves his brother. 7. Ashley Ortiz '14 and Leslie Ortiz '14 are close, but their brother Fransico Ortiz '13 doesn't enjoy going to the same school as his siblings. because he says their always in his business. 8. Mari Nelson '14 and brother Hunter Nelson '16 are close, even though they're two grades apart.

1. Miranda Garcia-Blum '13 loves to take pictures of nature, such as her picture of the beach. It's a nice way to express herself. 2. This picture was taken by Naama Angulo Rios '13 and was uploaded to KCRA3 for the Game of the Week competition. When Armijo won, this photo was featured in the news article. Naama says "It's as if I'm a step closer to my dream job." 3. Harwinder Sandhu '13 loves to take pictures of nature. She says "Photography is a great way for me to relax and I love the way you can capture perfect moments in an imperfect world."

Miranda Garcia-Blum '13, Naama Angulo Rios '13, Solomon Rivers '13 and Harwinder Sandhu '13. These students have a different way of expressing their emotions. They choose photography because its a creative way for them to express their thoughts and ideas. A couple of them may even turn it into a full time career. To be a great photographer, you must be able to understand angles, lighting, and creativity. It never takes just one shot, it takes a trial of shots to get the perfect one.

Solomon Rivers plans on a being a professional fashion photographer for his soon to be career. The photo he holds in his hand is one of his most proudest and difficult shoots because that same day, his model, Celeste Traxler, had gotten a booking with American Apparel to model their clothing. Due to no equipment, his boss allowed him to use his computers and cameras for the shoot. Now he'll be attending an Art Academy this following year, to accomplish his gaols at photography.

SF Giants Parade!

The San Francisco Giants have been such a big impact towards the Bay Area. The way we watch and talk about baseball and gather together with family brings us closer than ever before. This parade had fans going crazy on a different scale than ever. You had fans coming from so many different locations around the city to support the Giants and show off their team spirit. The event was scheduled to start at 11am, and fans all over woke up so early to get the best spots to watch the parade. Bart stations, garage parking lots and ferry boats become so packed, fans described it as "Fitting cabbage through a keyhole." All this commitment from everyone shows how together we are Giant. Pablo Sandoval was shooting for the stars with his amazing 3 home run smash in Game 1 of the World Series. The beginning of all this crazy fan hype was not just because the Giants won the World Series 2 times in 3 years, but for the fact how they swept the Detroit Tigers, leaving us shouting louder than ever. You can't describe this feeling in words.

Gas Pedal, Vroom Vroom

Many students around campus at Armijo have cars weather it's an old beat up one, or a brand new one. Some students really take pride in their cars and put a lot of effort into making their cars look good. To some, their car is more than just a ride to school but something to be proud of. To many, a car is the first big ticket item they will own and it is very important to them. Students choose to show off their cars in the student parking lot at Armijo. In the picture to the right Mr. Mckinney is driving his '79 volkswagen bus. Mr. Mckinney is known to drive his bus around town, this isn't his first bus he's owned.

Riding in Style

Mr. Burzynski's Golf cart was completely torn apart this year and upgraded by welding students. This upgrade included a new purple paint job with a gold racing stripe, speakers, a horn, and even a trunk to transport items he needs for leadership events. It took a while to complete, but now he can ride around campus in style, while all the other teachers at school are left jealous of his tricked out golf cart.

Hats Off to our New Hat Policy

Isn't it irritating to have campus monitors constantly telling you to take off your hat? Good news, you won't have to worry about that anymore with our new hat policy! Hats are fun, can complete an outfit, or show off your unique style. Last year, a large percentage of referrals were given for dress code violations, most pertaining to hats. The "no hat" policy has been revoked this year and students are now allowed to wear hats on campus. The only exception is that teachers have the ability to ask their students to remove their hats during class. Christian Metevier '13 is a senior at Armijo who refurbishes old hats to make them new and unique. He sews on material to them and adds his own spin, as shown in the picture on the left. The new hat policy allows him to show off his hidden talent.

"Anyone can go to the store and buy a hat, but vintage hats have more value to them and are more unique"

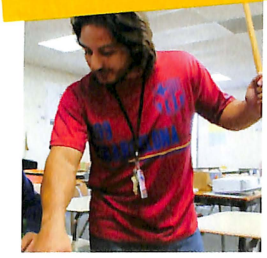

-Christian Metevier '13

Staff vs. Students

"Class is a professional setting, and hats create a distraction."

-Mr. Correa

1. Christian Metevier '13 loves to show of his style with his hats. 2. Brad Davis '14 isn't afraid to stand out in his fedora to match his Hawaiian attire. 3. Anthony Armstrong '13 shows off another style of hat, a beanie! Beanies keeps your ears warm on cold days. 4. Devin Dailey '14 and Jake Yount '14 give a thumbs up to the new hat policy while sporting their hats at lunchtime. 5. Friends Omar Waiz '16 and Edward Wallace '16 pose for the camera. Matching hats, check! 6. Jeremy Magno '14, Kalani Damian '14, Basilio Alvir '15, Lorenzo Balane '16, and Antonio Cacuyog '15 all enjoy different types of hats. 7. Nick Bowers '13, Chris Bruner '14, and Ryan Kardos '15, wear hats daily, no more hat referrals for them! 8. Cameron Cakus '16, is a first year student here at Armijo. He is excited to be able to strut his snapback!

Armijo held its own version of the Olympics this year for the freshman class of 2016. There were many fun games to keep the audience entertained, the four day event was kicked off by a frozen t-shirt contest where contestants struggled to unravel an iced over A-Team shirt. The next couple days consisted of a skateboarding course and pickle toss, which both gathered a few laughs from the audience as contestants tested their speed and aim. Finally on the last event of the Freshman Olympics week was the enticing balloon stand off, in which groups with different colored balloons tied to their ankles were pitted against each other in a corral to pop one another's balloons. Patrick Richards '13 is seen (right) trying to avoid getting his balloon stomped out by opposing freshman at all costs.

This event was designed to help freshman come out of their shell and to see what Armijo High School is all about. Jasmine Singh '15 who participated in the frozen t-shirt event said "These Olympics were a huge confidence boost to help me face a new period in my life. Not only was it a lot of fun but I got to experience some of the great things I will be able to do at this school."

Freshman Olympics

1. Jasper Schakenraad '16 gets helped by senior Ritche Sison '13 as he competes in the the skateboard rally. He ended up finishing in a strong third place. 2. Freshman Rachel Harrison '16 participates in the pickle toss. The pickle went a little off course, but she states that she still had a lot of fun. 3. Tommy Weisz '16 is seen with a look of determination of his face trying to unthaw the crystallized A-Team shirt. His speed and persistence allows him to win the competition and an A-Team shirt of his own.

It's Not Just An Obsession

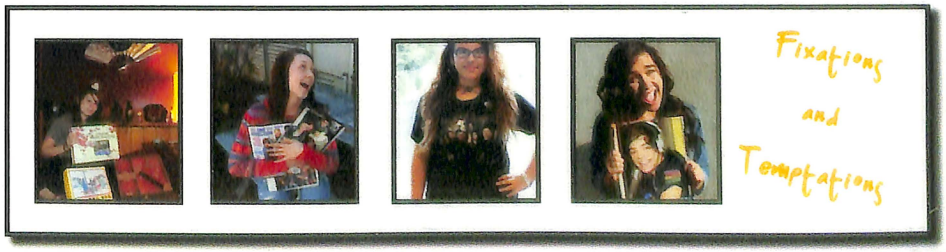

Obsessions are the quirks in your personality and character that define you as an individual. Everyone has their own guilty pleasures; some may be more prominent than others. Everyone knows that Lauren Corn '13 is completely infatuated with her "soon to be husband" Harry Styles. However, very little people do know about Jule Esparsa's '15 obsession with Twilight.

People's obsessions are not only for things but they can also be inspired by other people. If you've ever crossed paths with Katie Bostwick '13, you would know that she absolutely adores Demi Lovato. From having her room filled with posters, magazines, and CD's of Demi, Katie also has her own custom made shirts with the pop star's face etched onto them. She claims that her love for Demi is in fact not an obsession as her friends say, but actually a deep inspiration. When asked what qualities of Demi she sees in herself Katie said "I like trying to help people see their inner beauty or just simply by being there for people so they know they aren't alone."

1. Dixie Byrd '13 shows off her love of pigs and collection. "I love them so because they're so cute, I even refuse to eat pork. It started last year when I learned about miniature pigs, I can't wait to get one!" 2. Patricia De Concepcion '15 claims she has an obsession for shopping. She justifies this by saying "I love Holister, it's much more expensive in Spain so I buy as much as i can here." 3. Paul Mooridian '13's guilty pleasure is his love of energy drinks. He drinks to as many as 20 during the week and says "Quite honestly, I got into them in 6th grade and ever since then my body needs them or else I go through withdrawals and get massive headaches ...oh, and they taste good!"

Secrets, inside jokes, and endless laughter are musts for any friendship. Anywhere on campus best friends can be found. Completely inseparable and in tune with each other, these friendships are what make Armijo students excited to attend school each day. Giggling through class and sharing stories at lunch make the seemingly long school day fly by way faster. Having your best friend at school makes you grow closer and your friendship stronger.

When it comes to making friends it's not always intentional. It may be sitting next to each other in class or joining the same club that can tie a new bond between friends. Some friends, though, don't always like each other when they first meet. Seniors Ryan Crone '13 and Maggie Kushner '13 didn't always like each other. The pair met in seventh grade where Kushner would relentlessly pick on Crone. Through it though the two are as close as can be, they finish each others heart. "He's like the brother I have never had!" Kushner enthused.

Kushner and Crone are just one example of best friends on Armijo's campus. When other students see them they are practically never without each other. They aren't the only pair of friends that can be seen through out the school day, but they are a perfect example of what true friendship is all about. Kushner and Crone have been friends for years, and hopefully they continue to be for many more.

☑ We Go Together

1. Alejandro Franco '15 and Kody Steiner '15 pose holding in their laughter as they remember how they met last year at Relay for Life. 2. Regina Beltran '15 and Madison Yorks '15 were having a laugh under a tree at lunch, just hanging out. "She brings the best out in me," laughs Regin 3. Annastasia Robertson '14 hugs Amanda Lunceford '13, enthusiastically claiming her as her bestie. "She makes me crazy sometimes, but I love her," says Amanda. 4. Samantha Beckerdite '14 and Owen Crawford '14 have been friends for years. 5. Selena Mendoza '15 sits on her best friend Garret Visaya's '15 shoulders. 6. Sarah Parra '13 , Harwinder Sandhu '13 and Tanya Ortega '13 take one last picture together for their senior year. 7. Tasha Navarro '16, Sophia Hanke '16 and Felisa Mbini '16 can always be spotted together throughout the day. 8. Vereniz Ortiz '14 takes a break during her busy day to pose for a picture with her BFF Cristina Sanchez '16.

(Photo Strip) Cassidy Slocum '16 and Kristen Tuazon '16: These two crazy friends show their silly faces.

Between BFFs

Holiday Tree Lighting

Holiday spirit, cookie decorating, hot chocolate, and ugly sweaters are all part of a good Holiday Tree Lighting. Students were full of Holiday cheer are the scampered about for treats and games. Cameras were everywhere to capture the grandma sweaters and incredible cookie designs. When the time came those with the ugliest sweaters took to the stage in a contest of true hideousness. The winner was Jared Hickory '15 who proudly accepted his victory.

With the contest over and bellies full of treats and cocoa, the students snuggled into their blankets to watch ELF. Laughter rang through the cafeteria, and students helped save Christmas by singing along to Santa Clause is Coming to Town. With Christmas saved and spirits high Students merrily chattered about the film as they prepared to go home. Enthusiasm was contagious at this year's Holiday Tree LIghting, and everyone in attendance had a special spot on The Nice List.

Color in a Tree!

1. Dixie Byrd '13 hands out tickets that include a free hot chocolate and cookie. 2. Katie Hall '16 and Derek Wadsworth '16 make a snowman together. 3. Alex Knott '13 and Christina Cieslewicz '13 pose with Santa Clause, Nick Bowers '13. 4. Students were given the opportunity to make snowmen out of marshmallows and other sweets. 5. Kayla Vidal '14 was decorated as a Christmas tree. 6. Shannon Dewhirst '13 is proud of her artistry in her holiday cookie she decorated. 7. Katherine Calero '13, Elisha Machado '13, and BreAnna Overman '13 are excited about coloring in Rudolf. 8. Kabir Bhandal '16 has a face full of whip cream as friends try to give him a Santa beard.

Life of a Teacher Outside of School

Running, running and more running. It took a lot of time and effort for Mrs. Monk to be in shape for her ultra marathon runs. She does two ultra marathons, one is a 30-mile run and the other is a 50-mile run. As well as running Mrs. Monk enjoys coaching track. She likes working here at Armijo. Games, running, making clothing, mixing the turntables, making strikes, and money are apart of these teachers lives. It's not so easy to be a teacher though while they have other important things to handle. The other priorities may take away from their free time. Some have kids to worry about and take care of. Others are really busy with school work. A teacher doesn't just have the easy life which many students often think. To enjoy their lives outside of school, they have to balance their schedules.

1. In her spare time, Ms. Lubker enjoys training dogs. 2. Holding the record for bowling eight 300 games, Mr. Anderson would be the guy you want on your bowling team. Inspired to bowl while in the Air Force with his friends. In 2011 he bowled three of his eight 300 games, making another record. 3. When she isn't busy with her kids, or work Mrs. Shabazz likes to crochet. She makes many things such as hats, blankets and sweaters. 4. A DJ who rips the turn tables up at weddings. Mr. Dickens has been doing this since the age of 12. Photo Strip: Ms. Bouzas a current stock holder checks her stocks. The results must be pretty good from the look on her face. Call of duty Modern Warfare is Mr. Sugimoto's favorite game. From the change in his facial expression things must be really heating up.

Mustang to Indian

Mr. Texdahl, is a teacher and a principal. He teaches at Sem Yeto and is a principal here at Armijo. Before moving here he has done other administration things throughout the district. He taught at Rod for six years as a p.e teacher and a athletic director. He says "I like Armijo because of the positive school culture, leadership program, and the athletics are phenomenal." "Student support is like no other." Since moving to Armijo his hobbies have slowed down a bit. He has to focus on more areas that interfere with him playing golf, and relaxing at home. Unfortunately, Mr. Texdahl will be leaving Armijo at the end of the semester.

Teachers By Day

Many teachers at Armijo are also coaches for various sports teams at the school. Every teacher that makes a commitment to also be a coach puts in full dedication to their sport and their class work. Being a coach and a teacher requires sacrificing many hours to the school. All of the coaches emphasize the importance of being a student first, then an athlete. Each coach pushes their athletes to their full potential as the coaches themselves try their hardest to be the best they can. In the picture shown to the left Coach Monk is posing while his Physical Education class is at work. This year was Monk's first year teaching and coaching at Armijo. Monk coaches Cross Country and the JV women's basketball team. football's assistant coach. 3. Ms. Logan is reading aloud to her IB English class. Logan coaches the first womens golf at Armijo.

1 Coach Perales teaching PE class. He coaches the mens varsity basketball team. 2 Coach Haywood works with a student one on one in his math class. He is the varsity football's assistant coach. 3 Ms. Logan reading aloud to her IB English class. She coached Armijo's first womens golf team. Dear Kristina,
We are so very proud of you! We wish all of God's best for your life! Dream Big, Believe in your future, have Confidence with a Humble Heart...always, know we will be there for you!
Love, Dad & Mom & Sho

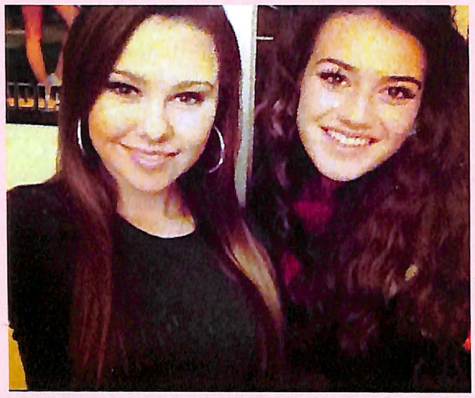

My angels, Christian and Kaytlin, the two of you have always been a blessing to all who've loved you, but it's been "My" blessing being your Mother - My Joy being your mommy - My Pleasure being your mom - and my honor being your Mama! I was the queen, and you were my prince and princess, and I loved it all.. but now you're all grown up. You are my king and queen, and I am the lucky one who gets to watch you take the world! I love you and thank you for taking such good care of me.

Aiko Caryl C. Kato

Congratulations! May your ambitions be fulfilled and all your dreams come true! We LOVE YOU!

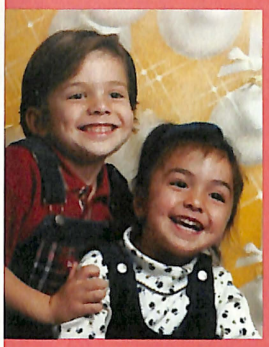

Our Hawa,

You have grown into a beautiful, caring, smart, wonderful young lady. We are so proud of your accomplishments and wish you all the best and a successful future. May God bless you, protect you, and guide you. Rabi Yahafdak Inchallah.

Love Always & Forever,

Mom & Dad

Zhane' Garlington

Congratulations to our daughter

Zhane' E. Garlington!

Zhane' what a blessing and pleasure it has been watching you grow and mature. We are so proud of you and want you to know that our love has no limit-no matter what you do, no matter where you are, and no matter where going- our love will remain constant. Do not strive to have a normal life, for there is only life, and what's most important is living righteously. Always keep God #1 in your life and know that in Him, all things are possible.

God bless and keep you always,

Mom & Dad

To our dearest Britski,
Time flies when you enjoy the trip, and we believe you have...we know we have! The preparations for the journey in front of you have been long and the accomplishments many - and now the next step.
Although your vision of the future is still developing, continue to move forward with eyes, ears and mind wide-open to gather all that life has to offer. Your strength, great sense of humor and naturally given sense of life, will take you wherever it is you choose to go. We have complete faith in you, and have seen many times your determination drive you to success, when the target is in sight, so set your sights up high.
Your resilience, strength and joy for life will surely continue to drive you...
Continue to live life to its fullest, stay involved and reach the great peaks of life!
We love you Britney with all our hearts, Dad, Mom & Kaysi

It Was On My List!

I believe that the quote from Fitzhugh Dodson best sums up the idea of this year's book: "Goals that are not written down are just wishes." This year, all students at Armijo began with a list of things they wanted to do or needed to do. Some lists were for personal growth, some academic, others in athletics, and some in extra curricular activities. No matter the goal, lists were formed to remind us where we wanted to go.

Whether these lists were neatly typed, inked onto napkins, or scribbled quickly onto hands, they got the job done. At the end of the day students could reflect back and know they were on track to achieving their goals. This year was one of growth for everyone. Each achievement lit the fire for more, and students happily met the challenge to strive to do better than their best.

As students wanted to do more, their lists continued to grow. The lists evolved and changed with each individual person, eventually becoming almost unrecognizable when compared to the original lists. These pages that are included in this book are a testament to the accomplishments and achievements of the students at this school. Each list that was created was important to the school in some way. Some students added items to their list for the first time, others for the last. Our goal with this theme was to make sure all lists were viewed as equal and important.

We love to celebrate the fact that we are all individuals, but should also remember that we all are also a part of the same school. When we look back on this book when we are older and hopefully have new lists, we want to remember the people who helped shape our lives and remember those who made those items easier and more enjoyable to cross off our list.
